Boys educated to know, to do, to live with others and to be (UNESCO, 1996)

Our school's mission is prominent in these pages of The Mitre. The joy and energy with which the boys articulate their activities and interaction with the community, validates this. I would especially like to congratulate the Preparatory School boys on their contribution this year.

Thank you to staff who have written articles, provided photos and supported the boys. Special mention goes to Jamie Fagan, The Mitre Co-ordinator in the Preparatory School, Mark Morrissy, Ed Pietrucha for once again co-ordinating the group photographs and Sue Jutronich for her effort in assembling the School records.

Margi Shipley
Editor

This year the Mitre editorial team, consisting of five Year 11 students, thoroughly enjoyed our time contributing and shaping our school's yearbook. We would like to thank Ms Shipley for her hard work and guidance which fostered a happy and efficient environment.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

From the Headmaster

Each year has its own unique story to tell and for Christ Church this was certainly the case in 2015. The particular group of boys who led the School this year were the first to experience six years of high school, for it was they who joined the School in its centenary year of 2010 as our first group of Year 7s integrated into the Senior School structure. It was this group of boys who joined the Vertical Tutor groups, so iconic in our pastoral care system, to make a sixth year. It was this group of boys who were the first to voyage on the tall ship Leeuwin II as a component of their Outdoor Education program and it was this group of boys who were a part of and participants in the creation of the Christ Church pedagogy. This pedagogy focused on motivating boys through personalisation, structure and feedback and the enhancing of personal bests. We have just seen them graduate having achieved all to which they have aspired.

I could not be more proud of the Senior School leadership of Jack Hawkesford as Captain of School, the first and only boy in my time as Headmaster who was also Dux of the School in his final year, Hunter Jackson as Vice-Captain and the balance of our student leadership group, be they other School or House Prefects or simply senior boys who fulfilled our expectation to mentor other boys in a positive and constructive way. Each year we know that the true measure of our school is the character of our graduates and Year 12, 2015 was another exceptional chapter in the story of this school.

In the LW Parry Preparatory School the year was one in which programs focused on social emotion learning, changed to include the Knights Quest for our Year 6 students and Drama as a specific subject was introduced. Across the Prep School the balance of whole school initiatives and individual class nuances led by the nature of the particular teacher involved, reached an equilibrium of which all involved can be very proud. I know that I am in awe of the boy who transitions from the Prep School into the Senior School. His sense of purpose, confidence and so often good humour affirms that the style of education in our Preparatory School, so crafted to the needs of boys, is truly exceptional.

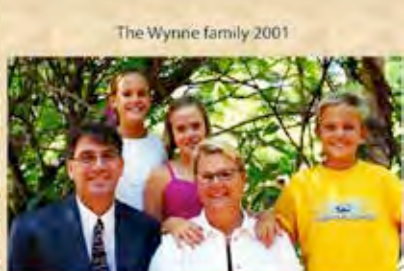

Any success achieved by the boys is a direct consequence of the work carried out across all aspects of the organisation which is Christ Church. Led by an exceptional executive team, the teaching and support staff have throughout 2015 collaborated to create the opportunity for an atmosphere of excellence to emerge. This collective cannot be understated for when matched with the aspirations of parents and the positive disposition and talents of our students, the result is a culture that enables the achievement of our mission of Boys educated to know, to do, to live with others and to be. As has consistently been the case our principle school support groups, the Parents' Association and Old Boys' Association have again provided wonderful support to the School throughout the year. In a society where relationships, in their broad understanding, are challenged in ways once unimaginable, the focus on relationship and engagement that is a core to these two support groups has again been vital to our success.

2015 sees the conclusion of the School's current strategic plan. Directing this plan over the past five years were five interrelated themes:

- Motivating boys to achieve at their best.
- Enhancing our quality staff in pursuit of the School's mission.
- Guiding boys to the further development of an international perspective.
- Understanding, enabling and celebrating diversity in the Christ Church context.
- Planning for a secure, flexible financial future.

From the Headmaster

As we celebrate 2015 it is pleasing to recognise how programs, practices and outcomes reflecting these strategic themes have so positively impacted upon the experience of our boys and the wider community throughout the year.

Perhaps in this year there is no more evident an example of the significance of our heritage to our modern '21st century school' than in the renovation of our most iconic building, the School Chapel. This project is emblematic of a wonderfully successful year in the life of the School as it wrapped innovation within tradition - just as our students wrapped education within the timeless spirit of the boy.

Some final reflections

My time at Christ Church as Headmaster has been a remarkable period of personal and professional fulfilment. From a family perspective, to have arrived with children in Years 5, 6 and 8 and to leave with two of these children now married, living away from Perth and the third fully independent, encapsulates the passage of time and change and the reality of the modern family. Annie and I have had the joy of establishing what will be lifelong friendships, both within and beyond the Christ Church community and when these 15 years are added to the three spent at Guildford Grammar School in the mid '80s, our married life is very connected to the sand of Western Australia. We have been blessed as a family and this will never be forgotten.

It is my view that the leaders of organisations like a school, inherit a particular set of circumstances which they are impelled to respect. It is also their responsibility to grow and create from this culture during their time at the helm. When I arrived at Christ Church in 2001, I was gifted an exceptional school reflective of an inclusive and vibrant environment. I also arrived at a time when circumstances for Western Australia were about to change for the better. My era as Headmaster has been clearly marked by these two sets of related circumstances.

All organisations are a reflection of change and continuity. In my first year, the School Council, in its wisdom, worked with me as the naïve, young initiate to craft our school mission. This mission has become the scaffold from which all subsequent changes have been forged. Our continuity, rested in the heart of our motto Deus Dux Doctrina Lux, God is our leader, learning is our light and change in the aspirational expectations of our mission of Boys educated to know, to do, to live with others and to be.

Three strategic plans later and the School has clearly grown and developed, always with the boy at the centre. Likewise, I have changed as a leader and been enriched by my experiences. I am most proud of the nature of the boy who is at the heart of Christ Church and who becomes our graduate. When I have spoken of great schools and of Christ Church, I have always made the point that we can accommodate the needs of a family (other than the girls). Inclusivity optimises the Christ Church experience. I was so pleased when celebrating our centenary through artistic installations, that our Old Boys' Association chose Stand by Me and our Parents' Association Headspace as gifts to the School. Both express diversity, individuality and the eclectic nature of our boys set alongside the need for collaboration and community to achieve success. This is the cultural disposition of our school and I have been so blessed to be a part of its evolution.

The School was able to effectively catch the opportunity for growth through our shape for a new century strategy which straddled 2010 and juxtaposed the early and later years of my time as Headmaster. The success of this story sees us now balanced in our phases of learning and in our pastoral, academic and co-curricular constructs in a way that gives a strong foundation for the inevitability of future changes. All that has been achieved during my time has been done so with the incredible support, vision, guidance and friendship of engaged members of the wider school community and the energy of the boys, and most significantly for my role, through the uncompromising support of School Council, and the most remarkable staff. Closest to me has been an extraordinarily talented team of executive, all of whom have shown such loyalty and such love of our school over the 15 years of my leadership.

From the Headmaster

Closest to me has been an extraordinarily talented team of executive, all of whom have shown such loyalty and such love of our school over the 15 years of my leadership.

In the year of the centenary I penned a poem that I have subsequently read to our Year 12s at the valedictory service. It is now my turn to leave with a heart filled with gratitude to all who have been part of my story at Christ Church Grammar School.

Leaving

*It is simply just time and life that brings us to points where it seems

*So where are you now?
Boy, man, boy-man?
Sure, un-sure?
Scared perhaps, perhaps not?
Brave, bold?*

*While days have passed the river has watched you grow, touched your thoughts,
rippled your soul.
You have been witness to its moods,
Its ebb, its flow.*

Where and what to know is now yours to decide with part of you, some small part of who will forever be you - touched by the flow of the blue and gold grown in the push and shove of boys together, in the space of a school.

A School with a View.

From the Head of Senior School

In 2015 we welcomed two new Heads of House - Todd Harnwell to Jupp and Michael Masterton to Moyes - both have had very successful first years in this rich and rewarding role. Similarly, the residential community welcomed Brad Downing to the role of Director where he has built on the good work initiated in previous years.

Leadership in the pastoral domain from both staff and students is fundamental to determining positive outcomes for Christ Church boys.

The School's Prefect body has engaged in a range of workshops during the year to identify the elements of school life that they value highly, as well as the aspects of leadership that are important to them as a group. Their responses are certainly noteworthy. They value diversity, acceptance of all, relationships, knowledge, happiness and wellbeing, provision of opportunities, being treated with respect, and the willingness to provide support. As a legacy to the School they set out to provide a good example of leadership to inspire younger generations, promote a philosophy of service and display an intention to succeed. To that end, I would like to pay tribute to the leadership shown by Jack Hawkesford and Hunter Jackson who have led the School's Prefect body with purpose and conviction and enabled them to leave a lasting legacy.

The 2015 Beatty Cup saw the closest contest of all time with Hill House winning the competition and three Houses, Moyes, Romsey and Wolsey all sharing second place. Throughout the year the pastoral committee has strived to improve the levels of participation in all competitive activities and is constantly looking for ways to engage boys within their Houses.

As the year concludes we say thank you to Alec Barbour for his caring and compassionate leadership of Romsey for the past 10 years. Similarly, after six years as Year Group Co-ordinator of our Year 7 and 8 boys in the residential community, we thank Jason Lamb for his unflinching care and guidance.

Roger Bayly
Head of Senior School

From the Captain of School

For the Year 12 cohort there is an element of nostalgia as we face the reality that our journey together at Christ Church is drawing to a close.

We are both happy and relieved to be finally graduating and now reflect on what has been a remarkable six years. There is also a sense of sadness in saying goodbye to an institution filled with so many close friends and mentors. But nonetheless, there is an overriding excitement for the many opportunities that life after Senior School will present.

Capturing what we have experienced over the past six years is no easy task. We have indeed come a long way since we were first seated in this Chapel at Orientation in 2010. We have developed both as individuals and as a group. The strong network of friendships and memories forged within these walls will undoubtedly remain with us wherever we end up in life.

Reflecting on these earlier times, I recount my own first experiences at this school to convey just how close we have become as a cohort. Until the later stages of Year 6, it seemed I was destined to become a Hale boy. It was only a defining conversation with Bill Kirby at the CCGS pool that convinced my parents to send me to Christ Church.

They sought a school with a reputation for excellence in teaching, that embraced diversity, encouraged creativity and offered opportunities to pursue interests in a number of fields. However, at that time, the only impact this decision had on me was that each day I had to trek to and from a school where I was a complete stranger.

For me this transition from feeling 'new' to 'accepted' was a defining moment. I remember walking back to my locker after the first round of PSA sport, fairly chuffed with a convincing win in 7Bs Basketball, and being approached by one of my team mates who later invited me over to his house. The boy I speak of is Aidan Squires, and we have remained great friends ever since that moment.

Alongside these friendships, it has been the School's culture, founded upon recognising and encouraging achievement in a range of areas. As an institution, the School has allowed us to be who we are, to say what we feel – to head in any direction we choose. Christ Church has encouraged our dreams. Unique to this school is that the finest musicians, the most outstanding sportsmen and the highest academic achievers are equally recognised and respected. This sense of overwhelming pride in achievement is an aspect of Christ Church I am sure many of us will not forget.

We have been thoroughly prepared for the immediate challenges that face us, such as the looming prospect of the WACE exams. But remember, we have learnt more than just essay writing and algebra. More importantly, we have been instilled with a collection of virtues, such as an acceptance of diversity and change.

It is appropriate to acknowledge the way the School has directed and encouraged us in our aspirations. I thank every single person who makes up the Christ Church community - from the Year 7s to Mr Wynne himself. I acknowledge our teachers, Heads of Houses and sport coaches who, over the course of six years, have mentored and taught us so much. Their willingness to go the extra mile with feedback, to reassure us, in their attempts to brighten study-ridden days with some banter, have been really appreciated.

Given the unique circumstances, I would also like to particularly thank and wish good luck to our Headmaster, Mr Wynne, who will be leaving the School to take up a new position as Headmaster at a boys' school in New Zealand next year. Mr Wynne's leadership, through example and management, has been pivotal in preparing boys for an exciting and successful future.

This year I have learnt that as a leader, you are only as effective as your team. Thus, I thank Hunter Jackson and the Prefects, as well as the entire cohort for assisting me. It has been an honour and a humbling experience to be your Captain of School for 2015.

I leave you to consider the words of Mark Twain: "Twenty years from now you will be more disappointed by the things that you didn't do than by the ones you did do. So throw off the bowlines. Sail away from the safe harbor. Catch the trade winds in your sails. Explore. Dream. Discover."

I wish you all the best in your own future exploration, dreams and discovery and hope you will forever hold onto these wonderful years we have shared at Christ Church.

Academic Report 2015

The consistency of Christ Church's results is very pleasing; some schools will do well one year and then experience a dip for a period of time, but we yet again had much of which to be proud in regard to the 2015 cohort. Ninety-four per cent of the group achieved an ATAR and whilst the median was a little lower than in 2014, it still saw us placed very favourably in regard to other boys' schools. Three students, including Captain of School Jack Hawkesford, were awarded General Exhibitions and we were particularly proud of two Year 11s, Jason Chu and Hector Morlet, for gaining the only two Certificates of Distinction in the state for the subject of Computer Science; Jason was also awarded the Course Exhibition. Our sincere congratulations to all award winners as well as to the many Year 12s who achieved strong results in relation to their previous 'predicted' ranking, showing that those final months of application and study did indeed make a real difference. It was fitting that our departing Headmaster, Garth Wynne, could once again be proud of the efforts of the boys and staff whom he had led and served so faithfully and so well.

The 2015 cohort was the last to complete Year 12 within the framework of the 'old' WACE and there was much that was new and exciting in the program. Liam Casson, the inaugural Director of Boys' Health and Wellbeing, worked regularly with the boys to model and advise on constructive strategies for managing workload, examination nerves and anxiety. The newly-appointed Digital Curators developed electronic resources in a range of subjects and these were 'published' in time to provide valuable revision activities. The Physical Education Studies teachers organised a new, authentic trial practical examination experience and saw their subject contribute to the ATAR of 100 per cent of their students. The intensive structured revision provided by classroom teachers in the periods prior to examinations drew the appreciation of many boys and the somewhat casual attitude exhibited at times in Year 11 2014 was replaced by a serious and purposeful approach in Year 12, 2015. Teachers are congratulated on their dedication, innovation and expertise; boys on their maturity, collegiality and self-discipline; parents on their support, understanding and the trust placed in the School and their sons.

General Summary

In 2015, Christ Church Grammar School had 175 ATAR students and 11 non-ATAR students.

MARIE ZWART

Marie Zwart commenced working at Christ Church in a part time capacity in 2009. She was appointed as acting Co-ordinator of the Senior School Peter Moyes Centre in 2010 and permanently to that position in 2011. Marie leaves us to take up a new role in a school in Victoria next year. Over her time as PMC Co-ordinator, Marie has never failed to advocate for this special group of boys within the School. She has focused on developing the most important skills in life - confidence and the capacity to be flexible in the face of change. We wish Marie well for the future.

GREG LINDORFF

We also farewell Greg Lindorff who was the School's Head of Library for 16 years. Mr Lindorff was instrumental in the creation of the collaborative learning centre's Library precinct and was involved for a time with the Pilgrimage of Hope program. He was teacher librarian of the year in 2005, winning the Jean Rhodes Memorial Award from AISWA libraries. We acknowledge his devoted service to the School and wish him well in his retirement.

GLYNNIS RYAN

Glynnis Ryan began teaching Accounting at Christ Church in 2004. Glynnis became assistant Head of Romsey House in 2005, a role she maintained until 2007 when she was appointed to the position of Academic Administrator, a role she held until the end of 2014. Glynnis has been engaged constructively and proactively in both the academic and co-curricular programs with great enthusiasm. This commitment was exemplified by her involvement in the School's precursor to the Service in Action program which was known as the Pilgrimage of Hope. Her compassion and attention to detail are two endearing characteristics which have significantly benefitted the School over the past 11 years.

TOURS

Aquatics

The Aquatic Tour kicked off with an afternoon flight to Brisbane, followed by a one-hour drive to the Gold Coast where we would be staying at The Southport School.

The next day began early with a two-hour training session that included a 10-minute trial, which we would repeat at the end of the trip to ascertain our improvement. At the end of the day, the older boys competed in a violent paintball competition, which left Mr Farmer sobbing and bleeding!

Day three saw all boys face two gruelling training sessions and the senior Water Polo team play a game against a local club. This hard work was rewarded on day four when we piled into the minivans and headed an hour south to Byron Bay. This highly anticipated excursion did not disappoint. After a brief trip up to the lighthouse, we split up into two groups - with one group off to explore Byron and the other to surf. The groups reconvened for a short yoga session with a local instructor and a recovery session in the pool.

The final three days arrived rapidly, with all the boys fatigued from the rigorous training schedule. However, Head Swim Coach, Bill Kirby, did not take this into account when we travelled to Bond University for a five-kilometre training session, made up of 15 minute time trials and finished off with Mr Kirby's "maximum heart rate two hundreds". This left many of the boys exhausted and looking forward to a well-earned break.

The next day the convoy of buses headed out to the Wet'n'Wild water park. It was a day of screams and thrills as the team took the water park head on, taking everything Wet'n'Wild could throw at them. The final day was upon us, but Mr Kirby would not let us leave without one last physical test. The team had been challenged to see if they could achieve a personal best over 50 metres in a stroke of choice. Many were surprised at their improved times over the short week. It was a confidence-boosting finish to a fantastic trip and we were ready to travel home and get some sleep. A massive thank you to everyone involved in the trip. We all enjoyed it.

Art - New York Tour

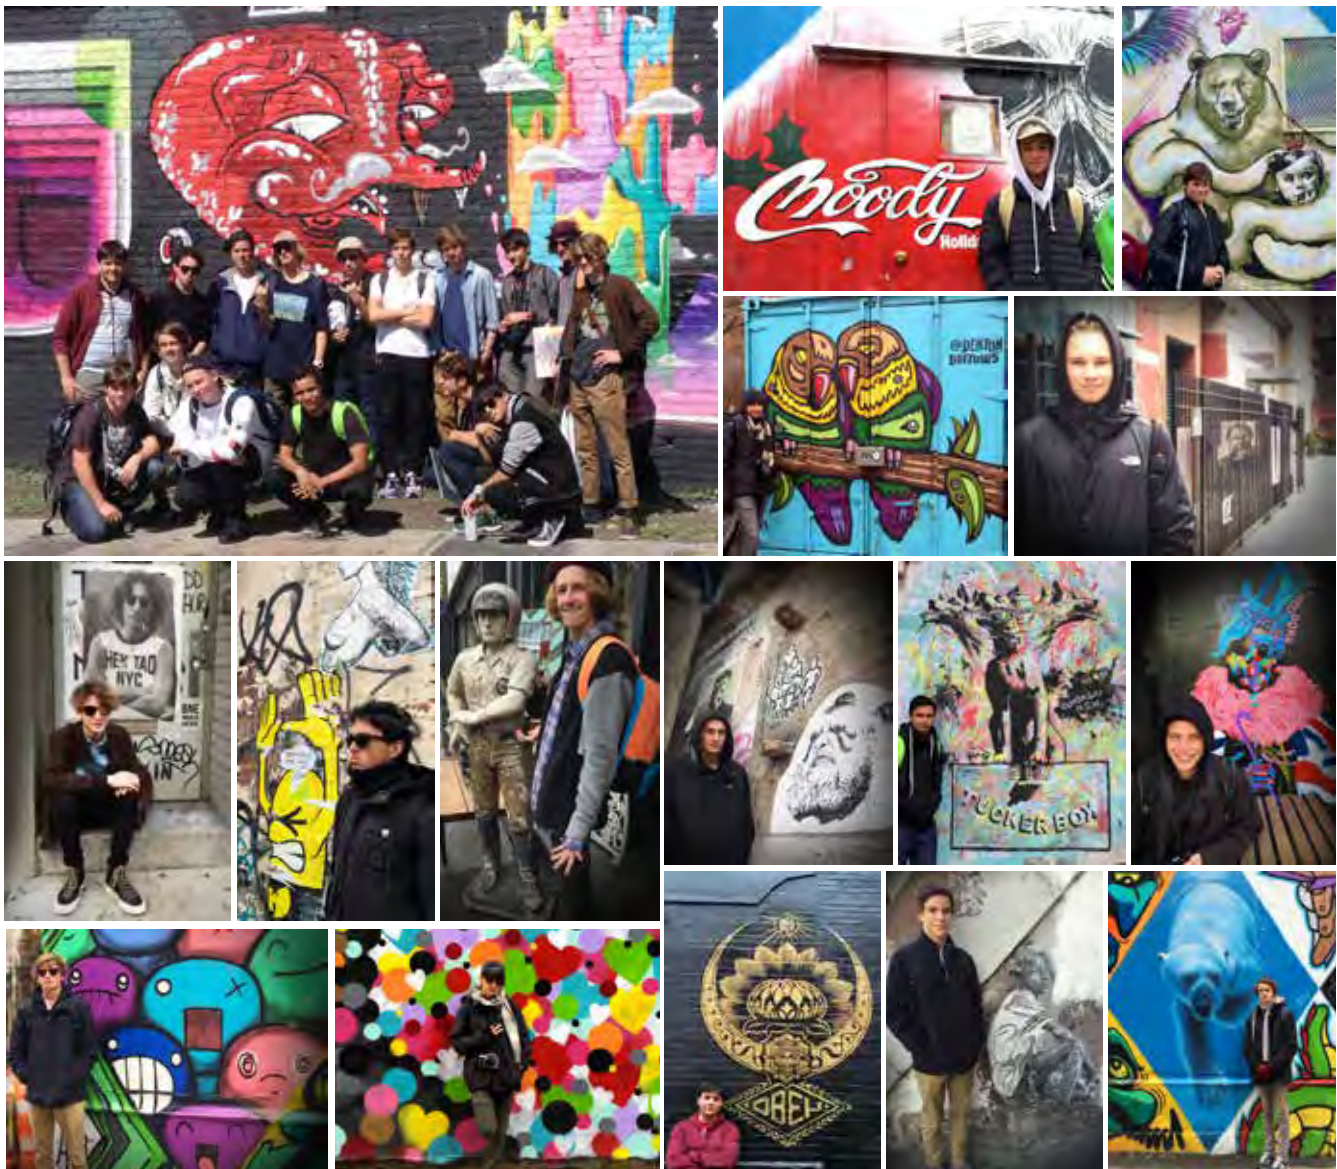

With a dream team of boys who thoroughly engaged in a dazzling set of workshop opportunities, the Big Apple lived up to everyone's expectations.

New York City provided the perfect backdrop to challenge us with contemporary, cutting-edge art, design and media. We had the chance to spray our own large-scale graffiti mural in the lower east side before developing our drawing skills with a life drawing class of two models in the discreet and intimate Spring Street studio. Along with our own personalised filmmaking, gallery visit in Chelsea to see ROA's latest show and a hands-on photographic workshop with an amazing Russian-born Australian living between NYC and LA, these activities made for some amazing experiences. We also found ourselves visiting the Skyscraper Museum before building our own small-scale model in a workshop at the Architecture Foundation in Manhattan. The synergy of this experience came to fruition when we found ourselves, to our surprise, on the highest skyscraper in the world in Dubai, the Burg Khalifa, 148 stories above sea level. There were so many wonderful outcomes to the tour. A big trip filled with loads of adventures and super special memories that will sustain our art practice into the future.

China

Rich in culture and history, China is an exotic fusion of bustling technology and serene and magnificent natural landscapes, and we experienced both on this tour.

The tour began with a day of flying to our first destination, Lijiang. Three busy and exciting days were spent there, admiring the rugged mountains and Tiger Leaping Gorge.

After a flight to Guilin, we embarked on a river cruise along the Li River, enjoying the serene backdrop of the famous karst landscape depicted on the 20-yuan note. In Yangshuo, we experienced the ancient tradition of cormorant fishing.

Our final destination was Beijing where we spent three days looking at the most famous landmarks of China, such as the Forbidden City and the Great Wall. A further three days were spent as part of the home-stay program, living with individual "buddies" from Huijia International School and their families.

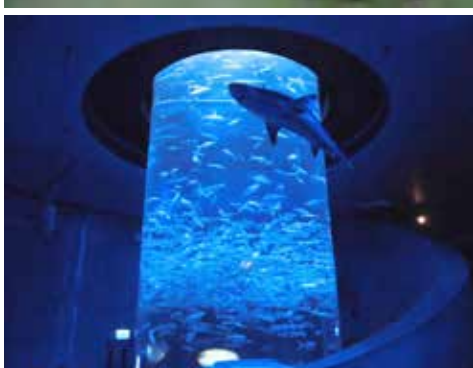

The trip was extremely enjoyable, with plenty of opportunities to practise speaking Mandarin (especially our attempts at bargaining and outwitting Chinese traders!). We would like to thank Ms Zhang, Mr Hodsdon, and the MLC teachers for their efforts in looking after us and organising the tour.

Hong Kong - Cultural Exchange

Hong Kong was an amazing experience. On arrival, we were greeted by our buddies' smiling faces.

We broke into pairs and I met my buddy, Anson. We made our way home and Anson and I changed into sports clothes as he had arranged to play soccer with fellow buddies, Brian Yuen and Matt Tissiman. Anson was more skilled at soccer than me, even though he only played sport in PE. We went out for dinner and had some delicious yum cha with Anson's mother, Annie. I later met his dad, Nelson.

Day 2: We again met up with Matt and Brian and went to Cheng Chau which is an island off Hong Kong. It is a bit like Rottneest Island in that we were able to hire bikes. We also tried the local cuisine - a personal favourite was the deep fried ice cream.

On Sunday, I had a dim sum breakfast at a five-star restaurant which was a bit weird because we had beef and other foods that are normally eaten for dinner. We then went to the Buddha statue, which was absolutely massive, and we also saw a shrine.

During our first day at school, the classes were surprisingly similar to those at Christ Church. We were all spoken to in English and covered all the same subjects except for Cantonese. At Ocean Park we braved rollercoasters, and also saw hammerhead sharks and other amazing sea critters. We later went to the Peak which was the highest point in Hong Kong. The view of all the skyscrapers was amazing.

We had school on the Wednesday and during Cantonese we organised a trip to Mong Kok shopping district. After school, 10 of us went out shopping and tested our bargaining skills - I bought myself a cool set of fake beats that work with Bluetooth. We also went to Anson's cousin's birthday and we had a great time.

The Swimming Gala, which is like the House Swimming Carnival, was amazing. The atmosphere was incredible; they kept up the chanting for four hours. Eventually it was time for our relay event. I swam first, then Tom Jones, followed by Harry Hewitt and we finished with Matt Tissiman. We ended up coming third and received a medal. Afterwards we went out for lunch and then went to a 3D museum which was so cool.

On the last day we visited Disneyland. We went on all the rides and my favourite was Space Mountain, a rollercoaster, which was conducted in the dark. Finally, it was time for the Disney parade and we watched the floats in awe. They had so many lights it was impossible to look directly at them as we drove past. I felt like I was five again. The fireworks display was also amazing. That night we gave our hosts presents and thanked them. In the morning we headed home with treasured memories.

Da Vinci

After the long, hard last week of Term 3, our first destination was Rome.

We began with a walk to the Musei Capitoline, an old museum containing beautiful statues, paintings and tapestries from the early Middle Ages to the late Renaissance period. The Coliseum also provided an insight into life as a Roman.

Next day was the Vatican trip. The Vatican, being the smallest country in the world and home to the Pope, nestles in the middle of Rome. After making our way through Renaissance art and sculptures, we joined the enormous line to the Sistine Chapel which was, dare I say it, even longer than the line outside the Vatican. The Sistine Chapel is about twice the size of our School's, with every wall and ceiling painted entirely by Michelangelo, the renowned artist of the Renaissance.

We spent two days in Florence and visited the Uffizi Museum, however, the highlight was climbing the Duomo. This is a green and white marble cathedral which supports a giant stone dome. It is filled with beautiful artworks, stained glass windows and stunning architecture but climbing to the top was like exploring a labyrinth of spiral staircases and not for the claustrophobic. The view from the top was breath-taking.

We also visited Pisa. At this point we were struck with how much beauty was around Italy, yet how almost all of it needed to be maintained by either temporary and permanent scaffolding since the structures themselves, so central to Italy's identity, were decaying and no longer supported by their original foundations.

And now, Da Vinci. Pens? Check. Water? Check. Snack food? Check.

The first round consisted of Philosophy, Science and English. Our strategy was to use flawed logic to answer the Philosophy question which sadly did not place us in the top three. Second round was hectic with Engineering, Art, poetry, Mathematics and Cartography. Finally we finished the day with Cryptography and General knowledge. We came third, including first places in Mathematics and Science.

Next we went to Venice, where we were all blown away by St Marc's Basilica. It was bittersweet to think that much of this beautiful Cathedral with its immaculate gold leaf mosaic ceilings, will probably be underwater in our lifetimes. We also went to Murano Island and watched glassblowers making magical pieces in just a few minutes.

Now to Paris. Climbing the Eiffel tower was a great experience. We also visited the Louvre, Sacre Coeur, Notre Dame and Musee d'Orsay, a combination that stunned us all. The sheer size of the Louvre astounded us. Apart from seeing the Mona Lisa, we really loved that the museum had kept intact parts of the castle upon which it is built. We concluded the day by eating escargot (snails) and frogs' legs.

In London, we visited the Tower where we saw the Crown Jewels. St Paul's Cathedral, a piece of marvellous architecture, allowed you to whisper into the wall and people on the other end of the dome would be able to hear the whisper.

A highlight in London was the Globe Theatre, watching Shakespeare's Measure for Measure. The play was interactive and often hilariously self-disparaging.

I would like to thank Mr Kameron for taking us on the trip, and giving us this valuable experience.

Congratulations also the Year 10 team who competed at the State Da Vinci Decathlon earlier this year and took home the Cup.

Drama

On 4 January, 16 Christ Church boys and four St Hilda's girls embarked on a cultural experience of a lifetime.

The 2015 Drama Tour would see our travelling company participate in exclusive theatre tours and workshops, attend world-class shows, and perform and experience culture and countryside throughout the United Kingdom and Paris. Led by Drama staff, Mr Gregory Jones and Ms Kalika Duck, along with Tour Managers, Mr Michael Ralph and Ms Genevieve Gurr, the student tourists spent two and a half weeks sharing the drama experience with peers and professionals across the pond.

Rehearsals for our production, Hoods, began in Term 4 with 30 hours of rehearsals. Hoods, written by Angela Betzien and directed by Kalika Duck, is a challenging piece of Modern Australian Realism that explores both the stereotypes and subtleties of Australian life. The show was a highly physical and collaborative ensemble piece, creating a tight-knit cast eager to share their skills and stories with a foreign audience.

In Glasgow, we attended Peter Pan, a pantomime performed with all the pomp and playfulness inherent in the style. We enjoyed the night and learnt much from the contrasting polish of the performance and practicalities of mounting our own backstage show.

We enjoyed another backstage tour at the Royal Shakespeare Company in Stratford. After watching their production of The Christmas Truce, we saw the inner workings of the life of these professional actors.

The standout workshop, however, was our two hours with physical theatre company, Frantic Assembly. It was a steep learning curve for high school actors such as ourselves to work with skilled and committed performers. It taught us much about their extraordinary abilities and was of great assistance in improving our own touring production.

I grew close to the entire cast through performances and good times were had outside of the production. Whether seeing Matilda, the musical, together or just chatting on the Paris subway, friendships were made to last a lifetime and I watched as the whole cast developed as actors. All in all it was a worthwhile and amazing experience.

German

The strengthening association with St Ursula's School, Hannover was confirmed by the success of the second exchange visit to Germany in December.

The tour and homestay program allowed another group of Christ Church boys to experience the festive season in a very different cultural setting and created yet more, hopefully enduring, connections between families in Perth and Hannover.

Munich and Berlin were on the itinerary prior to the homestay and Christmas Markets were certainly an ever-present highlight. The stay in Munich provided contrasting experiences - a visit to Allianz Arena, home of Bayern Munich Football Club and to Dachau Concentration Camp, the model for the Nazis' network of World War II camps. Some of the keener members of the group enjoyed early morning runs around the famous Theresienwiese, site of the famous Munich Oktoberfest and everyone learned to navigate the inner city area of Munich on foot. Day trips to Salzburg (the birth place of Mozart) and to Mad King Ludwig's castle at Neuschwanstein gave everyone the opportunity to explore other parts of Bavaria and a small piece of Austria where, apparently there are no kangaroos!

Time in the national capital provided many opportunities to explore Berlin's history as well as to visit more Christmas Markets. The fully-operational Pankstrasse U-Bahn station revealed itself as a Cold War Nuclear Bunker and Checkpoint Charlie and Bernauer Strasse reminded all of the divided history of the city up to 1989. A special event was to have traditional 'Kaffee und Kuchen' in the Dachgarten Restaurant in the dome of the Reichstag building.

The homestay period allowed the boys to experience the strong community and family Christmas tradition that is central to this part of Germany. Once again, the members of the tour group and the School owe a big debt of gratitude to the staff and families of St Ursula's School and we all look forward to returning the hospitality in the near future.

CAMBODIA

The journey to Cambodia in December 2014 was an experience that is rather difficult to put into words. Working with Scott Neeson's Cambodian Children's Fund, our aim was to assist the CCF in their education, cultural and community programs.

These are excerpts from student journals of the events that had the greatest impact on us.

The Welcome:

"There is a sense of respect throughout the entire community. All here seem to live for one another. They seem to take each opportunity as a privilege rather than a right, which makes for a much more appreciative and happier lifestyle. Everyone is also extremely welcoming and friendly, always returning or offering a smile, which helps make this unknown experience much less confronting."

S-21 and the Killing Fields:

"The best way to describe the Choeng Ek Genocidal Centre, known more commonly as the Killing Fields, is as a subtle horror. The site where about 20,000 people were brutally executed is antithetically peaceful and serene. But the audio-guided tour reminded us that every step we took through the lush grass and dangling fruit trees was over shattered bone and washed-away blood.

The Classrooms:

"We got dropped as far into the rubbish dump as the van could manage and then we walked along the winding paths, through the stench, the shacks, and dreadful living conditions to our work area."

"We were greeted at the satellite school by excited screams and faces engulfed in smiles. The bell rang and the children quickly dispersed, eager to begin learning. In the first class Jack Hawkesford got up and went through the different parts of the body. During break the children played music, their two favourite songs being Roar by Katy Perry and Girl On Fire by Alicia Keys."

The Dancing and Feeding Programs:

"The feeding program consisted of showering the kids, covering them in powder and brushing/braiding their hair. We also helped to serve meals and then kept the children entertained with whizzy dizzies and piggy-back rides."

"We finished off our time with our Cambodian friends with a gala concert, which was a great success. Julian Ming, Gareth Shanthikumar and James Weight had to say goodbye to their afternoon classes early to practise for a traditional dance routine. After three hours of intense practice, costuming and makeup, they still had little to no idea about how to perform the dance. However, after running down to the stage, they performed to a rapturous applause."

Everyone who went on this trip can honestly say that this experience is one of the most profound that we have ever had. Teaching the children at CCF left us wiser and expanded our awareness of peoples' lives outside of Perth. We would like to thank everyone at the Cambodian Children's Fund, staff members for being fantastic mentors and, in particular, the Pengelleys.

FIJI

Pilgrimage to St Christopher's

Students and staff from Christ Church and St Hilda's spent 10 days on a pilgrimage to St Christopher's Home in Fiji during the Term 1 school holidays. The journey was one based around voluntary service with students experiencing and developing friendships with children from a vastly different culture.

St Christopher's Home is an orphanage run by an Anglican Order of Sisters, the Community of the Sacred Name. The Sisters dedicate their lives to caring for orphaned or neglected Fijian children.

Mornings at the home were spent completing service-based activities including painting, cleaning, gardening and brightening up the home. Afternoons were dedicated to 'buddy time,' when students played with the children at St Christopher's, extending friendship, kindness and love.

One day was spent at the local school where the morning was dedicated to teaching the Fijian children about Australia. In the afternoon everyone went to the movies and ate lunch in the local town, a highlight for the students and children alike.

Service in Action

"The smiles, acceptance and friendship given by the children were humbling and heartwarming, and their singing voices – beautiful," said Jane Shannon.

"After a rewarding week, we said our goodbyes with heavy hearts and travelled to Nadi for a well-deserved afternoon of island paradise, water sports and relaxation."

The boys were greatly appreciative for the opportunity to visit St Christopher's and thanked the Sisters and children of the home, students at St Hilda's and Mr Hallett and Ms Shannon for the experience.

LOOMA

The 2015 Service in Action trip to the remote indigenous community of Looma was attended by Matt Wilson, Liam Donovan, Louie Stokes, Alex Mullins, Devin He, Tom Weight, Sam Collins, Sascha D'Angelo, Lucas Cottrill, Benji Wilson, Tim Moorman and Ben Zaninovich, as well as Mr Tait, Mr Saggars and Miss Alagic.

As we set out for Looma from Broome, everyone was nervous but excited for the potential challenges and experiences that lay ahead. Below are recollections from some of the trip members.

"All the boys enjoyed the opportunity to gain valuable insight into a close-knit and absolutely incredible indigenous community, to work with some amazing children, and also see the strong family dynamics and values held by the community." - Liam Donovan

"The people I met in Looma and our ability to positively impact on their lives was an experience which I will never forget. This was only improved upon as we were able to do it with mates, whilst making many new friends." - Louie Stokes

"Looma was a place that really reinforced the knowledge that in our over-complicated and frantic society, we really need to get back to basics, and just work together as one society and one community. It also gave many of us the realisation that when you can work with, alongside and for others, you can have the greatest impact as a person." - Matt Wilson

MARBLE BAR

The idea behind Service in Action is a cultural exchange through service. Marble Bar, the 'hottest town in Australia' has 400 residents and a small Indigenous community 5km from town, which all the boys briefly visited.

The school has 48 students, three teachers and seven Senior School students, the latter taught by Perth-based teachers. The Prep to Year 1 students were taken by Myles McQuillan and Nansen Robb. The Year 2 to 4 boys were taken by James Wilson, Henry Loudon and Imran Savliwala. The class worked diligently and took many opportunities to extend work. We were staggered at how willing the teachers were to give up their time for the kids.

The Year 5s and 6s were taken by Jack Lewsey, Zac Bowles and George Richmond. While shy at first, we soon got to know the students well. They tried to learn as much as possible as they each had real ambitions. Although far behind the educational standards we see in Perth, they tried extremely hard and it was inspirational to see their smiles and love for life. Each day we held swimming lessons for our classes and helped out at the recreation centre in the afternoon. The swimming carnival we held was a great success and much fun was had.

All in all it was a memorable trip where we all gained a much greater appreciation for the natural beauty of the area, Indigenous culture, remote learning and service.

YAKANARRA

Travelling to Yakanarra, none of us were sure what to expect. We first sighted the community, nestled near the St George Ranges, through the windows of our light plane as we flew in from Broome. We were greeted at the landing strip by Ms Helen Unwin, the Yakanarra Community School Principal and immediately noticed how nice everyone in the community was.

As we drove down the main street, we were greeted with waves and smiles as we saw the School and basketball courts for the first time. Over the next week, we really felt like we became part of the community. With Tim Gray helping Ms Desley, Tom Robins helping Ms Kittie, Owain Chandler helping Mr Graeme, and Mr Morrissy helping Mr Jarrad, we spent the week sitting in with many classes. We loved seeing the concentration and improvement of the students in Mathematics, reading, History and English as the week progressed, and realised how privileged we are with our educational opportunities.

Outside of the classroom we visited the Old Lady rock and took the Yakanarra ranges tour with Beryl and Michael to visit the Rainbow Serpent at the water hole. On the way we tried some bush tucker too (bush tomatoes and coconuts). The sunsets over the ranges were tremendous and after sundown we had a great time playing basketball with everybody, as well as riding bikes and kicking the football.

On the final day, we travelled to Fitzroy Crossing for the annual football and netball carnival. Everybody showed great skill, effort and energy to make it to the grand final of the football.

On the way back to Yakanarra, we were lucky enough to chase a goanna up a tree, and were shocked when Ashwin managed to climb up and knock it down. None of us could have climbed that high. That afternoon, we were sad to say goodbye to everyone in our class and at the basketball courts, but eating some of the goanna tail made us appreciate the importance of the hunting for food in the outback communities.

On Saturday morning, Ms Unwin drove us back to the airstrip for our flight back to Broome and then to Perth. We were so sad to leave the community and all of the amazing people we met. We are very thankful to everyone at the Community School, as well as around the community, who made our stay so enjoyable and made us feel like we belonged.

GARNDUWA - EAST

Upon arrival, the boys had to adjust to a humid, 40 degree climate as we met various young leaders from remote communities, such as Wyndham, Balgo and Halls Creek. The Indigenous boys were pretty shy and kept to themselves on the first night, but after-dinner cane toad hunting provided an ideal ice-breaker as the Christ Church boys were shamed by some first class spear throwing from our new mates. Although each day provided a number of challenging yet rewarding experiences - including abseiling, a complex ropes course, and canoeing - the diving board set up on a small cliff not only provided entertainment (given some horrendous flip attempts) but served as a great way to get to know the Indigenous boys better, creating a sense of trust that developed over the weekend. Shout out to Jason for winning a game of chicken, as he swam the furthest across the river with no guarantee that a salt water croc was not lurking beneath the surface, although Francis from Balgo did his best to provide a scare.

Besides sharing laughs, moments of joy and mud all over us (thanks to young Caleb), we all took a lot from the trip, in reflection. Regardless of the fact that as Year 11 students we had a slightly more mature perspective of how fortunate we are to live the way we do, the trip opened our eyes to the fact that we cannot just sit back and watch the vicious cycle of meaninglessness in these remote communities occur, given the consequences and impacts on these individuals. With an understanding that we have 'won the birth lottery' in a sense, something that is really important for all boys from all trips is that we do not take our lives for granted, but rather, that we strive to make a difference - whether that be getting involved in the ICEA Foundation or starting from scratch. Such an entrenched issue within our society needs people to make a difference, and while one week can have a lasting impact, it still is not enough. A big thank you to Mr Tait and Mr McDonald for making the trip possible. It certainly was an unreal experience.

GARNDUWA - WEST

The third day began with our usual fitness session run by Patrick (Paddy) Johnston and Brodee Lockwood and comprised beach flags, footy handball drills and a fitness session of push-ups and sit-ups in the sand, which all the kids were really excited about. After breakfast, we headed off to One Arm Point Primary School, to help teach football and basketball skills to the kids. We had planned this session in our groups the day before.

One Arm Point is quite small and positioned right on the beach. When we got there, we all enjoyed a game of American football and touch rugby on the beach but, as always, the boys insisted that we play footy in the end. The school was extremely small. The Year 2 to 4 students were extremely shy at first but by the end they were jumping all over us. They had incredible football and basketball skills. The Year 3s embarrassed the Christ Church boys when they managed to break my ankles and successfully sell candy to Paddy. My group and Paddy's group took the footy drills and Ben Edwards and Michael Boyatzis took basketball. Afterwards we all joined in to play a basketball game called 'pressure' in which the kids destroyed us again.

When we got back from the School we all had lunch, during which time some of the other boys spotted a turtle in the water. They all jumped in, trying to catch it but it was too quick and swam off. Later that afternoon we all went down to a nearby beach to test out our spears. None of us, even the local boys, could catch a fish. After that we went into the mangroves where only an hour before, a croc had been spotted which made all the boys a bit cautious. After our fishing experience we all played a game of 'white-fellas vs black-fellas' footy on the beach which was, as expected, highly competitive.

Our extraordinary last day was rounded off with a barbecue.

All the boys arrived at Perth International Airport - apart from one James Tonnison, who forgot his passport and was 35 minutes late!

After a six-and-a-half-hour movie marathon on our way to Auckland, we had another two-hour flight to Queenstown, before a further hour's drive up the mountain to be fitted out with gear. During this time Aaron Love, Tom Maouris and James Tonnison would not stop trying to impress Mr Downing and Mr Ristovsky with their extensive skiing and snowboarding exploits.

We then headed to our lakeside accommodation in Wanaka, with everyone excited and ready for the snow. With a range of abilities on the slopes, everyone got stuck into their own lessons, showing significant improvement right away. Another plus was the presence of 52 St Hilda's girls on the trip! The days were incredible, with a buffet breakfast followed by an early morning lesson, and free skiing for the rest of the day, and short breaks for food throughout. After this, we would head back down the mountain, spending our evenings hanging out with some of the St Hilda's girls, before a three-course dinner, followed by bed as we were all exhausted from our constant skiing and snowboarding.

At the halfway point of the trip, everyone had a break from skiing, and ventured into Queenstown for an action-packed day. This included a jet boat ride, luge races, general exploring, an incredible lunch at Fergberger and, after a ride up the gondola, a traditional Maori war dance (assisted by Chief Mason Wei, of course), and finally dinner at the Skyline restaurant.

The next day, it was straight back to the slopes for our final two days. By this stage, most of the boys were moderately proficient at skiing and snowboarding, with Tom Maouris believing in his ability so much so that he got reckless on the slopes, losing his ski lift pass for three hours due to excessive speed in a slow zone, thus earning himself the nickname "McQueen". A special mention must also go to Nicholas Moody and Lewis Considine who somehow managed to fall off one of the lifts at the bottom - a feat never before managed.

Overall, I would like to say a huge thank you to Mr Ristovsky and Mr Downing for making the trip possible.

World Challenge

Following the final exams of the year, eight Year 11 and three Year 12 students travelled around Southern Peru for 28 days on Christ Church Grammar School's first World Challenge expedition, visiting tourist centres, remote communities and hiking through the Andes.

None of us had visited a South American country before. We found the Peruvian people to be extremely welcoming and their Mestizo culture and history, fascinating. The visit will leave a lasting memory for all.

Lima - The busy capital of Peru, perched upon the coastal cliffs, cradling the colonial historical centre.

Paracas - A small seaside tourist town on the fringe of a rich national park; part of the unique 'coastal desert' and near to Islas Ballestas, a wildlife hub for seals and a wide variety of birdlife.

Arequipa - The sprawling 'White City' in La Sierra, backed by ice-capped volcanoes; centre piece is a colonial white stone cathedral, along with a colourful self-contained monastery nearby.

Colca Canyon - Three days trekking into an isolated community; from rocky outcrops into lush greenery at monumental depths to reach our destination, Oasis; twice as deep as the Grand Canyon at 3400m below sea level; stretches for 100km.

Pedregal - A small, close-knit community in the Majes Valley, neighbouring Corire; our community project was spent helping the local school kids. Their glee left us with smiles in our hearts.

Puno - Sliding down the hillside into Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable lake in the world, to meet the native communities on the floating Uros reed islands.

Cusco - Ancient cobble-stoned city woven between Inca stone wall foundations and Spanish red-tiled roofs; vibrant Plaza de Armas with grandiose baroque architecture; historically the capital of Peru and the Inca Empire.

Huaracondo - This Ancient Inca trail pulled us through grassy terrain with stretching mountain views, a condor's swoop welcoming us into camp. The tundra path led into a slowly widening and deepening green cut in the landscape, through foggy, dense wood, cutting into a deep valley.

Ollantaytambo - A small town wedged between vertiginous ruins and the train line to Machu Picchu.

Machu Picchu - A mysterious 'island' of grand carved stones suspended in the fog of the valley; temples and constructs sit upon emerald terraces, surrounded by cloud forest and Andean ridges. The iconic estate was lost until its rediscovery in the early 20th century, having survived six centuries of earthquakes, Spanish invasion and howling weather.

ACTIVITIES

Cadets: Army

2015 was yet another successful year for the Christ Church Grammar School Cadet Unit (CCGSCU). It started well with excellent results from the Brigade Cadet Under Officer (CUO) and Cadet Warrant Officer Class 2 (CDTWO2) courses, with five of our Year 12 Cadets giving up part of their January holidays to participate for promotion. The appointments were finalised with CUO Harrison Bain being the Platoon Commander for 1 Platoon, CUO Monte Nathan being the 2 Platoon commander and CUO Will Burt having command of 3 Platoon. CDTWO2 Cameron Criddle and I were posted to Company Headquarters.

Term 1 saw a significant intake of Year 10 cadets, with a full company strength of just over 90. As the term progressed, Cadets were taught the basics of drill and introduced to the navigation and first aid components. A highlight was the inflatable obstacle course brought in to assist with physical training.

Term 1 camp was relocated from Muchea to the Northam Army Camp. The bivouac acted as a 'boot camp', with the company sleeping on hoochie lines on the first night. Cadets learnt how to set up a hoochie, the basics of camouflage and concealment, survival skills and field signals. The night activity consisted of searching for a UAV at night, with an enemy trying to catch them.

Term 2 saw a significant focus on Anzac Day, as the company commemorated the centenary of the Gallipoli landing. Activities included the Bankwest Gallipoli Run, a service at Dalkeith Primary School, providing flag orderlies for the Len Hall Memorial AFL game between the Fremantle Dockers and the Sydney Swans and the Anzac Day parade through Perth City. The commemorations culminated in the School's Anzac Centenary Service. CCGSCU mounted a four-man catafalque party, laying wreaths at the foot of a memorial. The unit also invited Old Boy, MAJGEN Craig Williams AM to speak about the importance of the Gallipoli campaign.

Preceding the Anzac Day commemorations, the unit continued training, with an emphasis on navigation, first aid and radio skills. Cadets learnt how to work out bearings, distances and grid references on a map. The Term 2 field exercise arrived and, despite the horrible wet weather conditions, everyone pushed on through. The camp began with Platoon Observations Posts (OPs) set alongside the Platoon harbours, where the cadets would record any information of the nearby 'enemies'. Company Headquarters acted as the enemy, with help from the Wanneroo Cadet Unit, which sought to compromise the OPs set up by each Platoon. Next day, cadets participated in a Casualty Evacuation (CASEVAC), where each Platoon had to hike to a spot. Once the casualty was reached, they had to radio in a '10 Liner CASEVAC' to HQ. This activity was highly successful, and cadets gained experience on the actions to take if ever a real life 'NO DUFF' casualty occurs.

During the Term 2 holidays, a number of Year 11 and 12 cadets successfully participated in the Brigade Senior Non-Commissioned Course (SNCO). Senior cadets volunteered as instructors and boys who partook gained the qualification for promotion to the rank of Sergeant.

Term 3 began with unit preparation for Annual Camp with the major focus on navigation. Year 11 Cadets also participated in a First Aid course run by our First Aid Officer LT Digby Gibson, providing them with a nationally accredited qualification. Running concurrently with this, was the F88 Austeyr training for the Year 10s, where Cadets learnt how to strip and assemble the rifle, and the Weapon Training Test to qualify them to 'live fire' the weapon on Annual Camp.

Term 3 camp was the most challenging of all. The major goal was a navigational exercise where Cadets, in sections and platoons, would patrol with their packs through the bush for 16km. Their efforts were rewarded with a film. The next morning, the unit headed to Wanneroo for paintball.

On the second week of the Term 3 holidays, the unit was finally off to the much-anticipated Annual Field Exercise (AFX). The Year 10 cadets were divided into a range of courses on Tier 2, including Adventure Training, Driving, Catering, First Aid, Patrol Commanders, Survival, Roping and Communications courses. Members of the Year 10 group also attend the Junior Non-Commissioned Officer course (JNCO), which was run by the CCGS Officer Commanding CAPT (AAC) Conrad Scott. The Year 11 Cadets participated in Tier 3, run by our Co-ordinator of Army Cadets CAPT Duane Nurse. This was the most difficult and strenuous course with highlights including the cordon and search of a village and abseiling at the Battle Simulation Training Facility. The Year 12s were divided into various courses, taking on leadership and instructional roles. SGT S Thompson was on Tier 1 Alpha. CUO M Nathan, CUO W Burt fulfilled command roles on Tier 1 Bravo. On the JNCO course was CUO H Bain, WO2 C Criddle, CQMS A Shaber-Twedt and myself.

Competition day arrived; morale was extremely high and the unit was both excited and nervous. In general, we had a successful day. We finished fourth in the first aid, second in the navigation and equal first in the drill competition. In ranking for the best overall unit for the year, CCGSCU finished a very respectable second, missing out on the top position by only 1.6 points. This demonstrates that we are a flexible, adaptable organisation – first place is a realistic expectation for 2016.

A big thank you must go to CAPT Nurse, CAPT Scott, WO1 O'Sullivan, LT Gibson, LT Barber and 2LT Pocock for a fantastic year. I must also thank the senior team for their three years of dedicated commitment, despite the heavy workload. It has been an excellent experience.

Cadets: Environment and Community (ENCOMM)

WEARNE HOSTEL

Most Friday afternoons, a lively group of Year 10 Christ Church students visit the elderly residents of Wearne Hostel in Cottesloe. They enjoy their interactions with the residents, playing Scrabble, running rounds of bingo and helping high-care patients with physical activities. Several of the residents have commented on how much they look forward to the visits and, in particular, how they appreciate the boys' polite manner. Some of them prefer to just sit and chat with the students or seek their assistance with items such as iPads and laptops. These visits have helped the boys to understand the complexities of ageing.

FRIENDS OF LAKE CLAREMONT AND DOCTORS FOR AFRICA

The Environment and Community Cadets Program (ENCOMM) places us where we might be of service to the community. This year we have worked alongside the Friends of Lake Claremont volunteer organisation. Members helped us in planting a diverse range of plants, placing logs under fences to allow safe passage for turtles, weeding and the general maintenance of Lake Claremont.

On other occasions we would travel to a now-defunct hospital and help other volunteers pack the hospital equipment (such as hospital beds and Zimmer frames) into containers to be shipped to Ethiopia. This aspect of ENCOMM expanded our view on the world and allowed us to be of service in countries other than our own. ENCOMM has been an integral part of my Christ Church journey and I am proud of the service we gave to the local and international communities.

BRAEMAR LODGE

A few Year 10 Christ Church boys were fortunate enough to spend their Friday afternoon activity at Braemar Lodge, an aged-care facility in East Fremantle. The community aroused intrigue and interest in the boys who listened to and shared stories. The experience was worthwhile for both residents and the boys, as many do not have much contact with the other.

FOOD RESCUE

Over the past year, a dozen dedicated Year 10 boys congregated in Sandover every Wednesday afternoon under the tutelage of Ms Shannon to sort food for Food Rescue. Food Rescue is an organisation that collects food usually thrown out by supermarkets, sorts it into boxes of edible food and then composts the waste. Food sent to Food Rescue is distributed to approximately 50 Perth charities. The boys' teamwork, initiative and efficiency have improved each week. Every week we saved approximately 300kg of useable food that would otherwise be thrown away.

MARY CHESTER CENTRE

A group of four students attended the Alzheimer's Association' Mary Chester Centre in Shenton Park. The students participated in various activities encouraging the residents at the daily respite centre to join in with them. Table tennis, general knowledge quiz competitions, indoor golf putting and footy tipping were favourite activities. The students also assisted with watering the gardens as well as endeavouring to keep the CD and DVD collections in a tidy state. The students learnt about the significant difficulty that Alzheimer's has on the individual as well as the strain placed on the families involved. They all found the year a most worthwhile experience.

REGIS, HOLLYWOOD VILLAGE

The Friday afternoon activities at the Regis Hollywood Village was something the residents looked forward to because they knew that there would be a cheeky game of carpet bowls, 6-pin bowling, a stock-standard game of bingo, and many more enjoyable activities. The boys had a lot of fun with the elderly, socialising and sharing stories of "when I was your age." They also loved talking about how much practice they'd had during the week as 109 year old John was able to score 30 points – a tally the boys could not match. Overall, ENCOMM 2015 at the Regis Hollywood Village was an enjoyable and unique experience for all of us.

MOSMAN PARK BUSH CARE

ENCOMM's work at Mosman Park this year proved to be a satisfying experience. Environmental and land care duties were mostly conducted at Chidley Point, but we were sometimes assigned to places such as Buckland Hill and Leighton Beach. Activities included mulching, planting, weeding, watering, fence erecting, sign planting, erosion control and rubbish picking. With the guidance of our Environmental Officers, Heidi and Sophie, the team learnt much behind-the-scenes knowledge and skills of bush care and parks and recreation upkeep. Some activities were physically challenging, but the boys were more than up to the task, and we were rewarded with the knowledge that we had accomplished something that benefited both the environment and the community.

Cadets: Surf Lifesaving

2015 was yet again an extremely rewarding year for the CCGS Surf Lifesaving Cadets program. A continuing partnership with North Cottesloe Surf Lifesaving Club saw 55 Year 10 boys complete the program (our eighth year.) As always, the program trained the boys in surf awareness, first aid, effective communication techniques and essential rescue and resuscitation techniques. For the first time it also allowed Year 10 and Year 11 boys to achieve higher awards, such as the advanced resuscitation techniques certificate and for Year 12 students to work towards achieving instructor status. Some also achieved their IRB crewman and driver, spinal management and other higher order certification.

Another exciting first was our involvement with the North Cottesloe Nippers (children aged between 5 and 13) throughout Term 1. Cadets also had the opportunity to meet a number of North Cottesloe icons throughout the year. The icons comprised Rachel Taylor (Olympic Silver medalist and Australian Surf Lifesaving team member), Chris Shellabear (current NCSLSC President), Tom Nolan (Australian Open Beach Sprint champion and Australian SLS team member), and NCSLS life members club Simon Martin, Michael Beech and Mark MacDermott. Nat Benjanuvatra (former CCGS student and NCSLS Club Captain) and Kat Porter (three-time Paralympian) also assisted with demonstrations and expertise.

The program commenced early in Term 1 with a gruelling fitness session led by Guy Mouritz. The tasks required the boys to work as a team to test their commitment and dedication. The remaining sessions in Term 1 were aimed at allowing the cadets to develop their board and tube rescue techniques.

In Term 2, a focus was placed on ensuring that all the cadets would be able to perform CPR and have comprehensive first aid knowledge. Term 2 also saw Year 12 leader, Ollie Stockwell, recognised for his remarkable contributions to Surf Lifesaving and NCSLSC, winning the overall Junior Club Member (2015) award. A productive term culminated in all the cadets performing extremely well in mock assessments, which tested their ability to successfully resuscitate an unresponsive patient and demonstrate broad first aid knowledge.

As Term 3 arrived, a number of sessions allowed for vital revision for the final assessment at the end of week 9. Cadets, who have completed surf lifesaving at CCGS, have the ability to become fully fledged members of NCSLSC or any other surf lifesaving club in Australia.

The program in 2015 was managed by former Christ Church student, Zac Vinten, with assistance from Izzy Kordic. Ms Ali Gould, Co-ordinator, commented on the outstanding contribution from the Year 12 leaders this season. Some of these members contributed towards the training of NCSLSC junior courses over the summer holidays in 2014/15 and were awarded with trainers assistant qualifications. Ollie, Julian, Josh, Aiden, Ale, Jack, Hunter, George and Lawrence deserve special recognition for their efforts and acting as such positive influences on the cadets.

The program was also the recipient of a grant from Lotterywest. It must finally be recognised that surf lifesaving at Christ Church would not be the same without the unstinting devotion of Ms Gould, Mr Hodnett and Ms Fricke.

Chapel and Centre for Ethics

We began the year with a hilarious and very moving address by Luke Ryan on the subject of his book and sell-out show at the Melbourne Comedy Festival, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to Chemo. Luke told us about the ordeals of chemotherapy at age 11 and then 22.

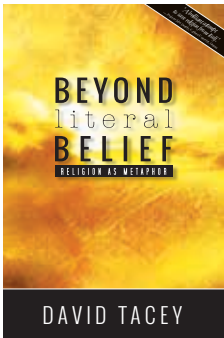

Former Australian of the year, Professor Patrick McGorry (pictured) spoke about hope and help for young people experiencing early stages of mental illness. On International Women's Day we heard from Rabia Siddique. On World Book Day, authors Craig Silvey (pictured) and Amanda Betts visited classrooms to speak about their writing. Greg Mitchell came into classes throughout the year to talk about multiple intelligences and positive thinking. Claire Barrett-Lennard discussed ethical issues associated with climate change.

In second term, there were book launches by Kate Grenville (One Life: My Mother's Story) and Abbot Bernard Rooney (Booma Waangki) from the Benedictine Monastery at New Norcia. Claire Eaton visited several classes to speak about empowerment and responsibility. Former West Coast Eagle, Jayme Graham, spoke about finding strength in adversity. Susan McLean gave advice about cyber safety. Professor Assen Jablensky spoke about mental health.

In third term, world-leading neurobiologist Professor Cyndi Shannon Weickert spoke about schizophrenia. Amy Cools and James Bogle (pictured) spoke to classes about film-making and ethical issues. Renowned theologian, David Tacey, discussed his latest book Beyond Literal Belief. We arranged for Professor Tacey to speak in the local Anglican parish. We always enjoy working with Father Peter Boyland. David Tacey also spoke to a Philosophy class about aspects of belief and atheism. Abbey Mardon spoke on a number of occasions about the work of World Vision.

In fourth term, Matt Norman spoke about Voiceworks. Jon Doust explored the subject Life is Fun. The ABC's Kerry O'Brien discussed his interviews with former Prime Minister, Paul Keating, and the book that came out of those interviews. UWA academic, Dr Barry Green, addressed the topic Fusion: A Sustainable Source for the Future. Julie Baker spoke about her Journeys of the Spirit. We hosted a commemoration of Kristallnacht in the Chapel in the presence of Her Excellency, the Governor of Western Australia, Kerry Sanderson. Lib Matthews spoke about White Ribbon Day. Father Frank Brennan addressed a large gathering about 'Australia's National Interest and the Decent Treatment of Asylum Seekers'.

Matt Smith from the Anglican parish of Dalkeith ran a regular Bible study group for senior students. Miles Protter held several gatherings for fathers wishing to reflect on the delights and challenges of fatherhood.

Due to the renovations to the Chapel, we had House Chapel services in the local parish church. Father Peter also allowed us to use the hall for meditation and yoga classes for Year 11 boys during their annual leadership days in September.

At the re-opening of the Chapel, we held a lovely service to mark the occasion. There were wonderful services for Advent and Christmas. A Nativity Play is held on Christmas Eve each year. Mr Jerome Griffin organises the play and takes the part of King Herod. He seems to be a natural for the role.

Once more, Mrs Teresa Scott has brought her exceptional organisational skills, attention to detail and great good humour to the task of ensuring that the Centre for Ethics functions so well. She also keeps a close eye on things around the Chapel. I cannot adequately express how much we appreciate all that she does. She is one of Christ Church's treasures.

SALUSANSA

The Enigma languages group researches linguistics and the basics of language, including grammar, semantics and vocabulary. Their research has recently led to an ambitious project concept - the invention of a language they call Salusansa.

Salusansa was designed to be easy to learn, authentic, efficient and culturally neutral. Centred on water, the basic symbols for the words represent symbols for life.

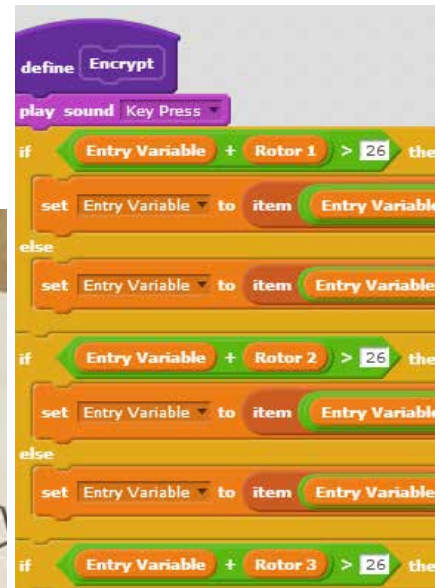

The language comes complete with a 25-page dictionary and the beautifully illustrated story Where is the Cow?

The team of boys also used the language to translate a collection of popular children's literature, including Where is the Green Sheep?

Centre for Excellence

The Enigma program sees teams of students collaborating on high-level open-ended projects. Salusansa, on the facing page, is an example of one such project. Two other examples on this page are a computer program designed to emulate the encryption of the enigma machine in World War II and a board game designed using modern mechanics that a computer would find challenging to play.

The da Vinci Decathlon sees students competing in a range of academic endeavours. We also qualified for the Race Around the Renaissance, a tour of culture in Europe, shared with a few other schools.

The Year 10 team came first in the national competition. The Year 9 team came third in the international competition and participated in the Race Around the Renaissance.

Chess - PSA Champions

2015 witnessed the first cracks in the previously indomitable Tien dynasty. With elder brother Richard graduating in 2014, the firm favourite for the open tournament was younger brother and Chess Captain extraordinaire, Liam Tien. However, new boy, Jiayi Mu, had other ideas. Arriving quietly on the scene in Term 4 last year, Jiayi quickly established himself as a force to be reckoned with and so it proved when he defeated Liam in a nail-biting finale. The junior tournament was won comfortably by another rising chess star, Eric Pan. With the bulk of our inter-school tournament playing squad graduating from Year 12 in 2014, the pressure was on for the new fresh-faced line up in the Four Schools competition. Our team comprised Liam Tien, Eric Pan, Jiayi Mu, Joshua Fry, Nicholas Pizzino, Jesse Zhou, Alden Lands and Michael Lukin.

The boys did not disappoint with a commanding performance that resulted in Christ Church finishing outright winners on 38.5 points with second place, Guildford, amassing only 20.5 points. The real challenge, however, lay ahead in the form of Wesley College in the PSA competition. The line up for the five-man event was Liam Tien, Eric Pan, Jiayi Mu, Joshua Fry with Nicholas Pizzino and Jesse Zhou alternating the reserve position. The decider between Christ Church and Wesley fell in round 5 and up to that point both schools had won each round convincingly. On Board 1 Liam Tien had the unenviable task of defeating 'George' who has never lost in a PSA game. Unfortunately for 'George' his team mates were not so consistent. Jiayi posted a quick win followed by Joshua and although Jesse was frustrated with a draw, Eric soon ensured victory was ours.

This was the sixth consecutive year Christ Church has won the PSA event and this can only be attributed to the coaching skills of Ned Robles and the hard work and camaraderie displayed by all the boys.

SCRAM

The Christ Church SCRAM (Schools Conflict Resolution and Mediation) team of 2015 had a very tight finish as the race to the grand finale was frustratingly close. Unfortunately, we did not make the final two teams but the boys certainly gave the other schools a run for their money. The monthly adjudication results were extremely promising.

SCRAM provided the boys with peaceful problem-solving skills that compelled them to think outside the box. They took a problem that was central to two parties and turned an unfavourable situation into a win-win for both. The boys were outstanding in their commitment to and enthusiasm for each training session, a true testament to their character. It was a privilege to have worked with them. The team consisted of the dynamic personalities of Adam Di Tullio, Alex Lindsay, Sonal Abey Suriya, Jordan Di Girolami, Jesse Zhou, Jia-Wei Loh, Ryan Brown and Geoff Sang.

Debating

With 84 boys signed up for Debating, we have again seen the strength and depth of the Christ Church Debating fraternity. Senior Debating was particularly well-supported with a total of six senior teams. We had two teams win their divisions - senior team CCGS 2 and a promising junior team of Year 9s, CCGS 4.

A total of 25 boys entered the AHISA competition, which is a good medium for new and veteran debaters to improve their skills, and saw great development, especially within our younger teams. This extra commitment is reflective of the boys' enthusiasm to partake in Debating at Christ Church.

House Debating was also extremely popular this year, with Hill claiming first place. Numerous debaters and non-debaters signed up for this program and the future looks promising, as many of them went on to join either WADL or AHISA Debating. The topics this year were interesting and, at times, controversial which sparked much interest. I would like to thank all the members of staff who adjudicated these events.

A further 18 boys took part in this year's British Parliamentary Debating competition. This is a very challenging competition based on the British parliament. Unlike normal debating, students battle it out with four other teams at once, making it even more challenging.

I would also like to acknowledge the integral role of our Debating coaches, Harry Smallbone, who coached the novice and junior teams this year, and Richard O'Halloran, who held a number of workshops to improve the already strong Christ Church Debating fraternity. I would like to personally thank Ms Nock and Ms Hastie for the countless hours they have invested to help run Debating at Christ Church. I would also like to thank the dedicated Debating committee for their assistance in setting up the debates each week, assisting with the pizza evening and quiz night and their general help with all matters debating.

Debating continues to be an integral part of the Christ Church culture, and its future looks bright. For someone who has participated in Debating since Year 7, it has been a memorable and character-building experience.

Mock Trials

We had three Year 12 teams and three Year 11 teams in 2015, coached by our very talented practitioner, Alex Mossop. Once or twice a week, early in the morning, all teams met to be coached on the law of evidence and civil and criminal trial procedures.

Rounds 1 and 3 saw all teams progress well. Three out of six teams won all their fixtures. Unfortunately, only one team (Team White) earned sufficient points to make it into the final 16 teams. Team White comprised Year 12 students, Christian Keller and Daniel Pelkowitz. They were ably supported by Anthony Terpkos, Ellis Ormonde and Owain Chandler as our dynamic witnesses. The team's court orderly, Alessandro Antoci, ensured all judges were greeted with a fresh smile and a glass of the finest mineral water on the market. Effective planning and teamwork saw the team cruise into the semi finals where they faced last year's winners, Mount Lawley Senior High School. Despite our best efforts, we lost by the smallest of margins.

I would like to thank members of all six teams for your effort and dedication this year. In particular, the work and leadership of Captain Jared Hee, Vice-Captain Daniel Pelkowitz and members of the Mock Trials committee has provided a sound framework for the 2016 leadership team.

Outdoor Education

People are like stars - they are all out there but some are just closer than others.

Bill Warner - Year 6 student, around the camp fire.

Koorungal Outdoor Education Centre is in a unique location that allows students to learn through experience and to develop life skills. Situated on the banks of the Murray River, the 260-acre site is an amazing location.

With the development of the gardens and orchard, students have been introduced to food sources and farm fresh eggs from our own chooks. The students themselves have created a series of gardens and started construction on the greenhouse this year.

Surrounded by Lane Poole Reserve, students are exposed to a number of adventures and activities from hiking and abseiling, humpy building, high ropes course and climbing walls to canoeing and white water paddling. However, it all starts with Earthkeepers in Year 5 to introduce students to nature and the outdoors. It is best summed up in the words of one of our newest Earthkeepers:

Dear Koorungal Staff

I am writing this to you about my first experience on camp. I absolutely loved camp as it was packed with exciting activities.

I liked doing all of the different activities like the connection inspection, in which we connected to each other with string to make a chain. One of my favourite activities was the Earthkeepers' Gameshow. It was fun doing all the quizzes.

I enjoyed going into EM's lab and the walk to it. I enjoyed watching the first video and learning how to earn our keys. At the end of camp, I liked being able to see that I had become an apprentice Earthkeeper, earning my "K" and "E" key.

I didn't know that everything is made out of specs. I also didn't know that once you break part of the energy chain, you will break the whole chain. I learnt so many new things while I was on the Earthkeepers' camp. I loved learning about all the amazing things. The biggest thing I learnt was to reuse, recycle and the saying, "Take what you need, but eat what you take!"

Overall, I thought that camp was a very enjoyable experience. I look forward coming to Koorungal in Year 6.

Keenath
Keenath L.A.

The program continues in Year 6 with an introduction to activities and adventures in the outdoors before the boys step into the Senior School. In Year 7 we come together in Houses before heading northwards to the beautiful Shark Bay in Year 8 to sail on the STS Leeuwin. In Year 9, boys live at Koorungal for 11 days. They take part in a six-day expedition and a series of projects and challenges designed to build the individual. One of the outcomes is to develop a better understanding of our natural environment and how we interact with it for a more sustainable future. This relationship is best summed up in the words of Jonny Morris in Year 9:

Nature

*Nature has its place on earth
Just like me and you
Except the way of being brave
Humans can't see it through*

*Nature gives us food to eat
And also gives us air
But humans give it ways to die
And sleep in great despair*

*Nature gives us roofs to build
To sustain us from the cold
But we just give it reasons to fall
And make us look too bold*

*Nature's given me reasons to live
And great memories too
But we need to find a reason for it
To live like me and you.*

Venture is the conclusion of the Outdoor Education program and a rite of passage experience for all Year 10 students into the senior years at Christ Church. Students spend 12 days on an expedition in the beautiful south west of WA, carrying everything they need. This year saw the introduction of a number of environmental and heritage projects that have left their mark on the future for everyone. Students assisted with the rebuilding of a heritage-listed cattleman's hut, the installation of new foot wash stations to prevent the spread of die back and the re-vegetation of native flora on the banks of Broke Inlet which is considered to be the most pristine inlet left in WA.

Philanthropy and Duke of Edinburgh Awards

YOUNG PHILANTHROPIST INITIATIVE

2015 was the second year of the Young Philanthropy initiative. For this initiative the Year 10 boys worked in teams to research a variety of charities. Following presentations to their Houses, winning teams were selected to present a case for their charity, promoting their worthiness for funding to the Senior School during an assembly. They competed for the privilege of awarding a donation of $5000 from the School to their chosen charity by describing the impact this donation would have on the organisation and its supported communities.

A wide variety of different charities (both national and international) was presented to the School. Charities presented this year include Water Aid, The Leukaemia Foundation, Lifeline Australia and Radio Lollipop. This year the team from Noake House won overall and were then able to award $5000 on behalf of Christ Church to the Australian Childhood Foundation. The presentation explained the importance of early intervention and support for vulnerable children.

This Young Philanthropist initiative is very worthwhile as it both raises the general awareness within the School of many worthy causes, and also promotes consideration of how donated funds can be spent most effectively.

THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH'S INTERNATIONAL AWARD

In 2008, I took over the management of The Duke of Edinburgh's Award at Christ Church Grammar School. Since then I have been somewhat remiss in recording the achievements of participants in The Mitre. The importance of this record became obvious in 2014 when I searched through past yearbooks to compile a comprehensive list of past recipients of The Award in preparation for a visit to Western Australia by HRH Prince Edward, Earl of Wessex.

The Prince has taken over from his father in recent years and as the Trustee of the Award Foundation and Chair of the International Council, he has been the driving force in turning the old Duke of Edinburgh's Award, in all its manifestations, into the vibrant, standardised, truly international, relevant and prestigious award that it is today.

The highlight over the past 12 months has been the visit from Prince Edward, which included a reception for participants held at Frasers Restaurant in Kings Park. A gala fundraising dinner was also held in the Grand Ballroom at Crown Perth with our participants acting as ushers. Christ Church Grammar School was appointed as an Ambassador of The Award, the first school ever to receive this honour. In addition, two boys were presented with Gold Awards by the Honourable Kerry Sanderson, Governor of Western Australia.

Rory Bett achieved his Gold Award in March 2015 making him the second CCGS boy in history to achieve this while still at school. Michael Lukin was the third, achieving his Gold in July. Thirty Four years ago, Jeremy Dixon was also presented with his Gold Award at Government House making him the first.

SONY Camp and E-vehicle Challenge

SONY CAMP

SONY Camp 2015, our ninth in 10 years, was a huge success with 19 special needs 'campers' compassionately cared for by our returning Year 12s from CCGS and MLC, along with a wide range of staff.

Roger Bayly led the staff contingent and this capped off a wonderful 10 years of involvement for him, assisted so well by Joanna Simpson and Lisa Broxton - these kids are in great hands.

MLC staff and their Year 11s and 12s were superb this year - just as good as the CCGS participants. It was great to see the art, cooking and gym activities being so professionally run by the MLC staff, and the girls combined brilliantly with the CCGS boys in the companion and assistant roles. Alliance Catering again worked tirelessly with the assistants to serve delicious meals, including a wonderful Christmas dinner for 125 on Sunday, just before Santa arrived!

The campers enjoyed three days of fun with their companions, plenty of time in the pool and at the beach with DSAWA, as well as magic shows, bubbles, face-painting and a wild disco night. Everyone was quite exhausted come 3.00pm Sunday.

We thank our 11s and 12s for this outstanding service - families certainly enjoyed the respite for the weekend.

E-VEHICLE CHALLENGE

The e-Vehicle challenge is a competition open to both high school and community groups, in which teams build a cost-effective electric vehicle. It culminates in a one-day event at Hurricane Kart Club in Wundowie, where teams race their cars around the track to see whose vehicle travels the furthest.

The team from Christ Church consisting of Will Ramel and Nicholas Moody (and, under the guidance of Mr Barbour) built an aluminium chassis powered by a new 36-volt electric motor. The motor managed to cause the team serious issues as it had to be reprogrammed the day before the race. It was not able to connect to the battery due to differing voltages. Nevertheless, the boys managed to overcome this challenge and made it to race day.

Race day promised to be gruelling with an expected temperature of 40 degrees. The team felt confident that they had one of the better cars taking the field in Class B, which is for Senior School teams. All went well during the first half of the race, but two-thirds through, we ran into motor issues again. This time the motor was 'force quitting' and repeatedly shut down every time we restarted it. We later found out that it had overheated due to the extreme hot weather. We were not the only team to retire as much of the field also had to withdraw for similar reasons.

Overall, we had great fun and I encourage others to give e-Vehicle a go. It is an experience we will never forget.

Venture

Adam Di Tullio

I learnt that everyone is on the same playing field whilst in dire situations and that the teamwork that all the boys channel is the key to survival.

Joseph Kuek

Venture is a journey of discovery, not only of yourself but also of the natural environment. I discovered that my own resilience to walking long distances with a heavy pack was greater than I expected. I also created friendships and bonds with others in my group as well as learning about the history of the Walpole/Nornalup region.

Michael Paganin

Venture taught me that solitude and reflection are the keys to unloading your inner being.

Bryce Simes

I realised that there is more fun being outside in the bush than there is being inside a house – except for the toilets.

Isaac Pang

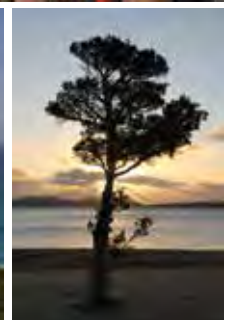

I learnt to be appreciative of the simple things that we take for granted, like a bed.

Thomas McCormack

I learnt that if you mix the bants and the shredding with a sense of humour, you will have an enjoyable time.

Joshua King

I learnt that challenges experienced start in your mind and you have to first overcome these in order to succeed.

HOUSES

Beatty Cup House Competition

2015 proved to be the year Hill dominated the Beatty Cup competition, and with their superbly-strong group of Year 12s, major questions would have been asked if that had not transpired. Well done to all those boys and staff in Hill, although early results in the competition saw Moyes and Wolsey leading the pack.

The House Swimming Carnival again proved to be a very enjoyable and colourful starting event for the boys. Participation was high and there were many superb individual and relay efforts. Moyes again showed strength across many age groups and led Romsey and Noake most of the night to eventually win the carnival by 18 points. Craigie was the big improver on the night and gained three places, with a strong Year 7 group.

House Chess, Public Speaking and Debating provided different opportunities for boys in which to participate over first and second terms, with the finals being held in week 8 of Term 2. It was great to see Noake, Moyes and Hill win separate aspects of this competition. The standard of public speaking in the final was a highlight and was commended by the judges.

The Performing Arts competition always sees some major entertainment opportunities for all boys. With the Chapel out of action for renovations, a big crowd packed the gym for the theatre sports event this year. This form of drama has developed over the last two years and is most popular. Several Heads of House had to select teams from large squads. A very lively and fast-moving set of impromptu scenes (over one and a half hours) resulted in Wolsey House being crowned the well-deserved drama champions for 2015. Noake continued to dominate the House shout with a tremendous performance of the Bryan Adams' classic Summer of 69, also conducted in a new venue this year - the blue gym. Queenslea's rendition of Gloria Estefan's Turn the Beat Around saw them gain second place and We Built This City (Starship) by Hill was also of a very high quality. Our thanks to MLC for judging the event this year. Visual art pieces were also on display in the gym that day and this year's theme was House kites, based on Lucie McCann's newly-installed Art Works in the Art Department. Congratulations to Romsey for constructing a stunning kite which scored 50/60 points. In fact, only one point separated each House in this event. Overall winner of the performing arts was Romsey, finishing third in drama and fourth in House shout.

The House teams carnival this year took on a different look. Instead of one massive event where all Years 7 to 12 assembled at McGillivray Oval for a four-hour afternoon, we used Mount Claremont playing fields and had separate junior and senior carnivals in the same week. This proved to be very successful, with many of the senior boys also attending the junior afternoon, acting as coaches and organisers. In a sign of what would happen at the House Athletics Carnival, Hill dominated the teams' events and won easily. Every Hill boy was involved in at least one team event - a true indicator of House depth.

With the latter part of last year's House Athletics Carnival washed out by a storm, we also had some weather concerns for our day at AK Reserve this year. While it did rain at times, all events were completed and very good records set. It was a very close House competition, with five different Houses leading at different times during the five-hour program. Eventually Hill prevailed, but only in the last relay, beating a very strong Jupp. Jupp seem to be destined to dominate athletics in coming years with three separate age groups winning their competitions.

Hill, with 29 points, won the Beatty Cup for 2015. Congratulations.

For the first time there was a three-way tie for second place with Moyes, Romsey and Wolsey all scoring 24 points. 2016 should be an interesting year.

CONGRATULATIONS HILL - 2015 CHAMPIONS

Craigie

Coming off winning last year's Beatty Cup, I knew this year was going to be daunting, to say the least.

However, the constant support and friendship between boys, Prefects and Tutors alike has kept us light-hearted, wherever we placed.

2015 was the third year that Craigie House participated in the Parkerville Fun Run to raise money for Parkerville Children and Youth Care, which provides much-needed support for children and young people who have experienced trauma and abuse. This year, the participation rate soared, with significant funds raised for this deserving institution.

Whilst not on the leader board, success is not measured solely through rankings. In House Arts, from debating to public speaking and to chess, all the boys were excited and enthusiastic about competing against their peers. I think this really speaks volumes about the dedication and commitment of the House. After speaking with the boys working on House Drama and the kite mural, their devotion to the task was extremely encouraging, and, as with the House shout, I am sure everyone had a blast!

Finally, I would like to thank all the House Tutors for all their fantastic work behind the scenes - organising sporting and arts activities, meetings with other teachers, and dealing with stressed parents! I would also like to show my appreciation for our Head of House, Mr Luke Dwyer, who does a superb job of managing the boys and running the House so efficiently!

Hill - Champion House

Hill House set out in 2015 with high expectations and never looked back.

Mr Thorne, and a motivated and enthusiastic Prefect body, set their minds to winning the Beatty Cup and our team of Year 11 Peer Support Leaders did a marvellous job in preparing our excited Year 7 boys for life at Christ Church.

Before the school year had begun, many Hill boys volunteered to assist the Disabled Surfers Association of Western Australia at Leighton beach in North Fremantle. The day proved to be an extremely rewarding event. Witnessing the pure elation on the faces of the disabled surfers was a very touching and inspiring experience for many of the boys and it was great to be able to give something back to the community.

The first event on the Beatty Cup schedule was the House Swimming Carnival. Team mascot, Laurence Vanderhor, led our support team from the stands, providing motivation for our swimmers. Despite the best efforts, Hill could only manage a sixth place finish - a somewhat disappointing start to the Beatty Cup competition.

It was then on to House Arts. Our formidable debating team continued their recent form, and under the unwavering leadership of David Blayney, strolled to another victory in the House debating competition. Our debating team was complemented by a strong public speaking team. Spearheaded by Michael Lukin, they performed solidly and ended up placing second. Under the guidance of Ms Yordanoff, the Hill House kite was a success with many of the most creative minds combining to produce a majestic kite that was awarded third place. This strong overall performance culminated in the House being awarded the House Arts trophy.

The boys were pumped up heading into the much-anticipated team sports carnival and a rousing speech from Mr Thorne elevated the boys' excitement. Outstanding performances from Ben Edwards and Jonah Allen in the House football competition led Hill to a second place finish. Strong all-round contributions saw Hill maintain its dominance in cross country and other solid performances from Hill's soccer, handball and touch rugby teams saw the boys in orange come home with the team sports trophy.

Mrs Brooks challenged Hill singers to 'raise their game and not accept mediocrity' in the House shout. The theme of all-time classics piled the pressure on all Houses. However, the Hill team had been loosening their vocal chords since last year's disappointing result and were ready to take the competition by storm. The Hill team was handed a favourable draw with Starship's We Built This City. The boys led by Alex Chiaramonte delivered a rousing rendition of the song and came away with a third place finish.

In the House Athletics Competition we had high expectations of finishing in the top three. Going into the event the boys knew that if we could finish above Moyes and Romsey, we would win the Beatty Cup as the Champion House of the School. The day saw many impressive individual performances with Year 12 George Van Beem winning the Shirley Family Cup for open throws and Year 11 Jonah Allen winning the Bowers Cup for the U17 Champion Boy. These solid performances saw Hill House retain the Akos Kovak Shield as the Champion Athletics House.

The victory in athletics capped off an incredible year and meant that Hill won the Beatty Cup as the Champion House. This success was made possible by the hard-working Prefect body, and Head of House, Mr Peter Thorne, in instilling pride in achievement and by the support of an amazing group of Tutors. Finally, thanks to the boys of Hill House because without their inextinguishable spirit, the House would not have achieved what it did this year.

2015 was the beginning of a new era for Jupp boys.

No one was very sure what to expect as Jupp headed into a new year with an unfamiliar face in charge. However, expectations were made clear early and under the new leadership of Mr Todd Harnwell and the Tutors, Jupp thrived as we looked to improve on a slightly disappointing finish last year.

The first event of the year was the House swimming carnival, in which we have competed strongly for many years. Despite finishing 6th, the boys did the House proud by not only putting in 100 per cent effort in the pool, but through demonstrating tremendous House spirit in the stands.

We made a significant improvement in House Arts, placing highly in public speaking and debating, in which we finished second and third respectively. We were unlucky in chess - we finished fifth, despite losing only one round.

August gave the House a chance to participate in a short beach run to raise money for Redkite, a charity supporting young people with cancer and their families. Labelled the 'Jupp Jog' by Mr Harnwell, it was great to see over 100 runners turn out to support a worthy cause. We raised $3,925.00, with the highlight of the day being the whole House walking across the finish line with Jack Day (Year 8), who did the entire run on crutches.

Leading into House Athletics, Jupp was sitting in sixth place. With the aim of finishing in the top four, the boys knew that only our best performance would help us get there. Ultimately, we finished the day in second, narrowly missing out on victory. Special mention must go to Year 7 Joseph Rohr who won Champion Boy as well record breakers Noah Keleman (Year 8) and the Year 10 relay team, made up of Ben Baxter, Callum Lindsay, Jamie Miller and Adam Chaar.

With this result, we managed to finish fifth overall, behind three Houses that were placed equal second. I could not be more proud of the boys' efforts and their contributions throughout the year. I would like to acknowledge Mr Harnwell, Ms Shannon and all the Jupp Tutors for their efforts in supporting the boys this year, as well as the House Prefects for supporting me.

Thank you for an unforgettable five years and all the best in 2016.

Moyes

The Beatty Cup competition started strongly for Moyes, with a big win in the House Swimming.

We narrowly edged out Romsey in a tight race for first. This victory was relished by all, but none more so than Mr McPartland as it was his last event as Moyes' Head of House. Elation quickly turned to sadness as we farewelled him to Hale School. Whilst we missed his presence, this provided an opportunity for a new chapter to be written in Moyes' history - the Masterton era. New initiatives saw Moyes unite in its attempt to win a back-to-back Beatty Cup, however, a strong finish from Hill saw the prize slip through our fingers. We finished second, which is testament to the boys' effort in a year fraught with change.

This year also saw the start of a new House fundraiser for the Princess Margaret Hospital Foundation. In August the boys ran laps in a makeshift 'colour run' at Mt Claremont, with a large slip and slide, coloured water bombs, dodgeball and with many tutors drenched in water. The event was highly successful and will hopefully foster a connection with PMH and Moyes for many years to come. This marked the end of a great year and I wish all the best for the House as its new leaders continue to uphold the Moyes' spirit.

2015 has been a tremendous year in so many ways.

The year kicked off with the House Swimming Carnival with the boys giving their all both in the pool and the grandstands. The Noake chant led by Cameron Criddle, Harrison Bain and Monte Nathan was heard throughout Challenge Stadium and set the tone for the year ahead. A tight finish saw the Noake machine touch the wall in third.

Next on the agenda was the House Arts Competition and this gave the public speaking, debating and chess boys a chance to shine. Most impressive of all was the confidence and pride demonstrated by the undefeated public speaking team for the second year running. The Debating boys put in a solid effort coming in fifth, while the chess boys are looking forward to making amends in 2016.

Led by the victorious Crawford Egerton-Warburton, the junior boys put in a committed performance at the House cross country. The senior boys then followed suit.

Hopes were high as the Houses went to battle at the House Teams Carnival. Up first were the senior boys with all teams looking fierce and competitive. This set the tone for the junior boys who tried to match their valiant efforts. The Noake rugby juggernaut managed to go undefeated in both the senior and middle school competitions, while soccer finished fourth overall in a tight competition. Unfortunately, despite the noble efforts of football and handball, wins were hard to come by.

In the House Shout Competition, Noake's rendition of the Summer of 69 was awarded first place. The skillful Art boys and the construction team created what Noake considered a kite masterpiece - a view unfortunately not shared by the judges. Our star-studded drama team had to battle some tough challenges.

At the athletics carnival we gave it our all and were once again one of the loudest in the stands. Sadly this did not translate on the scoreboard. Riki Wylie was once again outstanding as the U/15 age group champion with Marc Boyatzis in third, while Victor Olowararan took out the TM Thompson Cup as the jumps champion.

The Noake relay marathon (our annual fundraiser supporting beyondblue) was an exceptionally well-supported event with great spirit on display.

I would like to take the time to acknowledge the efforts of the leaders of Noake who made the year run so smoothly, such as the Prefects and the Tutors of Noake. Mr Foster, our Head, continues to bring new leadership challenges and House spirit by incorporating the Noake Cup, our tutorial competition that sees all the boys taking part in challenges from telling jokes to sports tipping.

Finally, thank you to all the parents and guardians. You get us up in the morning, feed us, iron our clothes, make sure we get our work done and give us a good, stern talking to from time to time.

All in all, 2015 has been one of the most enjoyable years that I have experienced in my time in Noake. We may not have taken out that shiny silverware, but we sure had fun giving it our best shot. We continue to build our culture and all the boys should be congratulated on their efforts this year.

The 2015 plan to end Queenslea's recent disappointing results in the Beatty Cup competition over previous years began with the inter-house swimming carnival.

The first three races on the program gave Queenslea three wins and we were off to a promising start. Unfortunately, they proved to be the House's only wins for the evening and we started the year trailing our rivals, needing to dig deep to salvage our prospects for the year to come. Disappointed, but no less motivated, Queenslea House prepared strongly for the House Arts Competition and displayed excellent cerebral and oratory skills. Queenslea placed third in public speaking and second in Debating. Chess could not mirror these results and we found ourselves placed in eighth position at the conclusion of all the rounds. Next came House Drama and we were determined to retain the title won in 2014. Despite our best efforts, we placed equal fourth. Following this, we had the cultural competitions of the House Shout and the House kite design. Many boys put in hours of effort creating and constructing the kite, but unfortunately we had to settle for seventh place. In the House Shout competition, our hopes were elevated again and led by Ashan Weerasooriya, we placed second with a stirring rendition of Turn the Beat Around by Gloria Estefan.

The House Teams Carnival occurred over two days of competition and much Queenslea House spirit was on display.

We performed strongly in handball and had sound results in the other codes. The Beatty Cup competition for 2015 finished with the House Athletics Carnival in which strong performances across the day cemented a fourth position finish. The Queenslea boys enjoyed the long distance running of Asad Yusoff in which he comfortably won in his two pet events, the 800m and 1500m. Overall, Queenslea finished in equal seventh place and we can be suitably proud of the excellent attitude, teamwork and encouragement offered by all the boys in red this year.

As a House, we again supported the Make A Wish Foundation as our charity. We successfully raised just over $6 100 using the stairwell of Central Park Tower as our vehicle for collecting funds. This was also a terrific day for the Queenslea boys to support a worthy cause, showing great spirit and strength.

I would like to thank all the Queenslea House Tutors and Mr Gibson for their tireless efforts in looking after the boys in the House and organising the many events throughout the year. I wish the House the very best of fortunes in 2016.

Romsey

Yet another sensational year has passed for Romsey.

With a final overall standing of equal second in the Beatty Cup, along with a strong involvement in activities out of competition, the boys of Romsey have much of which to be proud. The philanthropy event this year raised over $7 000 for the Children's Leukaemia and Research Foundation, a truly mammoth effort. However, the efforts of three boys in particular must be noted. Nick Throssell (Year 11), Byron Hall and Jeremy Hopkins (both Year 12) swam through the night in a 24 hour relay, raising money and awareness for this fantastic cause. Head shaves, student swimming relays, a sausage sizzle and the annual sundowner wrapped up this momentous event.

Complementing this were strong results on the scoreboard including second in the swimming carnival, first in House Kite, third in Drama and fourth in House Shout. Special mention must go to Hunter Jackson and Jared Hee for conducting the choir, as well as Zack Bowles, Liam Shuttleworth, Joel Ross-Adjie, Harrison Shearn, Alexander Yu, Julius Yu, Paul Kikiros, Will Barrett and Gus McKenzie for their contribution to the House Kite.

No House runs smoothly and efficiently without capable people at the helm. A huge thank you must go to the Tutors and Prefects. A special mention also to our Head of House, Mr Alec Barbour, who will be stepping down this year after his decade-long stint at the helm. His devotion to the House will be sorely missed. We wish him all the very best for his new job as Head of Design and Technology.

Wolsey

Wolsey had a fabulous start to the year with a solid result in the House Swimming Carnival, displaying some fantastic swimming and a great House spirit.

Wolsey did very well in the House Arts competition this year, placing second in Chess, third in the mural and winning the House Drama Competition with some brilliant performances.

A highlight of the year for the Wolsey boys was the outstanding singing of Uptown Funk in the House Shout, led by Ms Head. Having the grooviest song of all the Houses really made the performance extremely enjoyable and included some great dance moves.

This was followed by the athletics carnival where Wolsey showed great spirit and determination and proved to be fearless, with some positive results across the board.

Changing the House fundraiser from the Wolsey Walk to a movie night proved to be a popular choice by Mr Phillips. A great turn out to watch Ant Man meant a fantastic amount of money was raised for Anglicare to be used to help the homeless people in the streets of Perth.

It has been an honour to lead the Wolsey Wolves in 2015 and on behalf of the Year 12s, I can safely say we will treasure our memories gained from being a part of a fantastic group of Wolsey boys across all years.

Walters Residential Community

Throughout 2015, Christ Church Grammar School's Boarding House was represented in a positive light with many members making significant contributions to the School.

The swimming carnival was the first opportunity for boys to show their individual ability within their respective Houses. Special mention must go to Jeremy Hopkins in Year 12 whose exceptional performance resulted in the title of Champion Boy within the Open Division.

Another event within the Boarding calendar was the annual Sunshine Beach Run which raises money for the SIDS and Kids Foundation. Defending the title as the School with the highest participation was a goal for the community and with 65 boys signing up for the charity event, we were once again crowned. Special mention goes to Ben Boulton in Year 10 who won the Junior 5 kilometre Division.

The Term 1 summer sport season was another opportunity for boarders to show their skill, with a number of boys competing in the First Basketball team. Special mention must go to the Third XI Cricket side, in which many of the Year 12 boarders opted to play. Through their hard-fought efforts, they contributed to winning the PSA Cricket Competition. Brodie Albert must also be commended on his contribution to the First Basketball side, winning the Most Valuable Player award as a Year 10.

Winter sport proved yet again to be the strength within the Boarding House with a large number of senior boys competing within their respective First sides.

Football was the main sport represented by the boarding house with upwards of ten boys competing in the First team. The much-anticipated return of Kenneth MacPherson in Year 12 to the rugby field after a successful knee reconstruction the previous season, was another positive factor. Ryan Wong (Year 12), was able to prove his dominance as a badminton player taking out the Best and Fairest in a successful season. Caiden Curtin (Year 12) must also be commended on his efforts as he made the State U18s Football side as a 16 year old, highlighting his talents on the field.

As the winter season came to an end, the Athletics Carnival approached and provided yet another opportunity for boarders to show their skill. Year 10 boy, Lewis Henry, won Champion Boy for his age group by showing blistering speed in both the 100 and 200 metres. Year 12 boarder, Rory Bett's efforts in the 6x50 metre relay must also be highlighted as he dominated the field in an exhibition of pure speed.

Congratulations to Clancy Adamson (Year 7), Liam Forrester (Year 10) and Anthony Tsang (Year 12) who received Significant Contribution to the Walters Residential Community Awards this year.

2015 proved to be yet another successful year within the Walters Residential Community and this is attributed to the staff members who assist in making the place run smoothly. Many thanks to all involved (Housemothers, Year Group Co-ordinators or the Health Centre led by Mrs Simpson).

SPORT

Aquatics - Swimming

The swim team had its usual early start to the season with many of the boys attending the 2015 aquatics tour to the Gold Coast.

It was a great trip with the convoy of boys travelling around Surfers Paradise, Brisbane and Byron Bay. It would not have been a tour without Bill Kirby's intense training sessions with all the boys getting pushed to their physical and mental limits every morning and afternoon. However, the boys were reaping the benefits after the team posted some quick times in the trials at the end of the tour.

Once back at school, we got down to business at the St Hilda's swim meet. As it was the first time trial for many of the boys, it set a benchmark for improvement for the rest of the season. The following week saw the Christ Church swimming pool hold the Valentine's swim meet, with the girls from Iona and MLC in fierce competition against the Year 12 Christ Church boys.

From week 2 onwards there was an increase in the number of boys attending training sessions which pleased head coach, Bill Kirby. This training regime set a strong foundation for an important season for the swim squad and we were looking forward to the Quads and the PSA championships. The competition and school enthusiasm demonstrated on the night of Tuesday 24 February provided all swimmers with an opportunity to get into the spirit and experience the energy of Christ Church House swimming. Moyes was triumphant at the end of the night, followed closely by Romsey and Noake. The night of the Quads swim meet between Christ Church, Trinity, Scotch and Wesley came soon after the School carnival. With a selected group of 120 boys, we marched into HBF stadium keen to retain the John Ryan Shield. In a tightly-fought night of racing, the Christ Church swim team was triumphant, being awarded the shield for the seventh consecutive year.

The night of the PSA swimming championship finally arrived. Christ Church finished third, missing out on second placing by half a point - the narrowest of margins. It was a fantastic season for the whole swim team with every boy giving it his all. A huge thank you to Mr Lynch, Mr Farmer and all the age group managers for making this enjoyable season run so smoothly.

Aquatics - Water Polo

At the start of this season, the water polo fraternity was shaken up by some major changes in the rules laid down by FINA Water Polo. The major rule change was reducing the number of field players from seven to six.

Term 4 gave all teams time to adapt to these new regulations and game styles. There was no break or holiday for the First Water Polo team as they undertook the gruelling torture that is Mr Scott Crystal's summer training camp. Comprising 6.00am starts and two hours of swimming, lifting weights in the water, wrestling and all round pain, it was fair to say the boys were glad to see the Christmas and New Year break.

January hit and it was time for the squad to head over to Queensland on the Aquatic tour. Whilst it was a fun trip, it also involved hard work with the boys attending swimming training sessions in the morning and water polo in the afternoons. The tour also gave the team an opportunity to test their skills against some of Queensland's finest teams like the national league Brisbane Barracudas.

The first fixture saw us face off against Guildford. The round saw all teams come away with a win. The next week saw the Firsts face off against the undefeated Christ Church Old Boys' team at UWA pool. It was a fiercely-fought match, but the Old Boys were once again triumphant, winning the game in the penalty shoot out. Week 3 saw a big fixture against Scotch. With a long history of the boys across the tracks, it was a highly-anticipated game. Through many unfavourable events and hard luck, the Firsts managed to rally, pulling off an outstanding win in the dying minutes of the game with the final score 12-11. It was one of the highlights of the season. Notable mentions go to Sam Dobney, Ollie Girdwood, George Van Beem and Callum Thomas. Our games against Wesley and Trinity were slow moving and had the boys toughing it out to win 10-6 and 13-11.

The Seconds had an outstanding start to the season with great performances from Sean Tudor, Jack Leaversuch, Rumi Bennett and Maneesh. Thirds and Fourths worked hard at training, improving their skills and managing some good games, narrowly losing to Scotch. Junior years were coached by Scott Crystal and Old Boy, Alex Brogan. The Middle School A team worked cohesively and came away with wins from every fixture but two. The B and C teams had a very successful season and came away with three wins and a bunch of fun memories.

The First team headed into the season as underdogs, but found themselves in the enviable position as the only undefeated team in the competition going into the final rounds. We only needed one win from the next two games to come away with the PSA championship. Unfortunately, we fell just short of gaining the Dickinson Shield. Next year ...

Athletics

The PSA Inters (Alcock Shield) is the strongest school-based athletics competition in Western Australia and as such, the competition is driven by the best school-aged athletes in the state.

The 2015 CCGS athletics team was made up of almost 150 athletes from Year 7 to Year 12 and was a mixture of experienced students who led by example, and younger boys who were experiencing the event for the first time.

A pre-season running program for some specific athletes commenced in June and focused on individual performance, technique, speed and endurance.

After training well in the months leading up to the meet, the boys approached the event held at the State Athletics Stadium, with a sense of excitement, along with the realisation that there was much work to do in order to close the gap on the other schools.

Final results:

- Scotch 1st
- Aquinas 2nd
- Trinity 3rd
- Hale 4th
- CCGS 5th
- Wesley 6th
- Guildford 7th

CCGS scored 1152 points in the 2014 competition. This is the most points scored by a CCGS athletics team in eight years and represents an increase of 96 points from 2013.

The team's fifth placing is the best result since 2008 and the overall performance of the team improved just over three per cent in total points scored since 2014.

There were many fine performances on the day. However, Riki Wylie (U15) was outstanding and was the highest individual point scorer with 68 points.

Riki's individual div 1 results from the 2015 Inters were:

- 1st in both U15 100m (11.7sec) + 200m (23.6sec)
- 2nd in U15 long jump (5.88m)
- 4th in U14 triple jump (11.64m)

Other div 1 winners on the day were:

Badminton

This year of Badminton proved to be a tough one, with high expectations following on from last year's undeniably strong team.

As a result of many Year 12s graduating, the Church baddy team was left with a shortage of players across all divisions.

Within no time, however, a rapid selection process saw six school teams finalised; Church Firsts with Mr Ly and Nick Kidd as our head coach, Mr Goh as coach for the Thirds and Fourths, and Ms Griffin-Appaddoo and Ms Zhang as coaches for the Fifts and Sixths.

The first PSA fixture was against the reigning champions, Wesley. With a state player in their side and many well-rounded players, this proved to be a tough first match. With many parents there to support the team, the boys went into the game with high spirits and sheer determination. The first hour, however, was full of sweat and tears, with all but one of us going down in straight sets. Notable mention must go to Tyler Hung, who managed to beat Wesley's number 6, proving his magic in three gruelling matches. Unfortunately, the end score was an 8-1 loss to Wesley.

Despite a shaky start to the season, following an extremely close 5-4 loss to Hale, the following few weeks saw the Firsts and Seconds bounce back, smashing Guildford 9-0, 9-0, and beating Trinity 5-4. Notable mentions must go to Leo Li and Mitch Kasten from Year 11, who both played very solid matches against their opponents, claiming a spot in the Firsts within the first few weeks.

With the fiery passion of Mr Ly and his experience as a WACE Badminton examiner, and having Nick Kidd, Australia's former number one, as our head coach, combined with the widespread talent from younger years, we ultimately achieved our team goal - to finish in third place.

The future of Christ Church Badminton seems promising, with upcoming powerhouses Leo Li and Mitch Kasten, and well-rounded Jeff Ge and Oscar Zhu, showing great improvement and solid skills across the board.

Basketball

Christ Church Basketball came fresh off a promising pre-season, with the Year 7, 8 and 9 teams looking to hammer out a solid season.

The junior teams were fantastic, with the A and B groups having near flawless starts.

The Year 10 group also provided a glimmer of hope for the future, as skilled prospects look to enter the senior teams in the upcoming years, spearheaded by Firsts' MVP Brodie Albert and 10A's gun Isaac Pang.

The senior teams had a tough season, with the Thirds, led by their MVP Gareth Shanthikumar, picking up two wins against solid Hale and Trinity squads. The Seconds had a relatively successful season, winning two games, including a thrilling one-point victory against Trinity College, with Duncan Marsh sealing the game with a clutch-free throw. Although the Firsts had a very difficult season, it did serve to provide the youthful team with invaluable experience that they can draw upon later in their Christ Church careers.

With only two Year 12s in the team, it was the end of an odyssey for Victor Oloworaran and me, capping off our school careers by passing the torch to younger players such as Gerry Ansey, Brodie Albert, and Zac Gattorna-Hargrave. Unfortunately, our opponents who were immensely talented (in particular Aquinas who had five state players) proved to be a challenge that we could not conquer. Although the Firsts did not pick up a win this season, the future is bright.

Cricket

Christ Church has enjoyed a successful and enjoyable season of cricket, with good results coming from all age groups and teams.

The 7As performed very well this season under the coaching of Mr Turner. Key performances from Rufus Zampatti and Ollie Higgins were vital to the team's success in their first year of senior CCGS cricket!

Our 8A side also played with fantastic team spirit and enjoyed a great season. Liam Haskett and James Pike stood out at many key fixtures.

The 9As have been the most improved cricket side in the School this year with many solid performances. Oscar Charlesworth and Marc Boyatzis were the top performers.

Under the coaching of ex-CCGS First XI Captain Mike Riddle, the 10As struggled but enjoyed a great win in which Will Bartley played a match-winning role.

The Third XI team was dominant all season, being very ruthless with bat and ball. Tim English and Alistair Draper were outstanding all season.

The Second XI enjoyed a mixed season with many ups and downs but overall were successful. With more consistency in the future, the Seconds could be a very dominant side.

The Firsts' initial fixture of the Darlot Cup was against Guildford. After a great performance with ball in hand, we backed it up with the bat to endure an emphatic victory. Brad Hope and Ishan Rambal starred with the bat, both notching up 50s. Unfortunately, we could not back up the same performance against Scotch. A fantastic performance against Wesley was to follow, with Brad Hope scoring an incredible 115 to help us bounce back from the previous game. The remainder of the season did not go to plan with a draw to Trinity and very narrow losses to Hale and a tight loss in the final fixture to Aquinas.

Christ Church cricket has much promise, with many talented and hard-working boys coming up the ranks.

Cross Country

The Christ Church Cross Country fraternity started the season with a revitalisation of the coaching staff (Mr Jacob Marai from rival school, Trinity College) and the introduction of a new home course.

The new course is acknowledged as being one of the most mentally and physically taxing the PSA has ever seen. Two laps (a total of 800m) of soft sand beach running and a hill so steep it earned itself a variety of colourful nicknames before the season had even started.

Christ Church struggled to maintain consistent form throughout the season, however the boys still managed to clinch some solid victories. Most memorable of these was the boys producing an absolutely clinical display of racing and managing to secure a win over Cup contenders, Trinity College. Christ Church finished equal fifth with Wesley College off the back of a strong display at the Ray Brown All-School's 8km race.

Special mention must go to Asad Yusoff, Jack Hawkesford, Jack Walton, Chris Fowler, Michael Lukin and Jack Davies for being consistently strong runners throughout the season. An enormous thank you must also go to coaches, Mrs Katy Brooks and Mr Jacob Marai, for their enthusiastic and continuous support and guidance throughout the season. The work they put in guiding us through this season was invaluable.

Football

Christ Church Football encountered a challenging season in 2015 with the PSA competition proving tough across all age groups. The Year 7 group managed to record wins against Wesley, Scotch and twice against Guildford, while being competitive in many of their other matches. Within the Year 8 competition, wins came against Wesley and Guildford, and a draw was recorded against Scotch.

The Year 9 season was disappointing with the team remaining 'winless' throughout. However, strong performances against Hale and Guildford early in the season revealed potential for the future. The Year 10s recorded wins against Wesley, Guildford and Scotch while suffering a close loss to Hale.

The First XVIII side struggled throughout the 2015 season. The first fixture against Wesley was highly-anticipated and although the team was edged out in the final quarter, there was some confidence that we could improve over the rest of the season. As we progressed further, losses against eventual Alcock Cup winners, Guildford and Hale, proved the strength of the 2015 competition.

The Indigenous round match against Scotch was disappointing as a strong performance led to the teams being even at three-quarter time, before Scotch came out eventual winners by 33 points. This was followed by losses to Trinity, Guildford and Hale in the following weeks.

The last three rounds provided an opportunity to salvage some ground, however both Aquinas and Scotch proved too strong and managed to beat us comfortably. The last round against Trinity (in horrible conditions) was the highlight of the season with our pressure and skills proving too good for Trinity. As the game progressed the lead went back and forth until a few mistakes at crucial times on our behalf allowed Trinity to capitalise and win by eight points.

I would like to thank our coaches throughout the season, Mr Dimmer, Ryan Turnbull and Andy Stone. Many thanks also to Mr McDonald and Ms Feldman for their contributions and efforts throughout the 2015 season.

Hockey

The hockey talent at Christ Church is a fast-growing and widely-spread feature of the fraternity. This is highlighted by the solid results from Year 7 to the First XI.

Year 7 through 10 show great promise for the future success of Christ Church hockey, all achieving respectable final placings, despite many boys being asked to step up into senior roles.

The seconds and thirds teams had a mixed bag of performances, having won, drawn and lost games this year.

The First XI started their pre-season with the task of replacing the boys who had left the School the previous year. This saw many younger men step into the team and perform exceptionally well.

The season was as eventful as any other, with some big wins and losses resulting in an overall position of fourth. This did not reflect the successes of the team, with over half our team consisting of Year 9 and 10 boys. The performances of these boys were exceptional and the fraternity is showing great promise for future years. As for the senior boys, they acted as mentors for the juniors as well as playing their best.

Notable mention must go to Noah Dillon, Jack Leaversuch, Max Evans and James Kordic who in their final year showed great spirit and determination to go out hard and win as many games as possible.

The team was lucky enough to be guided by hockey players of note, including Dominic Herd and Richard Charlesworth who worked under Brendan Noble's wing to produce an A grade side.

Rowing

The Christ Church rowing boys started pre-season training in August 2014, and after such a successful season the previous year, were set on nothing short of first place.

A vigorous training camp on Augusta's Blackwood River during the October holidays showed much improvement, and set the tone for the long season ahead. Unfortunately, crushing defeats at the Scotch 5km time trial sent all crews home knowing that the 2015 Head of the River would not be an easy win.

Improvement at the Guildford Regatta gave the boys more confidence going into the arduous summer training, but the First VIII, who didn't race due to injury, were still sourcing their motivation from the devastating loss two weeks previously. Boys from St Bede's College in New Zealand joined CCGS down on the Blackwood River for the first summer holiday training camp. They proved to be 'beatable', but pushed the crews on top of their game for the whole week.

Another year, another training camp - this time at Bayswater. Seat trialling confirmed some seats in crews and left some up for grabs, with fierce competition between the boys.

The start of the school year heralded the start of the racing season. Our first official regatta produced fantastic results across the whole of Year 9 and some mixed results in Year 10. The Thirds and Seconds showed major improvements and the Firsts had a first placing, leaving them in with a chance.

On Head of the River day, the Year 9s had decent results across the board which augers well for future senior seasons. The Year 10 races did not go as planned, but they stayed strong. The Thirds and Seconds both had the best races of their season with the latter managing to come away with a fantastic win. The Firsts were beaten by three well-deserving crews - all in a mere three-second gap.

Rugby

Rugby kicked off in Term 1 with a tough and gruelling pre-season. While nervously waiting for round 1, we were struck with a few blows. Firstly, a key player from last year, Alex Rose, was ruled out for the season, while Kenneth MacPherson and I were set to miss the first six rounds. We needed to rely on the upcoming guns to perform.

Round 1 loomed against Wesley. There was speculation that they would be the team to beat, and the Christ Church boys were up for the challenge. After a strong start, the half-time score was 14-12 to Wesley. Then disaster struck. We saw Angus Dickson-Collins and Jacob Marsh carted off to hospital. It was time for the boys to lift their game, but sadly the lift came from the other team. The final score was a win to Wesley, 29-12. Angus was then ruled out for the season which was devastating news. Knowing that we had finished in the top three for the past three years, this was not the year to stop that trend. Some tough games followed against Guildford, Hale, Scotch and Trinity with the boys only managing to win one game against Guildford. With the return of Kenneth MacPherson and myself, the boys started to find some form and had a convincing win over Aquinas, 42-12.

Our task was to back up this performance the following week in horrendous conditions, as we took on Wesley. The game was very close for the whole 60 minutes and with Callum Thomas scoring a hat trick, and me kicking a penalty goal after the siren, Christ Church won 30-29. We could not afford to lose any more fixtures if we were to have any hope of remaining in the top three. We then went on to win our next three games against Guildford, Aquinas and recorded our most treasured win of the season by beating Hale, 26-22. Up next was the highly-anticipated game against Scotch. There was a lot of banter heading into the game as both schools desperately wanted a win. The game kicked off with the Christ Church boys putting the pressure on, but unable to convert it to points. It seemed as though Scotch had a sniff of the try line, punishing us with points every time they were in their own half. Unfortunately, it was not the result we were after as Scotch came out victors, 29-12. Our last game of the season saw the boys face a well-drilled Trinity side. The Christ Church boys were able to handle the horrendous winter conditions and managed to win, 15 points to 12. Star performers for the First XV include Best and Fairest Callum Thomas, Kenneth MacPherson and Owain Chandler.

The Barbarians had a tough but enjoyable season with a star performance against Scotch. Special mention goes to Myles McQuillan, Patrick Johnston and Ddembe Kiberu.

Years 10s struggled with numbers but were outstanding each week. The highlight was seeing the lads get up over Trinity in their last game of the season. Outstanding players were Kacey Kirton, Maneesh Kelly and Charlie James after his return from a serious knee injury.

Year 9s had a sensational season and Christ Church rugby looks like it is in good hands. Star players were Riki Wylie, Harry Cranswick and Bailey Robinson, all of whom will be in contention for First XV selection next year.

Year 8s also had an outstanding year coached by Mr Miles. Star performers were Ted Rose and Timothy Parsons.

Year 7s had a wonderful season with many boys keen to get into rugby.

As a whole, Christ Church rugby has had a great season and with the First XV finishing in the top four, and many of the sides doing extremely well, we can only go from strength to strength.

Sailing

The 2015 sailing season kicked off with training in our first week back at school, in anticipation of defending the Western Australian Secondary Schools Teams Racing Championship for the third year in a row.

Twenty sailors enlisted in the teams racing squad, providing sufficient numbers to have three teams at the State Championships. The first term consisted of hard, long training to improve our boat-handling, boat speed and teams' racing skills. The coaches, old boys Sam Gilmour and Lachlan Gilmour, gave us great support and good pointers on how to improve our tactics and basically how to win.

The States came quickly and we felt prepared enough to enter three teams. Having the largest contingent in the competition clearly showed the depth of sailing at Christ Church. There were 17 schools competing, including our arch rivals, Scotch, in the untried waters off Point Walter Reserve - a first time venue for the competition. On the first day of the round robin competition, the A team went well with only one loss and the B and C teams found their feet and improved as the day progressed. The second day saw the C team doing really well, considering they were the youngest team in the competition, placing just in front of our B team. The A team had two losses on the second day as a result of some adverse manoeuvres. Christ Church A went into the final day in third place, behind Scotch A and B, who were sailing with confidence. Unfortunately, Christ Church B and C teams missed out on the finals, finishing tenth and eleventh, respectively. The last day of finals proved testing for the A team, failing to capitalise on their experience and losing firstly to John XXIII in the quarter finals, and then to Shenton College in the battle for third place. Scotch went on to win the State championship while Christ Church had to settle for fourth.

Overall, Christ Church had a young team and they competed to their best ability which augurs well for the future of sailing at the School. Thank you to the coaches, Sam and Lachlan Gilmour, and most of all our Head of Sailing, Mr McGillivray, for organising the sailing season and trainings.

Surfing

The Christ Church Surfing team performed well over the course of the year.

The PSA surfing titles at Scarborough beach was the first event on the calendar that had boys of all age groups excited at the prospect of taking on the other schools. Christ Church, having won the previous year, went into the water expecting another victory, but unfortunately poor waves saw them fall into third place behind Hale and Scotch. After a quick reality check, the lads were ready for the WA schools surfing titles at Trigg beach a few weeks later. Mr Hunn ordered the boys to practise before and after school, whenever the swell was up, as he was determined for a better result.

The conditions were again not ideal but Christ Church managed to push over the line into first place, thanks to consistent results over the day. Oliver Stewart and Tom Giudice won the junior short boarding whilst Mitch Yeo and Harry Cranswick came in second in the junior body boarding. The Christ Church Surfing team of 2015 had a great year with a few wins under its belt.

Soccer - PSA Champions

The Christ Church soccer program is the most highly-participative sport in the School, with loads of talent in each year group.

The Year 7 cohort had a great season with many positive results for teams who were playing together for the first time. The Year 8s showed much improvement from last year's results, however, the Year 9s struggled as they lost a few key players to the First XI. The Year 10s showed great promise, similarly losing players to the Firsts.

The senior ranks enjoyed a successful season. Notably, the Sixths won every game this season. The Seconds and Thirds had a mixed season with some important wins, but also some disappointing losses.

The First XI had high expectations, coming off winning the Lawe Davies Cup in 2014. With a very experienced side, as well as many younger boys, there was an expectant atmosphere amongst the team.

Having played well all season, a win against Trinity in our last fixture gave us a chance of retaining the Cup. A stunning performance, coming back from 2-1 down to win 3-2, proved to be a memorable ending for the Year 12s, some of whom had played First XI since Year 9. The following week Scotch and Trinity drew, resulting in Christ Church and Trinity sharing the Cup. A fairy-tale ending.

Many thanks to our Head Coach, Mark Lee, Mr Phillips and Mr Ristovsky.

Tennis - PSA Champions

Firsts Tennis started strongly after an off-season in which all boys competed in State tournaments.

The boys won against Guildford in spectacular fashion, not dropping a set in a 24-0 demolition. Next up was Scotch and with exceptional performances after the break (spurred on by a tight set win from Tim Gray), the boys came away with the victory 15-9. The following fixture against Wesley was another clinical team performance, with the final score line 23-1. The next week we were placed against Trinity, and after some slow starts the boys won 18-6. We were all nervous going into the fixture against Hale, but a comeback win by Christian Harding and a win by Louis Corker at number 1, buoyed the team to an impeccable 22-2 score line.

We then faced Aquinas (the other undefeated team), for the title, and after some inspiring words from Mr McPartland, we got off to a great start, leading 10-2 at the break. All boys performed exceptionally well in the second half, resulting in a 20-4 victory and sealing the Corr Cup for Christ Church for the second time in three years. Special thanks must go to Mr McPartland, who coached the Firsts team in both our wins. The Seconds team was also undefeated this season, with James Borshoff, Liam Donovan and Leo Li all putting in consistently strong performances to clinch the title. Special mention must also go to Year 7, 8 and 9 A teams who were all undefeated this season - indicating Christ Church Tennis is in good form for the future. Congratulations to all CCGS Tennis players this season and best of luck for next summer.

Volleyball

The 2015 Volleyball season began in late January when the First team commenced a week of training prior to a pre-season hit out with St Mark's Anglican School.

The game proved to be a useful exercise for the squad and for new coach, Stue Carr, who identified some key areas needing improvement.

The start of the school year saw the rest of the squad return to training. Last season, Mr Noble stated that this season needed to be a new start for Volleyball, a vehicle through which to improve the School's already strong sporting reputation. This initiative was strongly supported and within weeks the intensity and quality of training improved dramatically.

Round 1 saw all teams record wins against Guildford. A special mention must go to Seconds players, Alex Chiamonte and Sam Gurney.

Next, Christ Church Volleyball prepared for a series of highly-competitive derbies against old rivals, Scotch. It was a positive weekend for Christ Church with five of the eight teams recording wins, including another 3-0 win for the Seconds.

The First team fixture against Scotch was a topsy-turvy five-set thriller that eventually went our way after some incredibly tense moments.

All Christ Church volleyballers went into the next two fixtures against Wesley and Trinity (volleyball specialist schools), knowing that we would have to play our very best. The Wesley fixture was tough, with all teams losing apart from the Middle School B and C teams who deserve particular commendation. The Trinity fixture saw Christ Church win a pleasing three out of seven games, with a very solid performance from the Thirds who came out 3-0 winners.

In March, we fronted up against Hale. Middle school teams were particularly strong, with the A, B and C teams all winning three sets to love. The First team became the most successful team in Christ Church PSA volleyball history with a 3-0 win over Hale. This result provided the boys with a surge of confidence ahead of what was a difficult fixture against the powerhouse volleyball school, Aquinas. The game was an incredible spectacle. The strong support from the crowd and the belief within the group was key in providing the boys with the character to come back from a set down to win 3-1 in one of the biggest upsets in the history of the Brother-Carrigg Shield. A fantastic end to the Christ Church Volleyball season that saw the First team finish in equal second place. The highest finish ever!

Beyond Queenslea Drive

VIRGINIA, USA

St Christopher's School in Richmond, Virginia is a school much like ours. The school itself was very accommodating, providing me with many options of different classes and opportunities, such as running track, taking photography and philosophy classes, and learning with people of different ages. While I was considered a Year 9 or 10 in the US, all my classes were Year 11 or 12 courses, thus resulting in a more cultured and mature learning experience.

The family I stayed with was incredibly generous and I cannot thank them enough for their hospitality.

Harry Vijayasekaran

Montgomery Bell Academy

I went on a five week exchange to Nashville Tennessee in the USA. I attended Montgomery Bell Academy which is one of the top schools in the state. One thing I noticed was that American football is a pivotal part of their lives.

St Mark's School

St Mark's is a boarding school in Southborough, Massachusetts with a 150 year history of educating many influential and notable alumni, ranging from John Sculley, former president of Apple, to former astronaut Story Musgrave and the youngest prince of the Jordanian royal family, Prince Hashim bin Hussein. At the tail end of Term 3, I was afforded the opportunity to experience five weeks at St Mark's.

Life at St Mark's is markedly different from Christ Church, due to it being primarily a boarding school. St Mark's offered a wide variety of subjects, including courses from Ancient History to Literature and Music Studio, which I took full advantage of during my stay.

Some of the highlights of my trip included sightseeing in Boston with my exchange partner, David, as well as attending the TEDxStMark's presentation as part of the School's 150th anniversary celebrations.

Joseph Kuek

NEW ZEALAND

My trip to New Zealand for the international student exchange program was a trip to remember. For a whole term I attended an outdoor program which was both challenging and enjoyable. I made many friends in New Zealand and we all became best mates.

ENGLAND

Brighton College

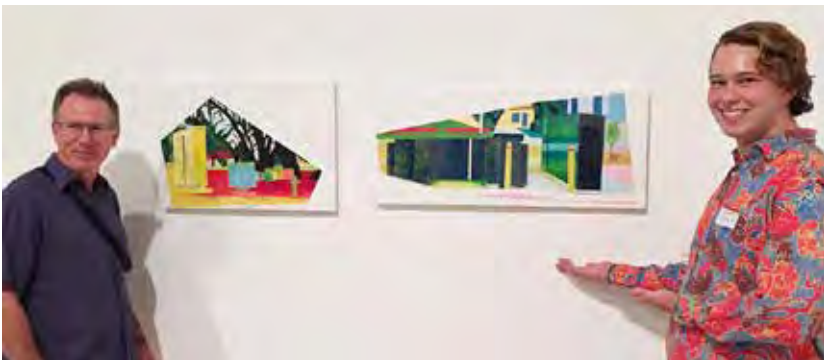

Christ Church Grammar School offered me and fellow student James Lloyd, a place at Brighton College, England in second term. For three weeks, I undertook school activities similar to those at Christ Church.

Brighton College is one of the best independent schools in the Brighton area. The most noticeable difference was that the School is co-educational rather than single sex. A common occurrence was that girls participated in boys' sporting teams which I found to be quite unusual. However, I also thought it was a great opportunity for boys and girls to collectively take part in their respective sporting codes.

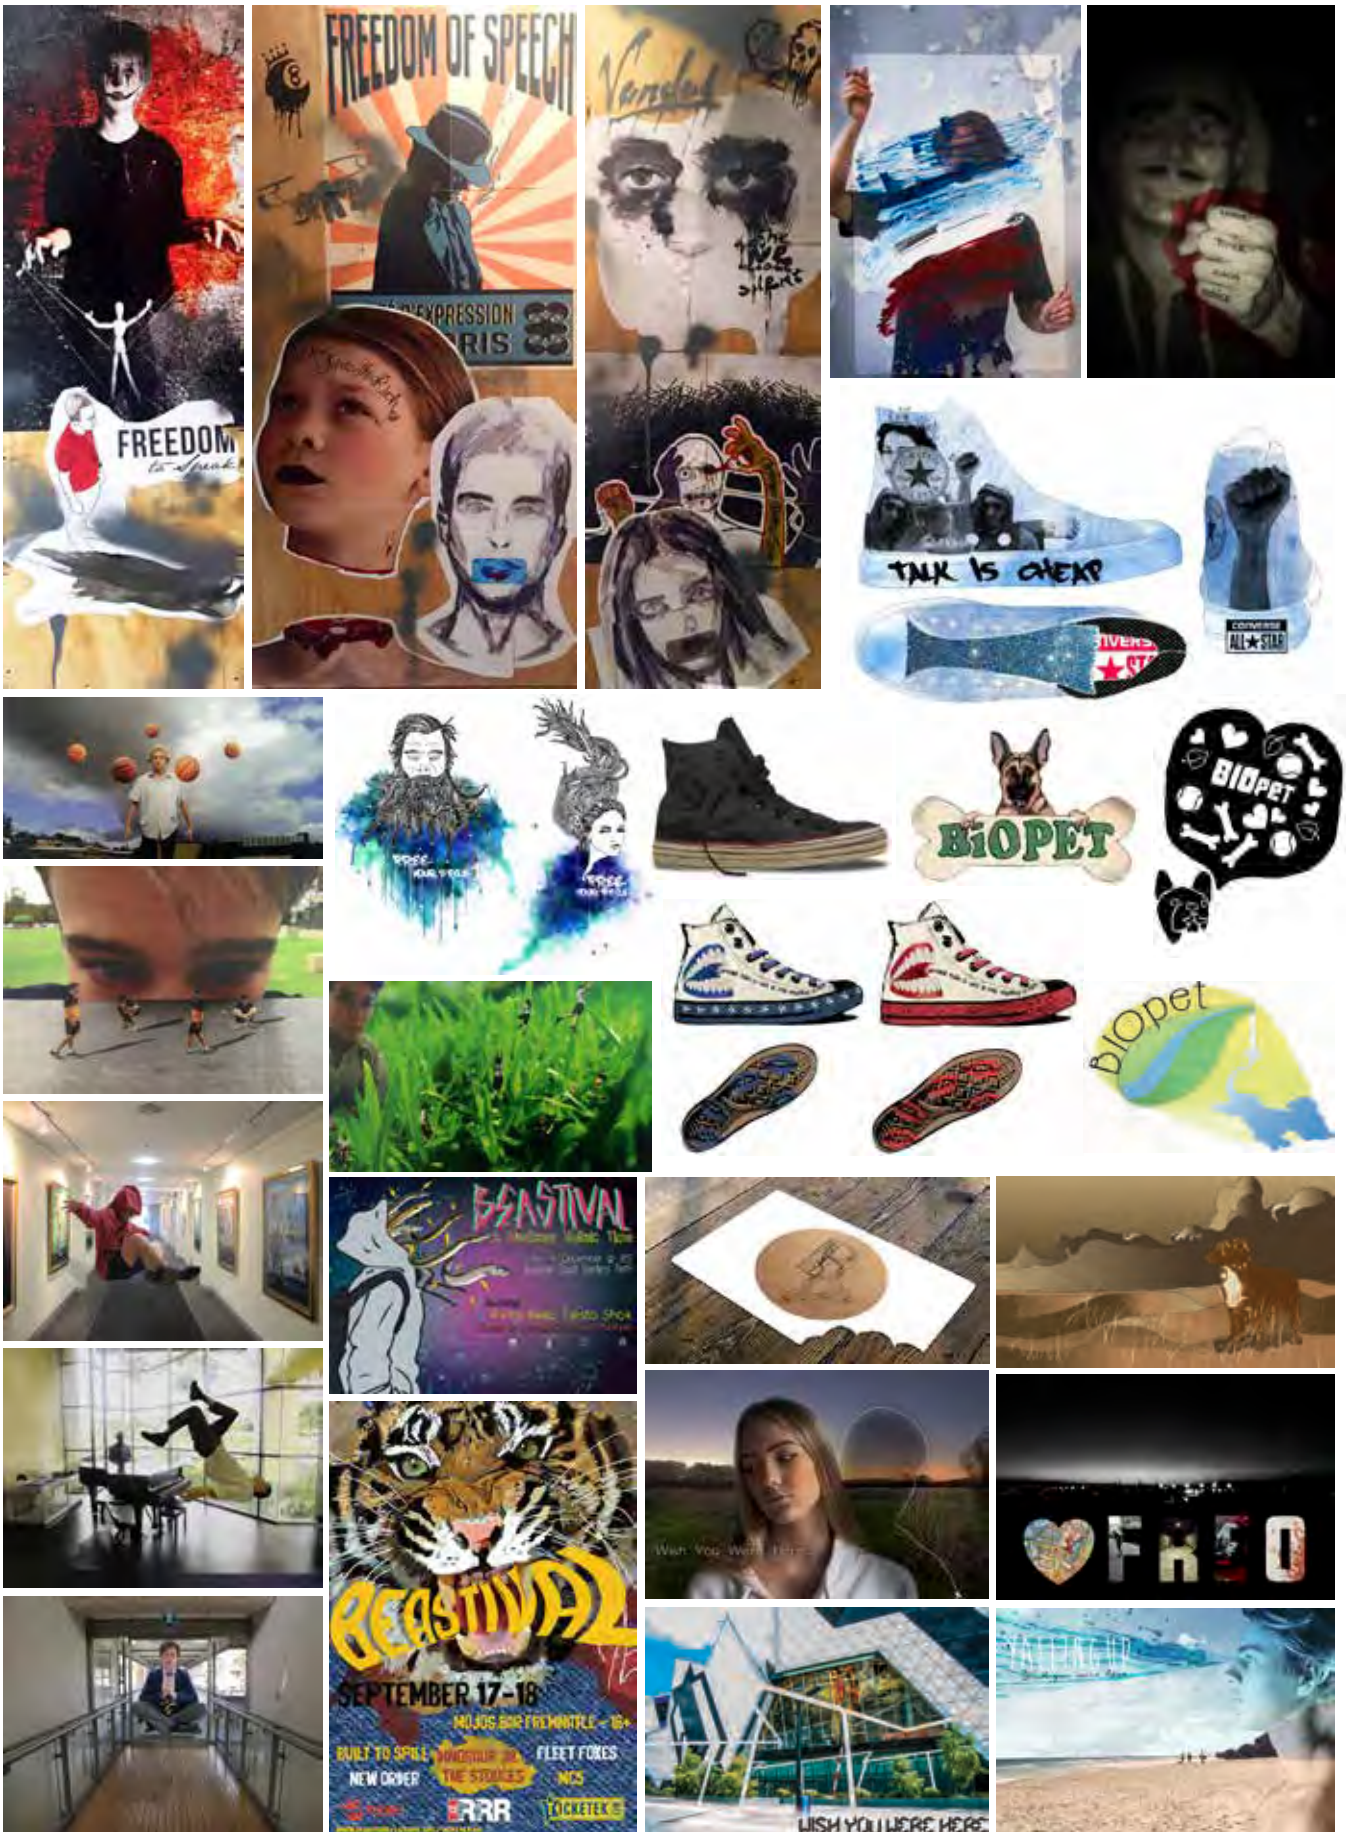

Many of the weekend activities with my host family were not standard hobbies we would do in Perth. They included clay pigeon shooting, which proved to be challenging but really good fun. Another was a visit to Heaver Castle. Whilst not as exciting as shooting, it was interesting to see where some of those Year 8 History lessons were based. Overall, I would rate the exchange 10 out of 10. It is a great opportunity to go beyond Christ Church and experience how different schools operate around the world and to make lifelong friends.

Boys' Health and Wellbeing

In 2015, Christ Church Grammar School established The Wynne Centre for Boys' Health and Wellbeing which focuses on influencing and inspiring a new generation of boys to make informed decisions regarding holistic good health and wellbeing.

It has been our intention this year to introduce the boys/young men to information, followed by wisdom to expand their paradigm or mission statements and introduce them to a life that includes good health, holistic wellbeing, joy and fulfillment.

The boys' knowledge and skills have continued to be developed this year through an enhanced personal and spiritual development program which is integrated in the curriculum from Pre-Primary to Year 10. This subject is complemented by the Physical Education program, as well as the wonderful pastoral program which is implemented across all year levels of the School.

The Wynne Centre for Boys' Health and Wellbeing continually aims to view each boy/young man across the School from the holistic perspective –physical, mental, emotional, spiritual health and wellbeing. This also includes a conscious awareness component.

Highlights for the year across the Health and Wellbeing space have included:

- Enhancing the tiered and age-specific program across the School which is holistic and evidence-based.
- Through the support of the Parents' Association we have been able to bring to Christ Church national and international guest presenters who offer leadership and expertise in the area of health and wellbeing - experts such as Michael Kimmell, Jon Doyle, Arne Rubinstein, Susan McLean and Donna Cross just to name a few.
- The health and wellbeing survey which was conducted in Term 4 to determine what is relevant to the Christ Church cohort, moving forward.

- The introduction of mindfulness meditation practice across the School.
- Introducing the Smiling Mind application on every student's iPad in the Senior School.
- Wellbeing 'lunch and learn' sessions for Year 12 students.
- Year 9 father/son camp at Kooringal.
- The Keys for Life program.
- Development of stress management and positive mindset posters for the students and wider community.

Drama

The 2015 season started strongly with the tour to Europe and the production of Hoods, directed by Kalika Duck.

We performed five shows in Europe and two in Perth. The bar was thus set high but this did not discourage the actors in the Year 9/10 drama, Teechers, an hilarious and successful production directed by Nicky Garside. A high standard was achieved by all involved.

Following this we had the ensemble production of Assassins. Made up of talented 18 to 25 year olds and directed by Gregory Jones, it produced high quality singing and acting. This was followed by the senior production for the year, Cloudstreet, once again directed by Gregory Jones. Performed in the State Theatre, it was an outstanding performance, showing off some of the best talent Midnite has to offer. After this was the Year 6 production of Dirty Beasts directed by Anna Brockway. The experience provided a great deal of fun and the talent showed much promise for the future of drama.

The final play for the year, directed by Kalika Duck, was the Year 7/8 production of The Jungle Play, with a highly creative set and original costume design. Overall, it has been another successful year for Drama and The Midnite Youth Theatre Company.

Teechers

At the end of the 2014 school year, The Midnite Youth Theatre Company commenced auditions for the fun-for-all show, Teechers, written by John Godber. Over 100 boys and some girls from MLC and St Hilda's auditioned for the many roles on offer.

The play addresses the social issues of education equality within the English public and private school systems. The play also narrates the journey of the four protagonists and their Drama teacher during their last year of school.

Rehearsals started on the Sunday before the first day of the new school year. The cast had its first read through which really gave us a good understanding of the background of the production. With countless hours put in to make the show successful and under the direction of the amazing Mrs Nicky Garside, we were able to produce outstanding performances over four nights – from 29 April to 2 May. After the final performance, we were all quite sad because this meant the end of the family that we had created during those short weeks.

Year 10

Drama

Cloudstreet

The Midnite Youth Theatre Company performed Cloudstreet at the Studio Underground at the State Theatre in August 2015 for four sold-out shows. It was a bold production of an iconic work, made the more daunting as the book's author, Tim Winton, was in the audience on opening night.

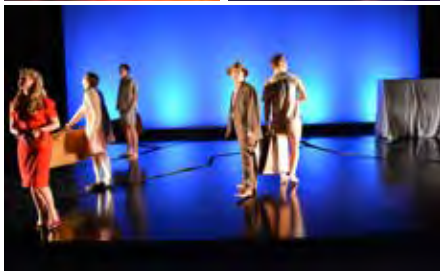

Gregory Jones was the Director, his skill and encouragement making the show come together and ensuring that each performance was dynamic and polished. The costumes were superbly designed and made by Jay Waugh, who paid fine attention to the detail of the 20 year time-frame over which the play is set. Tess Reuvers was the production manager and oversaw the backstage elements of lighting, sounds and props and brought them all together. Tom McClure (Year 12) was the stage manager and ensured that backstage ran smoothly. The cleverly-constructed set was designed by Patrick Howe. The stage was marked out as the Swan River, which plays a constant role in the story. Nowar Koning (Year 11) was outstanding on the keyboard; his compositions fitted beautifully into the story.

The cast comprised students from Christ Church, St Hilda's, MLC and PLC. The acting was outstanding and it was evident that much work had gone into the rehearsals which, even when edited for a school performance, ran to three acts and two intervals. Maggie MacEvilly as Rose Pickles, Kael McGrechen as Fish Lamb and Nicholas Warrant as Lester Lamb won Leo Awards for their performances in Cloudstreet whilst Cassidy Dunn as Dolly Pickles won the Tim Willoughby Award for Outstanding Performance.

This production was a fantastic opportunity for all involved to perform at the State Theatre complex. Thank you to all the staff who helped us to enjoy and to learn so much when putting on this complex and stunning play.

The Jungle Play

The Jungle Play was the performance that demanded everything – time, patience, creativity and imagination. Hours were invested by crew members, staff and actors preparing and rehearsing.

Nerves were high on opening night and fortunately everything went to plan. There were very few mistakes, the wobbly net held and we all remembered our cues. It was extremely memorable, especially for me - my first performance in my first play. We were ecstatic at how well it was going. The following nights were a blur of colour, light and music. We had all calmed down and gradually improved, getting more and more used to the mixture of the audience, the stage and our amazing costumes. On the final night we gave it our hearts and souls and it was by far our best performance. There were no mistakes and instead of it being a repetition of the previous nights, it became something more. It became a whole for me.

Shane Macdonald
Year 7

Computer Science

2015 saw the introduction of digital thinking into the curriculum, giving all students in Year 7 and 8 the opportunity to learn important computing skills. The course has been an exciting mix of website creation and coding with the boys being given the chance to create their own games using Scratch. This is a fun drag-and-drop interface that allows them to learn the basic skills required to successfully build a program without the need to worry about the syntax. The feedback from the boys has been extremely positive and it has been really exciting to see them learn about coding and most importantly having fun.

Our elective courses in Years 9 and 10 have continued to evolve as our boys develop their skills and are given opportunities not available anywhere else. Years 11 and 12 continue to offer a pathway through to the WACE examinations, with the practical projects being complemented by the theoretical skills necessary to succeed in a technology-based world. Some of the exciting projects that the boys have worked on this year include:

- Exploring artificial intelligence using robotics
- Developing interactive websites and games using Javascript
- Learning the Python programming language by drawing images using Turtle
- Making games using Scratch
- Building and maintaining small networks
- Designing and creating database systems

- Competing in the NCSS challenge – a national programming competition designed to develop the programming skills of all participants, from beginners to advanced.

Outside the classroom there have been some equally exciting developments. For the first time we held a number of Year 8 coding camps at Koorinal. A select group of our Year 8 boys were joined by a group of girls from St Hilda's for a weekend retreat of intensive coding in the beautiful surrounds of Koorinal. This was a huge success with all the students having a great time and clamouring for more.

Throughout the year a number of boys have been meeting regularly at lunchtimes with Mr Honnens and ex-student Thomas Drake-Brockman for Informatics training. This training culminated in the Australian Informatics Olympiad (AIO) competition towards the end of Term 3. Informatics is the study of the structure and behaviour of systems, and in particular using computational thinking to solve complex problems. The AIO is a high level programming competition that focuses on a student's ability to solve complex problems about systems by applying their knowledge of algorithms and programming. Our boys performed remarkably well, with 22 of the 34 boys competing receiving an award. In all, 15 boys received bronze awards, five boys received silver awards and two received gold awards. The highlight of the competition was having five boys invited to attend the AIO School of Excellence, a ten-day intensive training camp held in Canberra, open to the top 25 students in Australia – a remarkable 20 per cent of the invitees being from Christ Church. These students are Devin He, Jason Chu, Lumina Gajanayake, Gilbert Porter and William Hu.

Overall, it has been an excellent year for Computer Science and we look forward to building upon these successes in the future.

Design and Technology

2015 proved to be a milestone year in Design and Technology.

Not only have we been witness to an amazing array of student work, as illustrated in the accompanying images from the Annual Design and Technology Exhibition, but we have had students achieve amazing success in competitions conducted at State and National level, namely:

Francis Burt (Year 9) - CO2 Dragster State Championships Cat B (CAD/CAM) – 1st

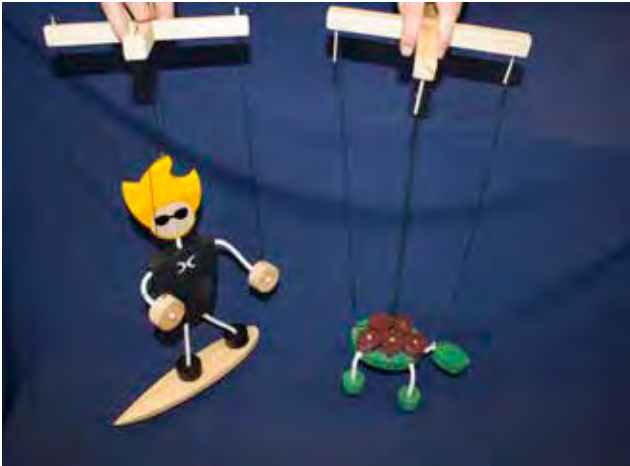

Makz Alexander (Year 9) – CO2 Dragster National Championships Cat B - 2nd

Hector Morlet/Jason Chu - Young ICT Explorers WA (Year 11/12 Cat) - 1st

English

The English Department once again celebrated strong performances in Stage 3 English and Literature.

The average mark for students in English was further above the state average than it has been since 2011 and a pleasing number of students achieved a mark in excess of 80 per cent. In Literature, Richard Tien achieved a final combined score of 100 per cent, earning himself a Certificate of Distinction and a number of boys achieved final marks of over 90 per cent.

This year saw the new Year 11 ATAR Literature course and the ATAR and General courses in English running for the first time and teachers and boys have all reported on their enjoyment and positive engagement with the new programs. We look forward to rolling out the Year 12 ATAR programs in 2016 and considerable planning has already been undertaken. English as an Additional Language also returned to the jurisdiction of the English Department this year and we look forward to developing the curriculum in this area in 2016.

The inaugural English Festival Day took place in Term 1 and it was lovely to see so many boys engaging in a range of lunchtime events. Students were given the opportunity to view readings and performances from a number of teaching staff from a variety of subject areas, as well as being treated to watching rousing debates and passionate poetry performances. The latter exposed the dramatic and poetic talents of a number of English teachers and upper school boys as well as giving the boys the opportunity to witness professional performance poets in action. Novelists Craig Silvey and AJ Betts, also ran lectures and workshops with boys in their English classes and the Library filled the L Block quadrangle with a range of stalls and interactive activities. Next year, the English festival will run for a week in Term 2 around the time of the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's death and plans are already underway. The department would like to thank Lia De Sousa and her team, particularly Luke Milton, for their assistance. Thanks must also go to Teresa Scott and the Centre for Ethics for their support.

We were joined this year by Mrs Gabrielle Williams who took on Dr Lorraine O'Brien's timetable when she went on long-term sick leave. We are delighted to say that Dr O'Brien will return to the department next year and that Mrs Williams will also be staying at the School. In the interim between Mrs Williams' appointment and Dr O'Brien's departure, Mrs Vita West joined the English Department and we are indebted to her for her flexibility and commitment. In Term 4 we also congratulated Ms Claudia Feldman on her marriage.

It is a privilege, as Head of English, to lead such a strong team of committed, diligent and knowledgeable teachers who have the boys' interests firmly at the heart of all that they do. We look forward to 2016 with confidence.

The diverse nature of subjects and rich experiences offered within the Humanities learning area affords many highlights and successes every year.

Academic successes

The class of 2014 yielded some excellent results, with Year 12 students studying Humanities subjects being recognised as among the highest achievers in WA across all Humanities subjects.

Of particular note was the awarding of Certificates of Distinction to students in Economics and Philosophy and Ethics. This School Curriculum and Standards Authority (SCSA) certificate is awarded to students achieving in the top 0.5 per cent across Western Australia. We congratulate Benjamin Bartley, Charles Moorman and Richard Tien on their Certificates of Distinction in Economics, and Hugo Hardisty for his Certificate of Distinction in Philosophy and Ethics.

Global Perspectives is a Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) course. Students may wish to study this subject as a Year 10 elective. This is part of the international GCSE qualification. In January 2015, the School was notified by CIE that it had awarded 15 out of 22 students in the 2014 Global Perspectives class high A grades.

Extra-curricular

The Year 10 Investing and Enterprise elective enters students in the annual 'Plan your own enterprise' competition, which is sponsored by CPA Australia. Students engage in 21st century learning and develop skills, such as communication and enterprise, through the preparation of an original business plan.

This year, Jonathan Nagappa was the state and national winner of this competition for his idea to use drone technology to monitor beaches for sharks. Jonathan received prize money of $2500, which he may use to pursue his idea as a viable business. In addition, James Hosking and Christian Harding were awarded equal second place in the Western Australian competition.

Students from Year 10, 11 and 12 participate in the University of New South Wales Business and Economics competitions. Additionally, we congratulate the following students for being awarded Certificates of Distinction, which place them in the top 0.5 per cent nationally: Daniel Pelkowitz, Stefano Tudor, Nicholas Pizzino, Alexander Shearer and John Wu.

The Australia Geography competition continued to produce strong results for our students. Seventy High Distinctions, 60 Distinctions and 41 Credit Certificates were awarded, with three students achieving among the highest in Australia: David Chen achieved within the top five per cent; Felix Wood achieved in the top four per cent; Alexander Lindsay achieved among the top three per cent.

Other highlights included opportunities where Year 10 students were selected for personal and leadership development experiences:

- Western Australian Youth Parliament provides students with the opportunity to learn about parliamentary processes. Jacob Dorsett-Sawyer was selected to represent the seat of Cottesloe in this year's Youth Parliament.
- Keaton Wright was selected for the Sir Charles Court Young Leaders program based on his academic ability, leadership potential and interest in helping the wider community.

Humanities

- Maneesh Kelly was selected to represent Christ Church Grammar School in this year's Youth Civics Leadership day.

All Year 10 students completed the Global Capacities Aptitude Assessment (GCAA) in their Humanities classes. This assessment measures personal traits and attitudes of global competence. When benchmarked against other schools internationally, our Year 10 students scored substantially above the international norms.

The Simpson Prize is a national competition for Year 9 and 10 students that focuses on the significance of Anzac Day. Of the students who entered this competition, William Hu and Matthew Hamdorf were selected as Western Australian finalists for this prestigious award.

Incursions and Excursions

As part of a local area study, Year 7 students spent time at the Freshwater Bay Museum, where they gained an historical insight into life in the olden days. Students had the opportunity to participate in a range of experiences such as attending a 19th century school, including being taught and disciplined in the style of schooling of that era.

Year 8 students also complete a local area study. This task focuses on investigating the change over time of Claremont, focused on Bayview Terrace. Students have a hands-on experience designing a survey that they administer to people in the precincts. They also sketch specific landmarks in the local area and compare these with photos from a different era.

This was the first year that the Humanities learning area organised a global citizenship incursion for all Year 8 students. This incursion was run by an external organisation, High Resolve, and enabled students to explore their own personal identities.

Geography continues to keep fieldwork at its core. Year 9 students study world biomes at Perth, Year 10 students study coastal processes and management from Port Coogee to Cottesloe, a new excursion for Year 11 ATAR Geography to Swan Valley to study the geography of wine, and Year 12 students study the urban characteristics, processes and problems of the Perth metropolitan area.

The Year 9 Perth Perspectives excursion has become an annual highlight to cap off the year. Students spend a day each exploring various landmarks and experiences in Perth and Fremantle. The ringing of the bells of St Martin-in-the-Fields, housed in the Perth Bell Tower, continue to be a highlight.

Chief Justice Wayne Martin, CCGS class of 1969, provided our Year 11 Politics and Law students with a very personal insight into his role as Chief Justice, and his role within the Australian legal system.

The topic of the International Boys' Schools Coalition (IBSC) 2015/16 action research project is boys as global citizens. This year's Year 11 Accounting and Finance students participated in the action research that examined the effectiveness of game-based learning in teaching boys about good corporate global citizenship. The findings of this research will be published in a report on the IBSC website. Additionally, the findings will be presented at an international conference in Vancouver in 2016.

Year 12 Economics and Politics and Law students attended a federal budget breakfast, which was hosted by Price Waterhouse Coopers. At this event, students listened to John Howard's (former Prime Minister) analysis of the issues reflected in the current year's federal budget.

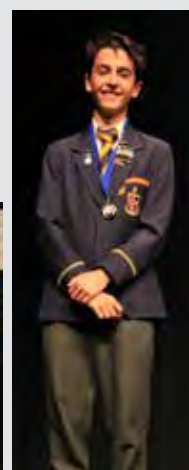

Mr Les Goh
Head of Humanities

PHILOSOPHY AND ETHICS

The year began positively with news our Year 12 cohort from 2014 performed admirably once again in the WACE examinations. Special mention must go to Hugo Hardisty who won a Certificate of Distinction for achieving runner up in the state. As usual, we proudly took our place in the table listing schools with the highest performing Philosophy and Ethics students in Western Australia. 2015 witnessed the introduction of the ATAR course of study for Year 11 students and lively philosophical discussion has ensued in all senior classes.

Dominic Hodnett
Head of Philosophy

Indigenous Program

At the start of Term 1 we were fortunate enough to attend the Indigenous All-Star vs West Coast Eagles game at Leederville Oval.

It was a fantastic way for us to bond as a group and witness what many of the boys aspire to be. After the game, Mr Luke Farmer was able to pull some strings and get us access to the players' change rooms. This was undoubtedly the highlight of the night as the boys were able to meet and have photos with their idols. Meeting Australian of the Year, Adam Goodes, is something I will never forget.

Future Footprints is an organisation that provides support to schools that have Indigenous programs around the state. At the start of each year, a student council is elected that meets once a term to discuss matters that young Indigenous students face schooling in the city. The student council also plans social events to ease homesickness and associated issues. This year we had two representatives, Gerry Ansey and Will Fong. I am extremely proud that Gerry was nominated as chairperson of the council.

In May, we hosted Scotch College in the PSA Indigenous round. This was the second time we had held the event and was a fitting recognition of the contribution of Indigenous athletes to the sport over many years. The boys wore special jumpers designed by Year 12 student and First XVIII player, Calen Simpson-Lewis. Local Noongar Elder, Len Collard, conducted the Welcome to Country and spoke about the Mt Claremont region and its strong Aboriginal connection. In what was a hard-fought battle, we were defeated by Scotch College.

The end of Term 2 saw us celebrate NAIDOC Week and again it was a huge success. As always the highlight was the Art exhibition. This year the exhibition was entitled Sitting on Sacred Ground and the students' art was displayed on recycled deck chairs. It was a particularly special event as we also launched our Reconciliation Action Plan and had our first Indigenous scholar, Irwin Lewis, in attendance. Irwin is an acknowledged artist in his own right and it was an honour to be able to display some of the boys' work alongside Irwin's artwork. Also in attendance were Lochie Cooke, former CEO of ICEA and the Hon Fred Chaney AO from Reconciliation Australia.

Finally, we said goodbye to five graduating Year 12s. This is the largest group of Indigenous graduates the School has ever had and I am extremely proud of what they have achieved. Some have overcome great adversity to get to this stage in their life and their futures are looking bright. Congratulations to Calen Simpson-Lewis, Caiden Curtin, Kuberan Muir, Kura Shioji and Thomas Nickels.

With three new students entering the program next year and the development of a cultural room, there is much to look forward to in 2016.

Chris Miles
Indigenous Program Co-ordinator

Library

Like a mouthful of popping candy, the Senior Library was abuzz with excitement and energy in 2015.

This year we provided a range of fun activities, competitions and events catering for all students in the School, in addition to our academic programs and resourcing.

The year was off to a great start with the English Festival, jointly organised by the Senior Library and the English Department. Activity stalls included screen-printing a Library bag with an original design, badge-making and collecting a limited edition Author Wars card packs (with hidden special Gold and Silver cards).

Term 1 saw the return of the popular Library Prediction Competition. As we had so much success with the Soccer World Cup Prediction Competition in 2014, we knew we just had to do it again. The ICC World Cup Prediction Competition ran for most of Term 1.

We (and the boys) love competitions in the Library so we kept them coming. In Term 3 boys tried out their detective skills with the Murder in the Library competition. This was a tie-in with the Year 7 Crime Fiction English Unit. For two weeks, clues and suspects revealed in the Library Blog allowed the boys to solve the murder of the Library's mannequin, Charlie.

We are very fortunate in the Senior Library to host visiting authors and illustrators. This year local author, AJ Betts, was our writer-in-residence in Term 2. AJ (Amanda) ran writing workshops with Year 7s, 8s and 9s, providing both insights into the writing process, as well as tips for budding authors.

In Term 3 we hosted local illustrator James Foley for a day, who ran 'how to draw comics' workshops with Year 7s and 'visual literacy' sessions with Year 8s and 9s. James is a warm and talented person who shared his extensive knowledge in a fun and relaxed manner.

Arguably the activity that generated the most buzz this year was the Minecraft Book World Project, run by Mr Luke Milton. The project began in Term 2 and over the course of a term and a half, 50 boys from Years 7 to 11 worked together to transform a flat landscape into a vibrant digital world that celebrated the 2015 theme Books Light up our World. Boys recreated scenes, settings or characters from their favourite books using the Minecraft platform and their imagination. Their amazing creations were unveiled at a special launch during Book Week.

Term 3 saw the unlikely pairing of Science and Rock, thanks to an odd coincidence in which the ever-popular House Shout competition shared the spotlight with Science Week. To celebrate, the Senior Library ran a Rock-o-Meter competition where the boys voted for the Houses they thought would finish in the top three. Although Wolsey proved to be the crowd favourite with a huge amount of votes prior to the big day, Noake took out first place.

Students also had the opportunity to get creative by designing and building their own guitar. These were then hooked up to a Makey set, which uses conductivity and electricity to power any object, turning their handmade guitars into controllers for a Guitar Hero play-off.

The Library Long Lunch has become something of an institution and both lunches held this year were again very popular. Term 2's lunch was open invitation with the pleasure of AJ Betts' company. In the second half of the year the Library tried something different, hosting a Seniors' Lunch for Years 10 to 12. This was an opportunity for older students to provide us with feedback and ideas.

In 2015 the Senior Library also added a Manga collection which proved immediately popular, especially with the Year 7s. The Library Blog also had a revamp and continues to be an excellent source of information for anything Library related, and includes reviews, reading profiles and new book releases.

It was a busy but very rewarding year in the Senior Library. We can't wait to do it all again in 2016, with even more activities and events planned. Thank you to all the students who were involved in our many projects throughout this year.

Lia de Sousa
Head of Senior Library

Languages

Chinese exchange

In Term 3, we hosted eight Year 8 students from the Huijia School in Beijing.

Japanese exchange

In August Mr Garth Wynne hosted a welcome party for the students from our Japanese exchange to Hotoku Gakuen in 2014. We also welcomed students who were participating in the Beyond Queenslea Drive program.

Language assistants and Japanese Club

2015 was also the first year that we enjoyed having a full-time Chinese assistant, Jason Zhao, who arrived in July and was soon joined by Tarek Bouamoud, our first German assistant who is also fluent in French. Thanks to the efforts and energy of our Japanese assistant, Naoto Ishida, and supported by some keen upper school students, notably Stewart Borle and Yunosuke Shiraishi, we began a lunchtime Japanese Club on Tuesday. Students met to improve their Japanese conversation, play some Japanese games, learn more about the culture and enjoy a taste of delicious Japanese cuisine.

Linguistics Olympiad

In February we had a record number of students participate in the OzClo Olympiad, a WA linguistics competition held online across the state. We entered six teams of Year 9s and Year 10s who underwent training at UWA to become competition-ready. The results were very pleasing, with gold, silver and bronze medals awarded.

Our gold medalists were Amitabh Jeganathan, Henry Pemberton, Lachlan Zhou, Oliver Terry, William Hu, Albert Smith, Harry Playford and Lachlan Woodall.

French film festival

In April, as part of their studies on French film, Madame Rosinel took a group of Year 12s to see the film Samba, screened as part of the Alliance Française French Film Festival.

East-West Day

May was a busy month for the Languages Department. We had our Year 9 East-West Day in which students enjoyed the opportunity to try different cultural workshops including French country dancing with batons, Chinese and Japanese martial arts, German table football and schuhplattler dancing, Chinese dragon dancing, Japanese calligraphy and origami. The Subiaco Pétanque Club came to demonstrate world-class play and share their tips for success. At lunchtime, the whole school was entertained with demonstrations of dancing and martial arts as well as Crepes de Paris showing us how to make a variety of French pancakes.

Language Perfect World Championships

For 10 days in May, the students were obsessed with their iPads in a frenzied bid to do well in the International Language Perfect competition. Akinwale Ayonrinde, Ashley Porter, Philip Pine and Liam Bong received gold awards for their efforts. Over 500 boys in the Prep and Senior Schools took part. Christ Church did very well and the results were as follows:

- 1st for Chinese in WA out of 83 schools
- 1st in WA for the 501 to 1000-student category out of 16 schools
- 2nd for French in WA out of 93 schools
- 3rd overall in WA out of 106 schools
- 8th overall globally in Chinese out of 788 schools

French café visit

In July, a few beginner French students practised buying French food and then enjoyed a practical excursion with Madame Gerber to Marie-Antoinette's Café to try out their French and order breakfast.

Year 8 – 'Why we learn French' forum

Over one hundred Year 8 French language students participated in an excursion to Quinns Rock Baptist School to join other students from across the state for the 'Why we learn French' forum. Apart from delicious French pastries, the students were all given a French goodie bag and had the opportunity to listen to a number of speakers about the importance of learning French. Craig Smart, the television news reporter, was the guest speaker and was very inspiring, speaking of his time learning French and how it had helped him.

Alliance Française poetry competition and examination

In August, the lower school French language students were busy learning their lines for the Alliance Française poetry competition. The best two boys in each class then went to compete at the Alliance Française against the other WA schools. Declan Barrett and Luca da Silva Rosa in Year 7 were then invited back for the prize-winning ceremony in November as they placed second and third in the state. In the upper school written exams, James

Languages

Blaxill in Year 11 and Stefano Tudor in Year 12 were amongst the top students in the state and were recalled to the Alliance Française for a speaking exam. Stefano was later placed fourth in WA. Twenty-two boys in Years 9 to 12 earned a très bien mention in the Alliance Française written exams - the highest award available.

DAS Examination

Our German students performed well in the DAS examination. In Category 1, Ben Duffy, David Neilson and Laurence Vanderhor received distinctions; Ben's performance was all the more remarkable because he took the Year 12 exam one year early. In the Category 2 examination, Year 11s Adam Hughes and Owen McCarthy also won distinctions.

Japanese incursions

Japanese language students enjoyed a number of incursions and listening to guest speakers. Callum Ince, a young Perth man studying in Japan, told our students of the opportunities and grants that boys can access if they wish to study Japanese at university in Australia and overseas. Armstrong Sensei and Naoto cooked up a storm, showing boys how to cook and eat delicious Japanese dishes.

Chinese speaking competition

In the final weeks of Term 3, four Christ Church boys took part in the annual Chinese-speaking competition held in the Alexander Theatre at UWA. The competition is open to students who are learning Chinese as a second language with no prior knowledge.

In the Year 7 division, Anthony Friars was awarded second place and Scott Caporn third place.

Nicholas Patrikeos and Alex Rippey represented Christ Church in the Year 8 division. Nicholas was awarded first place for his excellent fluency and pronunciation.

MLC and CCGS languages quiz night

In Term 3, Year 9 and 10 students of all languages (including Théophile over on exchange from our sister French school in St Quentin) joined the languages students at MLC for an inter-school competition. The evening was great fun and there was much laughter trying to identify some strange objects from different countries. The students also had a chance to try tasty treats from the different countries.

French restaurant visits

In Term 4, the Year 12 French students joined Madame Rosinel and language assistant, Tarek, in a farewell dinner at La Petite Ardoise restaurant. A week later the Year 11s joined Tarek, Madame Curlewis and Madame Griffin-Appadoo for their French meal at Chez Pierre.

ORCHESTRA FESTIVAL

On Sunday 9 August, the combined CCGS/ St Hilda's symphony orchestra performed in the Churchlands SHS concert hall as part of the WA Schools' Orchestra Festival 2015. This annual gathering draws nearly 150 school string and symphony orchestras from across the state for performances in a number of divisions. Each division has its own repertoire list, depending upon the players' collective abilities and experience. The combined CCGS/ Hilda's symphony orchestra was entered into the highest of all the divisions - the Premier Division. Dvorak was to the fore in the repertoire chosen for the occasion – Symphony No 5 New World Movement and the Slavonic Dance No 5. The orchestra performed extremely well and was awarded an Outstanding, one of only three presented in this division. The adjudicators remarked that the rhythmic vitality and general balance amongst the sections as being particularly noticeable. Well done to all orchestra members for this fantastic affirmation of ability and discipline.

COMBINED CCGS/ ST HILDA'S CONCERT

The annual combined CCGS/St Hilda's concert on Friday 24 April in the St Hilda's Performing Arts Centre produced a wonderful evening of music from a variety of ensembles and bands from both schools. The evening began with the combined choir (with Christ Church Yahoo's) and symphony orchestra, playing selected movements from The Armed Man: A Mass for Peace by Karl Jenkins. With reflection for the Gallipoli centenary, this powerful and moving piece, conducted by Rhiannon Taylor, provided a vast array of emotions through its evocative melody-writing and innovative use of percussion and brass.

This was followed by the combined symphony orchestra, performing Dvorak's New World Symphony (1st movement), the combined chamber orchestra with pieces by Handel and Borodin and the combined concert band, conducted by Christopher Draber. Here we heard the famous Mars by Gustav Holst, On the Wings of an Eagle and the up-beat Forget You. The music for the evening concluded with the combined jazz bands performing a selection of classic and modern jazz repertoire.

A huge thank you to the two Friends of Music groups that organised the amazing post concert supper in the St Hilda's forecourt. It was a great way to finish a memorable evening of music.

CONCERTO NIGHT

Concerto Night provided five very talented Christ Church musicians the opportunity to perform selected repertoire with the backing of a full symphony orchestra. Our soloists on the night all presented very different, well-polished and rehearsed pieces.

The first performer, Michael Lukin, played the First Movement from the Guillemant 'Concerto for Organ'. On an electronic organ on loan from Steinway Australia, Michael played the many scalic and arpeggio passages with relish, and the triumphant nature of the piece, accompanied by the CCGS symphony orchestra conducted by Rhiannon Taylor, truly rose to the challenge of some demanding parts.

The next soloist, Henry Loudon, performed the rarely-heard Ferdinand David Concerto for Trombone. This late romantic period piece contains a very exacting solo trombone part, in which Henry excelled. The cadenza-like finish was also performed with style. The CCGS symphony orchestra, conducted by Kevin Gillam, accompanied with empathy.

The second half of the concert began with Sam Bougher singing the Leonard Cohen classic, Chelsea Hotel, and then the up-beat groove of Feeling Good. He was accompanied by the very select talents of the 'Freshwater Ensemble', conducted by Rhiannon Taylor. Sam's vocal techniques are superb, and his ability to move across his range and change styles, all seemingly without effort, was very much in evidence.

Albert Qiu was the next Christ Church student to perform, and his chosen piece, Shostakovich's Piano Concerto No 2 Second Movement, was performed with a great deal of rhythmic verve and attention to detail. The CCGS chamber orchestra, conducted by Aaron Wyatt, also deserves credit for the excellent work on some very challenging parts.

The final Christ Church performance of the night was from Ben Anderson, with Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No 2, Second Movement. This is a rarely-performed piece, principally because of the extreme difficulty of the solo piano part. Ben clearly shone here, with some tremendous and awe-inspiring playing. The combined CCGS/MLC symphony orchestra, conducted by Kevin Gillam, provided great support to the soloist.

Well done to all performers on the night, both from Christ Church and MLC – it was a truly memorable evening.

SCHOLARS' RECITAL AND ST GEORGE'S CATHEDRAL CONCERT

The Scholars' Recital is an annual highlight of the musical year, with all the Music Scholarship students performing in the CLC foyer for parents, teachers, staff and friends. This year's evening included Andrew Triglavcanin excelling on both guitar and violin, Lachie Higgins singing some evocative pieces from two musicals, Gus McKenzie wowing the audience with his guitar playing in Dire Straits' Sultans of Swing and Leo Li closing the evening with some fantastic solo licks in two jazz pieces. The work of both Dr Martin Lamb (accompanying) and Cassandra Podbury in stage assistance and set up is also worthy of mention.

On Wednesday 17 June, a group of seven Music students attended St George's Cathedral lunchtime concert. Our performers – Michael Lukin (Year 12), Ben Anderson, David Woods and Nowar Koning (Year 11), Clarence Wang (Year 10), Zachary Loong (Year 7) and Jamie Low (Year 6), all performed extremely well. Michael Lukin's opening piece Fantasie for Organ, Clarence Wang's Violin Sonata by Beethoven and Nowar Koning's dreamy interpretation of Blue in Green by Piazzolla were noteworthy.

ROCK WORKSHOP

The Rock Workshop program, across both Prep and Senior Schools, enjoyed another successful and energising year of music, entertaining audiences of hundreds and providing boys with invaluable live performances, recording and writing experiences. The first 'big gig' was Rock Extravaganza, a showcase of all rock workshop band members from Year 4 to 11. The rainy weather could not keep the large crowd away from the Prep undercroft, where the boys and audience enjoyed a variety of hard, pop and ballad rock charts. Add a very popular sausage sizzle and it was a highly energising end to the afternoon from all members.

Year 11 Music workshop allows the students to write, record and perform their original music. In the Term 3 mid term break, all bands learnt to record with and use professional equipment, mentored and directed by the Rock Workshop teachers. The resultant CD features nine tracks of music written and recorded by the students during these sessions and will undoubtedly be a revisited memento, reflective of the hard work and creative efforts of these boys. An excursion to the Underground Recording Studios in Term 4 provided further exposure to the layout, workings and equipment of a professional recording studio.

The final highlight for the rock year was the annual performance at Mojo's Bar in North Fremantle, a premier live music venue. All rock workshop students and staff had been looking forward to, and preparing for, the afternoon all year. All enjoyed the opportunity to play in public on a professional stage with professional production. About 300 parents, friends and performers attended. Each of the 12 bands added a distinctive flavour to the afternoon, performing a range of music from power-house rock songs to sensitive ballads and jazz-like instrumentals. The Prep Rock Workshop, featuring six drum kits, four vocalists, four keyboardists and many guitarists performed Dirty Deeds, Dumb Things, Sunshine of your Love and Paint it Black. It proved to be an exciting conclusion to the afternoon.

JAZZ BANDS

The 2015 CCGS jazz bands' activities commenced during the evening of Friday 30 January with an invitation from Mr Brad Downing for the jazz combo to play for the boarders' orientation day barbecue at Walter's House. This is the sixth year the combo has played at the function and it proved to be a very enjoyable night of playing blues and jazz music. An impromptu appearance from St Hilda's Music student, Alex Toussaint-Jackson, singing The Girl from Ipanema topped off a great night.

In February, the jazz quartet was invited to perform at the Friends of Music (FrOM) breakfast held at the Claremont Yacht Club. The early morning performance was enjoyed by a large audience, with a varied repertoire of jazz music including swing, blues and Latin-based tunes.

One of the first jazz band performances was when the jazz combo played in February in the new temporary assembly space of the blue gym. The group was co-led by student pianist, Nowar Koning, on the classic Oliver Nelson jazz standard Stolen Moments. The group also featured guest staff musicians, Kevin Gillam on cello, Rhiannon Taylor on flute, Warren Hall on drums and Paul Millard on soprano sax.

The saxophone ensemble was invited to play at the Sandover boarders' dinner in March. The five piece ensemble played quiet jazz and blues music while the boarder boys enjoyed dinner.

Jazz Band 1 performed at the Claremont Anglican Chapel on Stirling Highway in April with their arrangement of the famous Count Basie orchestra tune Corner Pocket.

Also in April, the CCGS Jazz Band 1 combined with St Hilda's Swing Band to play three pieces at the annual combined groups concert at St Hilda's new auditorium. It was a fantastic night of music culminating in a jam session on a 12 bar blues.

Term 2 rehearsals commenced with much energy and enthusiasm as all jazz bands worked toward the annual Ellington jazz bands night. In June, a jazz camp was held for all groups to polish repertoires and to partake in some chocolate muffins and refreshments in the break.

On Tuesday 23 June at 7.00pm the CCGS jazz bands night was held at the famed Ellington Jazz Club in Northbridge. More than 60 boys performed at their best, directed and arranged by Paul Millard to a full house of parents, teachers, students and friends soaking up the wonderful atmosphere of the jazz club. The Christ Church boys were graciously joined by St Hilda's, Mira Sertorio and Tilly Simcock, singing jazz standards with the jazz combo.

In July, the jazz combo performed a piece at the weekly school assembly in the blue gym playing the classic Sweet Home Chicago sung with much verve and style by Ashan Weerasooriya.

During August and September the annual JAZZ @ The REF series of concerts was held at the refectory every third Monday lunchtime. This was an opportunity for all band musicians to perform in front of their peers and to also practise pieces for upcoming engagements.

A new jazz-oriented group was formed known as 'The Blues Scholars' playing standard BB King, T Bone Walker and various blues and jazz standards. Their first performance was in September, playing at the Sandover boarders' dinner.

Another major high point for the year was the jazz bands recording project in October at Crank Studio in Perth. Jazz bands 1 and 2 and jazz combo recorded four to five jazz charts each and created some fabulous sounds, all to be released on a CD early next year.

After the recording at 5.00pm, the jazz combo boys were bused to Claremont Yacht Club to play at the annual PMC dinner. The band finished the night at 9.30pm with its version of Stevie Wonder's Superstition to a packed dance floor.

The jazz combo was invited by Mark Morrissy to perform dinner music at the Christ Church Valedictory dinner in October in the blue gym. It is an ideal opportunity for the boys to get experience playing in front of many people who showed their appreciation with warm applause.

In November, Jazz Band 2 performed for the School Assembly at the newly renovated Chapel. A special band arrangement of The Beatles, Hey Jude, was performed with the audience encouraged to sing and clap along on the iconic song's chorus.

The last jazz bands concert for the year was indeed a very auspicious one. Jazz combo was honoured to perform two songs at Headmaster Garth Wynne's farewell ceremony at the blue gym on Tuesday 1 December. The group played Europa featuring Riley Klug on guitar solo and Let the Good Times Roll which featured Gus McKenzie on vocal and guitar and with additional solos by Leo on alto sax, Ryan on tenor and Nowar on piano.

A hearty thank you to all the jazz bands boys for a very productive and enjoyable year.

Mathematics

The year started on a high note with the release of the 2014 Year 12 WACE results.

For the second year running, the Course Exhibition for Mathematics went to Christ Church Grammar School, together with four Certificates of Distinction. Nicholas Lim was awarded the Course Exhibition and Certificate of Distinction for Mathematics, Richard Tien was awarded both Certificates of Distinction for Mathematics and for Mathematics Specialist and Elliot Smith won a Certificate of Distinction for Mathematics. Congratulations to all our teachers and Year 12 students of 2014 on their remarkable achievements.

In the middle of March each year, teams from all over the state gather for two nights of fun and robust mathematics problem-solving at the Mathematics Association of WA (MAWA) annual Have Sum Fun competition. After four gruelling rounds and a tie breaker, the Year 11-12 and Year 9-10 teams came second. The team comprising Year 8s (Robert Lee, Daniel Mah and George Schulz) and Year 7s (Declan Barrett, Jason Lu and Adam Robbins) were declared division champions.

The Computational and Algorithmic Thinking Competition (CAT) and the Australian Mathematics Competition (AMC) were two of the big events on the Australian Mathematics calendar. In the CAT Competition, our boys won four high distinctions and 53 distinctions while the School garnered one medal, six prizes, 38 high distinctions and 154 distinctions in the AMC. William Hu (Year 9) was one of only 30 medalists in Australia. The six prize winners were William Thomas (Year 8), Marcus Handley (Year 8), William Hu (Year 9), Kohsuke Sato (Year 10), Andrew Lawrance (Year 10) and Leo Li (Year 11).

The Australian Intermediate Mathematics Olympiad (AIMO) is an important stepping-stone to the Olympiad stage. A record 52 of our earnest Year 7-10 students took part. Kohsuke Sato was awarded a prize for achieving a rare perfect score while William Hu (Year 9) achieved a High Distinction. Distinctions were awarded to Lumina Gajanayake, Alexander Shearer, Gilbert Porter, Geoff Sang, Marcus Handley (Year 8) and Akio Ho (Year 9).

At the Olympiad stage, some of our top mathematicians were invited to sit the Australian Mathematics Olympiad (AMO) and the AMOC senior contest. Leo Li and William Hu distinguished themselves with a silver each in the AMO and Leo also achieved a distinction in the senior contest. For the second year running, William Hu has been invited to the 2015 School of Excellence, open to only 25 of the brightest students in Australia.

A total of 520 students comprising 130 teams participated in the 17th Western Australian Junior Mathematics Olympiad (WAJO) held at UWA and parallel sessions in Bunbury and Karratha in October. After weeks of hard work, the boys' efforts paid off. Christ Church walked away with five individual and two team prizes, including the top individual prize and the top team prize. Individual merit prizes were awarded to Marcus Handley, Albert Smith, Rohan Maloney, Oliver Terry and William Hu who won the individual prize with a perfect score.

The MAWA Jack Bana Award for excellence for the best performing team at the 2015 WAJO was awarded to the Christ Church team comprising William Hu, Amitabh Jeganathan, Matthew Hamdorf and Akio Ho. The team comprising Rohan Maloney, Oliver Terry, Stanley McFarlane and Thomas Jones came equal fourth in the competition and was awarded the WAJO award of excellence for team performance.

Health and Physical Education

Scott Chrystal Old Boy 2006 joined the department this year.

Scott has coached the First VII Water Polo since 2009 and has transferred his excellent teaching skills seamlessly.

As we continue to push the sunsmart message amongst our community, we recently installed a UV Monitor on the side of the gym wall. This acts as a constant reminder of the importance of wearing a hat and applying sunscreen even when you think you may not need it.

There have been many new initiatives in our domain this year that the boys have benefitted from. I am particularly proud of the work Mr Brendon Noble and Mr Chris Miles have done with the introduction of the Year 10 Sports Science elective. This course means we have an introductory focus to our Year 11 and 12 ATAR Physical Education Studies subjects. There is no doubt this will continue to enhance our standing and foster the enthusiasm that already exists for this subject.

Caron and Richard Daly from Daly Fitness have also implemented a Certificate III and IV in Fitness. We are extremely lucky that Caron and Richard are registered training officers so we were able to implement this course in the boy's normal day to day timetable. The major benefit of this means the boys do not have to leave the campus to study such a vibrant course.

Thank you once again must go to the Parents Association for their generosity in allowing us to purchase 25 Stand Up Paddle Boards. The boys will not only enjoy these boards in Physical Education, but also the students in the Boarding House and Preparatory School.

Mr Luke Farmer
Head of Health and Physical Education

Peter Moyes Centre

The students and staff of the senior Peter Moyes Centre have had a challenging and rewarding 2015.

The boys have achieved excellent results in both academic and vocational areas. We are very proud of each boy's efforts and achievements throughout the year.

Highlights for 2015

A busy year saw the continuation of many specialist programs:

- Award Scheme Development and Accreditation Network (ASDAN) – This year some of the older boys were given the opportunity to work through a selection of ASDAN programs – photography, performing arts and work awareness. Congratulations go to Hugo Donaldson, Charlie Paganin and Geoffrey Sturges for achieving their certificates in work awareness. The other programs will be moderated next year and we look forward to our boys' further efforts at this level. A big thank you to Deb Wolfenden, Kristen Rule, Deb Deacon, Aimee Rath and Naomi Kerr for implementing these exciting programs.
- Friday afternoon sport – This year the boys have participated in a variety of activities. In Term 1 the boys practised their swimming; in Term 2 they developed some impressive hip hop skills; and in Term 3 the boys worked on their gross and fine motor skills as well as balance and strength programs at gymability. Finally in Term 4 the boys were able to stretch out and relax with yoga.
- ACC inclusive sports carnivals – The boys participated enthusiastically and demonstrated good sportsmanship in all the ACC carnivals including swimming, fun run, bowling and soccer. In addition to learning new skills, these carnivals provide the boys with the opportunity to catch up with friends from other schools.
- Specialist Art program – Once again we were very fortunate to have Mrs Louise Pennington work with the boys every Friday morning. The highlight has been making clay pots using a variety of techniques.
- Work Experience – Each year the older boys have the opportunity to take part in a PMC Work Experience program. This year boys worked in the School canteen, Intework, CBH and Westcare. We would like to thank these employers for their continued support. The Work Experience program continues to provide the boys with crucial practical experience and the opportunity to develop work skills in a supportive environment.
- 2015 PMC leavers' dinner – This year the leavers' dinner celebrated the graduation of Hugo Donaldson, Sam Ernst, Charlie Paganin and Geoffrey Sturges. It was a night of celebration and heartfelt speeches from Rumi Bennet, Ali Gould, Michael Paganin, Ed Gallucio and Sharyn Bana, as well as from PMC staff and Garth Wynne. We are all incredibly proud of everything that these four young men have achieved during their time at Christ Church.

Peter Moyes Centre

- Senior PMC camp – This year we went to Busselton for our PMC camp. The boys enjoyed a train ride on the Busselton jetty and had their collective breath taken away as whales swam underneath the boat on the whale-watching tour. As well as giving them the chance to visit different places, the PMC camp allows the boys to take part in activities providing individual challenge in a supported environment as well as the opportunity to practise social and life skills with their friends.

The aim of the Senior PMC is to provide comprehensive, challenging and individualised programs to provide boys with the skills and experiences they will need for a successful future. I would like to thank the parents, students and Christ Church community who have supported the senior PMC. Your ongoing support of PMC programs and your willingness to collaborate with staff to develop the best programs for your son has been invaluable.

Finally, special thanks must go to the senior PMC staff - Amy Porter, Deb Wolfenden, Deb Deacon, Kristen Rule, Phil Barker and Aimee Rath. You are an amazing team and it has been a pleasure working with you each day. Remember, the sign of success is:

To laugh often and love much; to win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children; to earn the approbation of honest citizens and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to give of one's self; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sung with exultation; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived—this is to have succeeded

After a very close competition the winners were members of the Year 12 team 'destructive interference' comprising Christopher Fowler, Joseph Brough and Samuel Thompson.

ICAS National Science Competition

Between 20 and 27 May all students in Year 7 and 8 and a number of students in Years 9-12 volunteered to take part in the ICAS Science competition. A number of boys received a High Distinction for their efforts, placing them in the top one per cent of students in Australia.

Excursions and Camps

The Year 12 Biology students spent time at the Perth Hills Centre looking at the impacts of fire and conservation strategies and made the final journey to Tammin to investigate salinity and look at its impact on the ecosystem and agriculture. Despite the flies and lack of rain, the boys embraced the issues and enjoyed the opportunity to be in the field. The Biology Department would like to thank the community of Tammin and the farmers, both past and present, for all their help over this time. In particular thanks must go to the York Family, a multigenerational Christ Church family, who have opened the gates to their farm and had us traipse through fields, water supplies and live in shearing sheds when there was no accommodation.

The Year 11 Biology students spent most of their time at camp performing animal trapping, species identification and practical fieldwork. They also went on a night stalk to a sanctuary in the Perth hills and attended the Hillarys Fisheries Department. They then used all this information to compare it to similar work carried out in Kings Park and the coastal plain.

Biology was also privileged to have the chief scientist of WA, Professor Peter Klinken, join 60 CCGS and MLC students for a 'Denton' style Q & A breakfast. After questions were submitted, Matthew Akehurst, took to the stage to quiz the leading medical researcher and probe his thoughts on biology, education and the future of science.

Some Year 11 and 12 Biology and Human Biology students visited the Biodiscovery Laboratory at Harry Perkins Institute of Medical Research to look at spectacular stem cells, electrophoresis and PCR. Putting this tricky theory into practice supports the academic program in a way that cannot be replicated by the internet or online virtual reality.

Once again, Year 7s had the opportunity to get out in the field and visit the Gould League at Herdsman Lake Wildlife Centre. All Year 7 boys participated in Mud n Minibeasts and the Swamp Safari, where they scooped invertebrates from the lake, tested water, and wandered the boardwalks looking for frogs and various plants.

Heartfelt thanks go to the Science teaching staff and technicians for another successful year.

LW PARRY PREPARATORY SCHOOL

From the Head of Preparatory School

This year has been another filled with the energy, fun and excitement that is life in the Preparatory School.

It is difficult to select a few highlights from a veritable endless list, however, I will take the opportunity to focus on a few.

Firstly, the JPSSA swimming team reclaimed their championship position on the back of some impressive individual performances. Kai Wylie's JPSSA record was an outstanding effort, as were the results of the entire team.

The Knight's Quest launch provided our Year 6 boys with a new challenge that required self-motivation to complete a level. To achieve a Virtues Shield, the boys were required to complete tasks and have a staff member, parent and community leader sign off on their achievement. I saw wonderful examples of service, self discipline, love, courage, gratitude and justice, with honesty and humility being consistent expectations across the School and the community. I pay particular praise to our Term 2 Captain of School, Christian Wong, who achieved three Virtues Shields.

Finally, I would highlight the Year 6 production, Dirty Beasts. The production reflected so much of what makes our school great - a diverse group of boys all working together to produce an outstanding result - a result so outstanding, we reprised the closing song for the entire school community at speech morning.

My thanks to Garth Wynne for his exceptional leadership of Christ Church and support for the Preparatory School. Thanks to the staff for their work in making a difference in the lives of the boys. Thank you to the parents for their support of the staff and school. Thank you to the boys for making Christ Church the place it is. We look forward to another great year in 2016.

Staff Notes

It has been another busy and exciting year in the Christ Church Preparatory School. We have had the chance to welcome new staff members into our fold, who bring a combined wealth of knowledge and experience to add to our boys' journeys. We also sadly waved goodbye to others, thanking them for the positive impact they have had on our students.

The beginning of the year allowed us to welcome a number of new teachers and educational assistants across the

what an asset she is. Letitia replaced Didi Caddy, who moved into the Learning Development Centre (LDC). In the LDC, Didi supports our younger boys in developing their mathematical skills, and she also spends one day a week in Pre-Primary.

2015 also saw Alicia Hill and Jenny Joseph move into Year 1, with the second Year 2 class welcoming Brooke Gonnella as their teacher. Brooke came to us from Atwell Primary School. The Year 4 team was excited to be joined by Victoria Wisker, who brought with her a wealth of knowledge from her past teaching roles, both here in Perth and in the United Kingdom. The Year 5/6 team was pleased to welcome back Jody Henry, who completed her teaching practicum at Christ Church in 2012 under the guidance of Jay Pyefinch. Jody has been a wonderful addition to our school, both in class and on the running track, where she has helped coach the boys in her specialist sport. 2015 also saw the return of T'Ann Steele after her maternity leave as the co-ordinator of Year 5 and 6 and teaching in Year 5. Rachel Skyes returned to Year 3 after the summer holidays as Mrs Roberts, and Chantal Hockey returned to Year 2 after the Easter holidays as Mrs Wittecombe.

The LDC was pleased that Sonja Madden, who was employed in an acting position last year, was able to stay on in her role as LDC teacher from Pre-Primary to Year

3. The Peter Moyes Centre welcomed to their team a new teacher, Troy Looke, who previously taught at the Riverton Special Needs Centre. They also welcomed back Stephanie Bull who was married in the holidays. Caitlin Allen-Williams joined the PMC as an educational assistant, from the Autism Association of WA.

Returning from a year's leave, Sarah Seaman resumed the position of Music co-ordinator.

Due to the retirement of Christine Hindmarsh from the Library at the end of 2014, Justine Garland joined the team as a Library technician. In Term 3 the Library was pleased to have Ilona Nunis cover Peta Sawyer's term of long service leave. Term 3 also saw Jerome Griffin go on long service leave, with the School welcoming back Jasmine Jeffs (who worked in the Music Department in 2014) to cover two terms of leave. Rosemary Allitt, who has worked at the School for many years on a part-time and casual basis, also returned in Term 3 to the LDC to cover Angela Anderson's leave.

2015 held some exciting news for staff in terms of announcing new additions to their immediate families. Year 6 teacher, Paula Ellis, welcomed Amelia (Millie) Rose into the world in October and will take

for coming in to cover the last term with Paula's class in 2015. Lisa Venn (co-ordinator of the PMC), Rachel Roberts (Year 3 teacher), Marley Cooke (PMC Educational Assistant) and Abigail Callow (Art teacher) will all be having babies in 2016. We will be saying a sad farewell to Abigail at the end of this year.

Once again, the end of the year saw us reflect on 2015 and the wonderful contribution the staff has made to the School experiences of the students. All boys in Year 5 and 6 had the opportunity to go to Koorinal, whilst some boys also had the chance to go on the ski trip to Perisher, an AFL trip to Melbourne or the future problem-solving trip to Brisbane. In April, the Year 6s travelled to Canberra for four days to find out more about the history of our wonderful country by visiting its capital. Staff across the years also organised many stimulating excursions and incursions to add to the day-to-day programs. Events such as access Asia week and Book Week gave the students a chance to engage in more fun learning activities.

Throughout the year many sporting events were organised, including swimming lessons, sailing lessons, fun runs, swimming and athletics carnivals, a tennis tournament and the McPherson Cup basketball competition. The arts were celebrated throughout the year as well. We saw the production of the play Dirty Beasts in September, performances by the choirs, The Yahoos and instrumental players, the House shout and the excitement that is the Week of the Arts.

As always, we wish staff a wonderful and relaxing holiday spent with friends and family and look forward to a new school year.

Dale House

Term 1 for Dale was full of anticipation - we were excited to come back to school.

Term 1

Dale was also looking forward to the swimming carnival. We did well finishing second. Term 1 was great for our house because it was full of sport. The swimming carnival was great because all the Dale boys were trying their best to win the shield and chanting loudly to win the Spirit Shield. Unfortunately, we were unable to bring home the Shield or the Swimming Cup. It was great to see and hear that the Dale boys were doing their rubbish duty and were helping Dale House out, looking to get extra points to get a good start to the year and points for the Giles Shield. It was definitely a great start to the year for Dale.

Luca Paganin and Luke Brown

Term 2

Term 2 was a great term for Dale. Not only did we take out the Cross Country Shield but we had a lot of fun on the way. The Cross Country Carnival was on Thursday of Week 7. It began with the Year 3s starting their first cross country run at Christ Church. Dale cheered loudly throughout the carnival and helped their peers try their best. Everyone enjoyed the carnival and in the end we were announced the winners and were awarded the Shield at assembly the following day. Term 2 was a fun and exciting time for Dale.

Callum Parramore and Joel Newton

Term 3 was one of the most enjoyable and exciting terms for Dale as two of the biggest house events were just around the corner. Two events stood out as goals for us at the start of term. We very much wanted to see Dale's name on the trophies of the House shout and the athletics carnival. Mr Pyefinch was determined to train us hard in the team events with all Dale boys working like a well-oiled machine in their chosen team events. With the help of the amazing Dale teachers, we were able to pull off another incredible victory by coming first in the Athletics Carnival.

The teamwork displayed by all Dale boys on the day was admirable and the trophy now has Dale House etched into the cup for 2015. We may have won the Athletics Carnival but we were not fully satisfied with our winnings and fixed the rest of our focus on the biggest house event of all - the House Shout. It started off brilliantly with an excellent song choice of Iko Iko, and after many practices it was time for the performance. The boys definitely sang the song with great confidence and won us the trophy with our brilliant drum and percussion instruments and our fantastic voice-changing finish. Everyone in Dale will remember this term as a term full of amazing accomplishments, lots of fun and above all, endless house spirit.

Jack MacKinnon and Sam Gillard

Term 4

During the last term of 2015, Dale hosted a hot dog fundraiser, which went above and beyond with the majority of the Prep School buying a hotdog or making a donation. We had already won the house athletes carnival by a massive lead and House Shout singing the 50's hit Iko Iko last term. We continued to work really hard at all our jobs and were rewarded with winning the annual House Basketball Competition, the McPherson Cup, and the ultimate prize - the Giles Shield.

Of course, we could not have achieved any of this without the amazing efforts of Mr Pyefinch, Mrs Feaver, Mrs Marshall, Mrs Wisker, and for the first half of the year, Ms Henry.

Giles House

Term 1 was an amazing term with Giles showing splendid swimming by all the years and achieving second place to Forrest by a very slim margin.

Term 1

One of the standouts was Kai Wylie smashing some records that have been held for over 30 years. Our fundraising was a highlight of Term 1 with the Preparatory School getting behind the ICEA Foundation to raise money for remote Indigenous communities. Lochie Cooke, the founder of ICEA spoke to the school about how the money can support the foundation. The Prep School got into the spirit with a dress up as your favourite sporting hero day and also donated pre-used sporting equipment to be donated to ICEA. The Christ Church community responded generously with Lochie Cook filling up his entire ute with sporting equipment. We also had our Easter raffle, which is always very popular. All these fundraisers raised $2147.80. It was a fantastic effort.

Gus Sheldrick and Jack Timms

Term 2

Term 2 was a great term for Giles, with cross country training in full swing in preparation for the carnival. There was intense competition from Dale on the day and everyone did their personal best to improve on their placing from last year. Cheering on our mates is what it is all about. There were some stand out performances from the Year 6s showing great leadership with Arlo Swanson coming second, Kai Wylie, third and Gus Sheldrick, seventh. Congratulations to all the Giles boys on a great Term 2.

Term 3 was an extremely busy term for Giles. We had been putting in the hard yards in athletics training and looked like the house to beat. We did a fantastic job when the carnival came, but our biggest achievement was winning the House Spirit Shield.

Mathew Shephard and Michael Hidajat

Term 3

We had one of the most exciting House Shout competitions for Giles with our dedication to the song pick Rock Around the Clock by Bill Hayley and the Comets. We dressed the part looking like cool dudes from the 50s with slick hair and a lot of style. Thank you to all the teachers who put in the hard work to make our House Shout performance fantastic.

Samuel O'Brien and Tommy Andrews

Term 4

Term 4 at last. There seemed to be an endless array of events to look forward to like activity day and speech morning, but little did we know that we had a busy term coming up ahead. As Giles captains, we had to devise an ace basketball team that would hopefully (and against all odds) finish in a high ranking, ie first, at the end of the McPherson Cup basketball tournament. The Giles teams put a wonderful effort into the House Sports carnival. Well done to all Giles boys for a fantastic year of triumph and teamwork. Thank you to all Giles staff who have put a lot of effort into getting us organised for all our events this year. An extra special thanks goes Mrs MacKinnon for being our House co-ordinator this year. Being part of Giles is a fabulous honour. As we transition on to Senior School, we reflect fondly on our time as Giles captains in 2015. It is with a sense of pride that we leave Giles House and we wish the incoming captains the best of luck and encourage them to keep up the tradition of leading with pride.

Aditya Muthukattu (Captain) and Isaac Davies (Vice-Captain)

Forrest House

Term 1

The main event for Forrest House in Term 1 was the hotly-contested swimming carnival, fought between the four Houses in the Preparatory School. As the Year 3-4 Swimming Carnival kicked off, Forrest got off to a strong start with house spirit, with some Year 6s going down to the pool to help start chants with the younger boys. On the second day, it was the Year 5-6s turn to jump in the pool. They also showed strong house spirit by chanting every time a Forrest boy competed in a swimming race. Sadly for us, Stirling became the rightful owners of the Spirit Shield at the end of two hard days of Year 3 to 6s swimming their hearts out. Overall, Forrest came out the winners of the Inter-House Swimming Carnival by a close 49 points, beating Giles, who were on 839 points.

Term 2

Being a Term 2 captain/vice-captain is great. This year the Term 1 and 2 captains and vice-captains went to St Mary's for a religious service with other schools like Hale, Scotch and MLC. After the service we enjoyed getting to know a few of them and making new friends. The highlight of Term 2 was cross country. Forrest may not have won, but we did win the Spirit Shield. Houses win the Spirit Shield by being the loudest to cheer on their team. Term 2 is the longest term, which is great because you get more time to be a captain. Being a House captain has been an awesome experience and we have enjoyed the thrill of standing up in front of our peers and leading them in the assembly.

Jevaan Davies and Will Pennell

Term 3

Term 3 for Forrest was a favourite term for many, as we enjoyed the athletics carnival, the Forrest fun run and the House Shout. In the Forrest fun run, every boy gave their best effort and had a great time in getting as many stamps as possible in just 20 minutes. We raised a large amount of money for the Cambodian Children's Fund. In the athletics carnival many of the boys did exceptionally well. Matthew Tan (Year 4) was runner up champion boy. Nick Tomlinson (Year 5) proved to be a champion sprinter (100m, 200m, long jump). Nick also won the Gift race - the most prestigious race at school. Daniel Baltis was awarded joint runner-up champion boy. In my eyes, if you tried your hardest and had fun, you are a champion. In the House Shout, the Forrest boys sung their hearts out, finishing what we believe to be a commendable second for our song, Rockin' Robin.

Term 4

Despite Term 4 being the shortest term, it still provided plenty of action - especially for Forrest. During weeks 4 and 5 there was the hotly-contested McPherson Cup, and as captains we witnessed some pretty good skills from our talented side. Next, was the Inter-House Sports Carnival for Year 3 to 6 with Soccer, Tee-ball, Basketball and Cricket at Mount Claremont and once again all the boys displayed very good efforts, sportsmanship and resilience. To finish a wonderful year and term for Forrest, we celebrated with a House party for Year 1 to 6. We would like to acknowledge Miss Stone for a super job this year as House Co-ordinator, but more importantly the boys from Forrest. Well done.

Stirling House

Term 1

Term 1 for Stirling was a great start to the year with the House doing fantastically in the Swimming Carnival, with some great team performances as well individual performances from Nick Johns and Jensen Kirby. Stirling also showed great sportsmanship, setting the standard high for the rest of the year. All boys did their part, coming off a long Christmas holiday. Overall, we are very proud of all Stirling boys for doing their best in all aspects of the term as we continue to strive to maintain the high Stirling standard.

Will Bailey and Devmith Jayatilake

Term 2

Term 2 was a very successful term for Stirling, raising a whopping $1 168 in the inaugural Stirling paper plane contest. The money raised went to a great cause, The Cambodian Children's Fund. Mrs Hookey came up with the creative idea where the boys had to compete against each other, designing and creating a paper plane. Lawson Herkes' plane flew a huge distance of 27 metres. Not only did Stirling host such an exceptional fundraiser, but we also did a remarkable job at the Cross Country. It was a sunny afternoon at Mt Claremont playing fields where all boys participated to the best of their ability. We came a gallant fourth place in the annual Spirit Shield. We were proud to captain Stirling to a successful Term 2.

David Waring and Logan Hinkley

Term 3

Term 3 was an astounding term for Stirling. Firstly, we had the Athletics Carnival and there was a plethora of amazing performances on the day. Mayowa Afolabi was the main man up front and he managed to absolutely obliterate not only two records but the competition as well. Stirling won three out of the four relays and also the tug 'o' war event. Following on, we had House Shout and that was a great performance by everyone. It was not an easy song but all the boys performed it with gusto. Term 3 was an awesome term for us, and it certainly set the standard for the last term for 2015.

Oliver Bailey and Nick Johns

Term 4

Stirling is the best House in the Christ Church Preparatory School. We display second to none teamwork and respect, and above all, great sportsmanship. Term 4 is one of the busiest and fun terms, with the McPherson Basketball Competition and the House Sports Carnival. During these events Stirling has shown great camaraderie and continues to learn from each experience, whether the outcome is a win or loss. We are proud to don the red vest and lead such a great House. We wish all the other Houses success as they come to the end of a fantastic 2015.

Vertical House Groups

Vertical House Groups, or VHGs as they are commonly known, continued this year with boys strengthening bonds with other boys in other year groups across the Preparatory School.

Boys spend much of the time getting to know each other and being involved in practical, written and social activities to foster bonds. The activities are primarily focused on helping the boys grow and actualise themselves through developing caring relationships. The building of these caring relationships needs to be taught and nurtured through our curriculum and school, and it is this exact opportunity that is being extended to the boys in these groups.

Maria Hodges

Director of Pastoral Care, Planning and Co-curricular

"VHG brings all the years together and the little kids get to look up to the Year 5 and 6 boys as good role models."

Luke Colgan 6JP

"I like how you get to do fun things and you get to play with people you do not know."

Liam Lane 3SL

"I like seeing my friends from different years and doing fun things together."

Canberra Tour

Sunday 29 March, the day that all the Year 6 boys had been waiting for (other than the end of the term) - the Canberra trip.

At 1.30pm a boisterous group of boys gathered at the airport. As we went through security and left our parents, some cried, some felt indifference and some rejoiced and, although I do not know for sure, I think the same can be said for the parents. On the plane to Canberra, every boy was glued to the screen in front of him while he ate his dinner. The trip went quickly and very soon we arrived in Canberra.

After about seven hours of sleep, day one started. Following an educational tour around the luxurious estate of the Governor General, we headed to the Royal Australian Mint. There we saw coins being pressed and robots moving and packaging thousands of coins very efficiently. A moderately long bus drive took us to Cockington Green where we had a tour around models of important buildings shrunk to one-eighth and one-sixteenth of their original size. Then we went to the Australian Institute of Sport where we saw athletes training and the equipment they use to enhance their performance.

On day two we changed into our formals and headed to the Museum of Australian Democracy where we learnt how democracy came to Australia. Taking a short walk to the Old Parliament House, we learnt how the Senate operated. We also visited the High Court. A short drive brought us to one of the most important places in the whole of Australia - Parliament House. We took a one-hour tour, learning more about how the leaders of our nation make decisions. We were then brought into a smaller version of the Law Court where we simulated making a law.

On the third day in Canberra we visited the National Film and Sound Archives where we learnt about the evolution of music and film, as well as the devices used to play them. Afterwards we headed to the National Portrait Gallery where we looked at accurate, creative portraits of various people. I especially liked the death mask of Ned Kelly, a plaster cast of his head after he died. We then took a tour around the Australian War Memorial. Looking at those two giant walls filled with the names of the people who died, it made me thankful that there are not similar wars today. We then stood tall and still, as we attended the Anzac Parade.

On the final day of Canberra, our first visit was to the National Archives where important documents and information are kept. Next came the National Gallery where we examined some of the most valuable pieces of art in Australia. It was interesting to note that there was a whole room dedicated to artwork depicting the life of Ned Kelly. We then travelled to our final appointment at Questacon. Most of the boys had been awaiting this event since they arrived in Canberra and it did not disappoint - a giant theme park with science, activities and rides. It was educational but mostly fun. Everyone spent three fantastic hours there and it was a fitting way to conclude the Canberra trip.

Chess

I thoroughly enjoyed the IPSHA chess day, held on Monday 4 May at Kingsway Christian College.

The boys who represented the Prep School were Rupert Handley, James Low, Harrison Nguyen, Christopher Manasseh, Rishi Yogesan, Michael Lee and Jeremiah Wang.

Everyone fortunate enough to participate in this event represented the School in an admirable fashion. They performed impressively and felt extremely proud of their achievements. At one point we were leading the competition, but were overtaken by some of the other participants due to their strong finish.

All the boys had fun and enjoyed consuming snacks that their families provided for them - thanks, mum.

It was a great honour to be included in the team.

Chinese

Mandarin has found its place in the Preparatory School since it was introduced to all Prep boys in 2014. There has been an increased uptake of Mandarin as the Prep boys enter the Senior School. The hands-on program has continuously engaged the boys and created a positive learning experience for Chinese language and culture.

Some highlights of the 2015 program included:

- Working with the senior boys - Christ Church Grammar School won the Championship for Chinese in WA out of 83 schools and came eighth overall globally in Chinese out of 788 schools during the 2015 Language Perfect Global Competition.
- Chinese club boys went to the Panda Picnic – a day of Chinese language and culture enrichment with eight other primary schools in WA.
- Year 1 and Year 2 Chinese culture excursion in WA Confucius Institute – a half day of Chinese culture immersion including Chinese kungfu, Chinese kite making, Chinese chopsticks game, Chinese shuttlecock sport.
- Year 5 Chinese dumpling day - boys had fun making and eating Chinese dumplings.
- Year 6 'Taste of China' excursion including Chinese kungfu session, Dragon Palace yum cha lunch, investigating Chinese town and Chinese bubble tea.
- Year 8 and Year 2 Chinese story telling lessons.
- Chinese paper cutting workshop, Chinese board games workshop, Chinese shuttlecock workshop.

Thank you to all the boys for embracing Chinese learning in the Preparatory School and making it a richer and stronger program experience every year. Xièxiè!

Clubs

The vast number and types of clubs and activities offered to our boys after school is a credit to our Prep staff and, as always, these clubs are extremely popular and can often book out quickly. Socially, the benefits of joining a club gives boys greater opportunities for interactions with peers who share common interests. Learning about a new subject is another advantage and our diverse range of clubs offers boys opportunities to learn about topics such as aviation, woodworking, cultural games, chess or sports.

Maria Hodges

Director of Pastoral Care, Planning and Co-curricular

"I like making catapults and cookies in my clubs."

Daniel Maldon 1GC

"I like homework club because you finish all your homework and then you can have free time at home."

Nicholas Hilliard 3RR

"Chess club is fun because you get to play other opponents and there is a competition to see who wins."

Callum Chin 3RR

Drama

In the final few weeks of Term 2, we had our auditions for the Year 6 Drama production, Dirty Beasts. In the first weeks of Term 3 we started rehearsals for the different parts of the play. In the second and third weeks of the term we were allocated different roles that we would perform and act out and we had to learn the lines.

Then Miss Harford helped to adapt the song Dirty Deeds by AC/DC to parody Dirty Beasts. We then practised over and over and over again at school, at home and at rehearsals. After, we got fitted into some snazzy costumes that made us look the part as well as act the part. We also got some epic boxes for our set that we could use for our dramatic needs.

Sadly we could not perform in the Chapel due to it being renovated. So instead we had to perform in the 'black box' drama theatre for our first dress rehearsals with the Year 5 cohort as an audience. The next week was a montage of performances. We played for three nights in a row of intense acting in front of families, friends, guests and teachers.

After the third performance we all gathered in the room NB6 to celebrate our hard work and efforts – there were certificates, special mentions and (most importantly) cupcakes.

Overall, it was a fantastic and awe-inspiring experience. On the way we strengthened our friendships and learnt some new and great skills that we can take into Senior School.

Library

There is now one place in the School where you can put your feet up on the chairs (with shoes off, of course) and sink your teeth into a book. The Prep Library has seen a facelift during the year and is now more enticing to boys and staff and also offers more freedom to participate in 'free voluntary reading', to enjoy the space and relax amidst the busy day.

The minor changes have seen new bookshelves and shelf ends with a modern lounge and chairs in bright colours, and while they are minor changes, they have made a significant difference.

We are saying goodbye to Mr Wynne who has always been involved in our Library. He has read to boys, acted in our Book Week assembly, participated in competitions and he even gave us a slogan about reading, "Reading gives form to the imagination and allows the imagination to form. I would be very dull without it!" Thanks to Mr Wynne for all his enthusiasm and interest in what we do in the Prep Library and we wish him many more good stories to read in the future.

Our annual book fair was not only well-supported, but was also a highlight for many boys. The commission of $3000 enabled us to send a donation to TEAR Australia to assist with their work in rebuilding the lives of people in Nepal after the earthquake.

We were very fortunate to have several visiting authors this year. Tristan Bancks who wrote Two Wolves and the My Life series visited, thanks to Campion Books. Norman Jorgensen, well-known WA author of Jack's Island and The Last Viking came through Claremont Library and Felix Cheong, an author from Singapore, came through the Writers WA group as a cross-cultural opportunity for the Awesome Festival.

In Term 4 we were thrilled to host author, Mark Greenwood, and artist, Frane Lessac, for a very engaging two days in residence. We are very grateful to the Parents' Association for enabling this to happen. This was a joint Library and Art project that brought literature to life through stories and illustration workshops.

The 100th anniversary of Anzac Day saw a collaborative display on our Library wall honouring our relatives who served in World War I. With many contributions from Christ Church families, it celebrated their amazing courage and sacrifice. Thank you to those who shared their family history.

Book week was a wonderful celebration, the theme being Books Light up our World. The staff play was a huge success and the sight of hundreds of book characters coming to life dancing around the oval was something to behold. Boys made shadow puppets, enjoyed stories by torchlight and competed in the quiz night by candlelight. The two teams that competed in the readers' challenge against eight other schools faced some stiff opposition, and performed admirably.

Our Library monitors this year put in a huge effort, assisting with small yet significant jobs that made a difference to the running of the Library. Thank you to those boys for all their efforts and congratulations to Christian Wong for winning the Malcolm Mackay Prize for Librarians. A worthy winner.

In Term 1 we welcomed a new staff member, Justine Garland (Library Assistant), who has an amazing talent in creating displays. We are fortunate to have such a professional team of staff in the Library with Kate Marshall (Teacher Librarian), Peta Sawyer (Library Technician) and in Term 3, Ilona Nunis (Library Technician) covering Mrs Sawyer's long service leave. Many thanks for your efforts.

We are also very appreciative of all the help we receive from parents who give their time willingly to help in the Library. We are indeed fortunate to have their support.

Music

For the first three terms of the year, Friday assemblies were held in Hadley Hall at MLC, while our beloved Chapel was being renovated. Our new venue, with its wide elevated stage and professional backstage area, provided the setting for several interesting Music assemblies.

While the Chapel became a building site, the School's Steinway piano moved to the CLC foyer, providing an opportunity for several of our pianists to play background music for parents waiting for Mr Wright's school tours.

The Music Department kicked off the year with its annual breakfast at the Claremont Yacht Club. Several Prep families attended and were treated to musical interludes from our CCGS saxophone teacher Paul Millard's jazz band.

The first big musical activity of the year was the Access Asia Week assembly, when the two Year 2 classes performed a traditional Malaysian folksong Gelang Sipaku using the classroom xylophones and other percussion instruments.

Term 1 concluded with a lunchtime concert by visiting piano trio, Magellan, who also ran a masterclass for the Prep and Senior School string students.

Term 2 was packed with activity. For the IPSHA Performing Arts Festival, Miss Harford directed the entire Year 4 cohort, creating a magnificent spoken word poem with actions and costumes, entitled Heard it at Christ Church. In week 8, Jamie Low and Zachary Loong represented the Prep School at a lunchtime concert at St George's Cathedral in Perth. The entire Prep School learnt the well-known indigenous rock song My Island Home to sing at the NAIDOC Week assembly, accompanied by class teachers in the Prep staff band.

Term 3 was spent in preparation for the Week of the Arts, which comprised the Sunday afternoon concert (the final CCGS concert held in Hadley Hall) and art exhibition, the annual House Shout competition, music from the Year 6 play Dirty Beasts, lunchtime concerts by the piano duet club and Prep rock workshops and many small class concerts.

By the beginning of Term 4, the newly-renovated Chapel was back in commission, and the Yahoos choir combined with Senior School musicians to sing at the re-opening service, accompanied by the Music Department's new acquisition - a handmade Fazioli grand piano.

In week 6, the ELC put on a delightful nativity play full of singing and musical accompaniment. Speech Morning was enlivened by a wonderful Year 6 item comprising a moving song about graduation, some vignettes illustrating various recollections from the boys' last year in Prep and concluded with the traditional Christ Church war cry, Linga Linga. The actors and musicians from the Year 6 play also reprised their final number Dirty Beasts. As Headmaster Garth Wynne was leaving at the end of the year, the Prep School dedicated to him their final song, It's Time to Go.

The Prep School's select and official choir, The Yahoos, had another fruitful year. In only the second week of the year, the choir had its first official engagement, singing at former Deputy Headmaster Alan Blackwood's funeral at Christ Church Claremont. As usual, the Yahoos combined with the Senior School choir and St Hilda's girls at the beginning of Term 2 to perform Karl Jenkins' Mass For Peace, chosen specially to commemorate the Anzac centenary. Later in the term, collaboration with Prep rock workshop resulted in a performance of the Australian boogie classic Flash at the weekend afternoon rock extravaganza. At the end of term, accompanied by a

Music

Senior School student string ensemble, the boys performed traditional Icelandic Hymn Heyr Himna Smiður.

Other Yahoo events have included Vertical House group treats such as our lunch at Grill'd Burgers and the weekend video afternoon (when the choir watched the Australian comedy which gave them their name, Young Einstein, starring Yahoo Serious), the excursion to Daffodil Day with the senior choir, and performing at the Week of the Arts art exhibition opening concert, the Chapel re-opening service, the Year 12 Valedictory Service and Prep Speech Morning. The most important Yahoo performance of Term 4 is the Advent carol service, when the boys delighted the congregation with a vigorous rendition of Finnish Medieval Latin parody hymn Personent Hodie and Rocking, a gentle Christmas lullaby.

The junior choir has enjoyed a great year of music-making in 2015. In Term 4 the boys contributed an item for the orientation day assembly, reprising Little People from Les Miserables.

The senior choir took on a more prominent role as school ambassadors this year, performing at both the Cancer Council's fundraising Daffodil Day in the Urban Orchard in Perth city in Term 3 and also visiting St Louis Retirement Estate to entertain the residents with Christmas carols at the end of the year.

The concert band, string orchestra, guitar ensemble and percussion ensemble all enjoyed fruitful years, performing at the major Prep concert events. The recorder club now has members ranging from Years 1-6. They have had several performances, including items at the Term 2 Music assembly and a guest appearance at the Term 3 piano duet club lunchtime concert.

This has been a very successful year for the Prep rock workshop. In Term 2, the boys performed at the combined Prep and Senior School weekend event Rock Extravaganza, presenting several songs including a wonderful collaboration with the Yahoos providing vocals. Prep rock workshop also put on a lunchtime concert during the Week of the Arts, and performed the final set at the 'Christ Church Rocks at Mojo's' weekend afternoon gig in North Fremantle.

The Piano Duet Club has made almost constant contributions to the Prep School Music calendar this year, performing at the Term 2 Music assembly and both the mid year concert and the Week of the Arts art exhibition opening concert, as well as regular end of term lunchtime performances. Term 4 saw the boys competing in the My Piano Rules competition, which developed much excitement among the Prep pianists.

Mr Grech continues to take Music theory club on Wednesday lunchtimes, with the assistance of mentors from the Senior School, who kindly give up their lunch break to help the Prep boys, marking work and explaining concepts.

The Composer's Club has spent 2015 creating different kinds of music, always utilising the numerous ICT technologies available at Christ Church. Compositional tracks were showcased at the mid year Music concert and Term 3 Music assembly.

One particularly exciting new development of 2015 was the formation of a new Prep Music ensemble – the Christ Church bell ringers. It was a most unusual activity which only a couple of schools in Western Australia are able to provide (one being our sister school St Hilda's) and most importantly, creates another valuable link between Christ Church Grammar School and the parish. A group of seven Year 6 boys practised every Wednesday evening in the belltower of Christ Church Claremont, their tutors being a very generous trio of parishioners, often supplemented by other bell ringers from the church's flourishing team. Over the course of the year, the boys went from barely knowing one end of the rope from another, to ringing rounds unaided. They have learnt about the history and mechanics of bell ringing, written poetry on the theme which they recited at a Music assembly, taken a pleasant excursion to the Swan Bell Tower in Perth City and farewelled our outgoing Headmaster, Mr Wynne, in the traditional bell ringer's manner. This ensemble will become a Senior School group next year as its members head into Year 7.

We have had an exciting year in the PMC that included new friends, families and staff joining us. The boys have enjoyed a wide variety of activities and programs offered including speech, art therapy and many excursions.

Nothing tops the excitement we experienced when a big delivery of new sensory toys arrived. This was made possible by the generosity of the School community from the annual giving appeal. We now have lots of new fun toys that have helped us achieve our learning goals.

Here are some of the highlights from the boys in 2015.

Ben Shields

This year I liked learning about money and having a shop set up in our classroom where I could sell things to my friends and teachers.

Thomas Andrews

My favourite thing in Year 6 was going to Canberra, Camp Kooringal and Fremantle with the PMC. I enjoyed being class vice-captain in 6JP and Giles vice-captain in Term 3 where I got to welcome the School to our weekly assemblies. I will miss the Preparatory School, especially the PMC.

Alistair Taylor

I enjoyed gymnastics this year and swinging on the ropes and running on the balance beam. I really enjoyed surfing at Trigg Beach with my friends. I made lots of new friends in the PMC and in 5JH who I enjoy playing with.

Jonathan Okom

I enjoyed playing with all my friends this year especially in the PMC with all our new sensory toys. I loved playing soccer with my friends on the oval. I liked going to Fremantle with the PMC.

Ben Gishubl

Ben enjoyed participating in specialist Art and art therapy activities this year. His level of focus has increased immensely. Ben especially likes experimenting with new textures and is developing his fine motor skills.

Clancy Waterman

My favourite thing this year was surfing at Trigg Beach with Mr Hilliard and Mrs K.

I loved all our new sensory toys, especially the dark den and watching the lights in there that are like stars.

Joshua Jones

I liked being in the PMC classroom this year and making lots of new friends and helping them out when they needed.

Jayelan Lee

My favourite thing this year was PMC Music and dancing during sensory breaks. I have enjoyed playing with all the sensory toys in the PMC classroom.

Leon Clune

Leon's confidence with crossing the road and participating in fortnightly shopping excursions has developed considerably this year. Leon uses his shopping list to find the ingredients he needs to buy for cooking, helps push the shopping trolley and practises purchasing his items.

Austin Prentice

I have enjoyed eating mulberries off the tree and I liked doing my painting of me surfing.

Andrew Shepherd

Andrew has developed his ability to participate and sit with his peers during circle time. He enjoys singing the Hello song, reciting the days of the week, identifying the date and choosing a song to sing with the appropriate actions independently.

Tommy Fermanis

This year, I enjoyed The Beach House and the Perth Zoo. But my favourite was the Year 6 trip to Canberra. I liked Cockington Green, NFSA and Qwestacon.

Finn Buxton

I really enjoyed when Mrs Callow put on the Andy Griffiths stories on the radio because I imagined them in my head. I also enjoyed hanging out with Miss Venn because I liked it when I was reading books with her and I got them all right.

Max Wall

Max's understanding of and ability to follow routines and instructions has improved significantly. In particular, Max is now able to attend all specialist classes happily, be engaged in the lessons and participate in learning objectives for extended periods of time.

Philanthropy

Are you feeling philanthropic?

This was one of the opening lines from one boy in our Year 5 persuasive text assignment. During our literacy class in Term 3, we were asked to write a short paper on why someone should 'support my charity'.

We were given the chance to think about a charity or cause that was important to us and be persuasive in explaining why. The ability to give of our time, talent and treasure were important things we needed to consider in our persuasive writing, because charity is not just about giving money.

Many different not-for-profit causes were selected by the boys, such as the environmental group Friends of Lake Claremont, national charity The Smith Family and international agency WaterAid.

Some important points many of us shared were our need to be good global citizens, to understand the importance of education for social benefit and to 'walk a mile in their shoes' when trying to understand why others need our help.

We agreed that as Christ Church boys we are very fortunate to have such a great education. And that as young people we have a chance to use education now to break the cycle of poverty and abuse in the future. We can learn how we can make a difference to bring about change and that a person does not have to be afraid about becoming involved.

Giving money is important but philanthropy is more than just that. There is a lot we can do to help others when we are young – like donating our toys and helping plant trees at our local lake. Even young boys like us can make a difference in our community.

Ski

On Thursday 9 July, 20 eager boys and four intrepid staff members set off on the 30th Preparatory School ski trip. Our numbers were bolstered by the inclusion of five Year 7 boys - Oscar Fischer, Conor Brogan, Michael Paulik, Harrison Tay and Hugo Welborn. They showed great leadership and were solid role models for the younger boys. Unfortunately, just prior to the trip departing, we lost two members of the touring party due to illness.

The format was slightly altered from previous years in that we stayed over in Canberra for one night so that we could visit the Snowy Mountains Hydro Scheme Museum. All our boys enjoyed the visit and the video presentation.

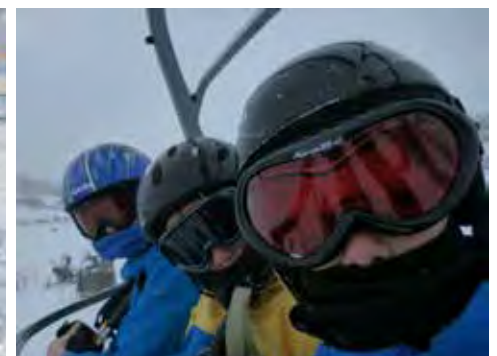

Following our tour, we headed off on our final leg to the snow. Once again, we stayed in the most comfortable Sponar's Lodge situated in Perisher Valley. On arrival we were issued with our ski kit, settled into our rooms, had an early dinner and then went straight to bed.

After a hearty breakfast the next morning, we all headed up to the mountain to be greeted by a wall of freshly-fallen snow. The snow continued to fall all week, which was an added bonus for us. The boys were broken up into groups and we began our lessons.

Quite a few of our numbers had never skied before so our group of beginners was quite a large one. Before long, however, they all moved up to an intermediate level and were skiing competently.

It was a great trip and we all had a wonderful time. The weather was just fantastic, the boys were wonderfully behaved and the staff was just marvellous. My thanks to Ms Hailey Cox, Mrs Steph Bull, and Mrs Marley Cooke for their patience, good humour and help in making the trip such a success.

Pre-Primary

Pre-Primary boys started the year by 'beautifully balancing birds'. They learnt how to make a family of colours by mixing two primary colours together to make a secondary colour. They loved painting and decorating their birds' wings and especially getting them to balance on their page. Term 1 was also the term the boys visited Sculpture by the Sea on Cottesloe Beach.

In Term 2 boys created their own penguin sculptures from clay, shaping and forming the body and wings. The boys' own descriptions of penguins were also transferred onto the penguins' tummies to help create an individual artwork.

Later in the year, Pre-Primary boys consolidated their painting and drawing skills in a bumblebee-inspired artwork, to create a mixed media final piece. There was, of course, time to practise 'dancing' like bees along the way.

Year 1

Year 1 boys started the year by creating sculptural waves and then had loads of fun learning how to make origami boats to float above their sculptures. Their next project enlarged sections of the boys' sea-inspired drawings and transferred them onto canvases. Year 1 developed painting control while creating their bold pop art paintings. Later in the year they were inspired by the book Stuck by Oliver Jeffers to create their own pictures of odd objects stuck up in the branches of a tree. They especially enjoyed discovering objects 'stuck' in the tree outside the Art room each lesson and kept wondering how the objects got up there. Mrs Callow was none the wiser.

Year 2

2015 proved an exciting year for the Year 2 boys. They explored line, colour, shape, pattern, unity, balance and contrast. Boys were inspired by the work of Rebecca Cool, Margret Preston and AJ Fossik. The ever-eager artists engaged in pursuits such as drawing, cutting and collaging. They worked with mixed media to create a series of exciting pieces including city sights, hybrid and still life. A highlight was the observational drawing session in which students donned animal masks and drew one another. The results were breathtaking. Each and every student should feel proud of their efforts in refining their cutting and composition knowledge.

Year 3

The Year 3 boys explored the wonderful elements of clay in Term 1 to create ceramic castles. The sculptures featured moats, ladders, turrets and drawbridges. The ceramics medium allowed the students to have a fundamental experience with texture, form, dimension, inspiration, identity, visual communication and invention.

A creative approach was required in Term 2 with boys engaging in the art of finding the extra-ordinary in the ordinary. They were encouraged to select from a series of photographs featuring cracks and lines in the pavement. Once printed, the boys used these images to draw, paint and detail imaginative animals. The line work and pattern-making is something to behold.

Later in the year boys explored the weird and wonderful world of circus critters. They used fine-liner pens to design their creature and clay and wire to sculpt it. Boys generated names and alter egos for their critters, and displayed them in glass jars.

Year 4

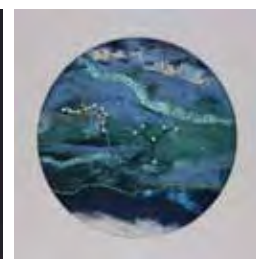

In Term 1 the students used their imagination to create a robot design. Progressing from two-dimensional to three-dimensional proved exciting with the boys working with clay to sculpt a ceramic robot. They were encouraged to enhance their work with texture.

Boys were able to further develop their artistic pursuits with the 'catch a feather' project. They studied how Aboriginal artists used line and shape in their work and were able to detail their responses using the application Pages on their iPads. Architecture and Design also featured heavily in Year 4 where printed paper was used to collage an architectural-inspired composition.

Year 5

Boys started the year by 'bringing back the kitsch', learning how tacky, bad or poor taste objects can be appreciated in an ironic way. They studied the flamboyant paintings of Anya Brock, which inspired vibrant coloured mono-prints of birds. A change of pace saw boys learning traditional art skills by hand-felting a seascape, then embellishing it with sewn fish, seaweed and coral. The boys learnt to thread their own needles and sew several different stitches, so you will know who to ask next time you need a replacement button sewed on.

Year 5 continued their fantastic start with one of the most enjoyable projects of the year, partly because it was iPad-based. The boys jumped and posed on a mini trampoline pretending to be pulled away by a balloon, a project inspired by the Andy Griffiths' audiobook story we listened to in class. Using their iPads, boys learnt how to create a digital portrait of themselves, which was then printed and tied to helium-filled balloons in a dramatic installation in the Preparatory School exhibition.

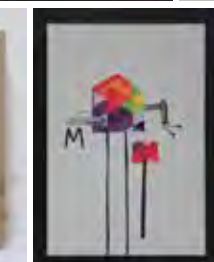

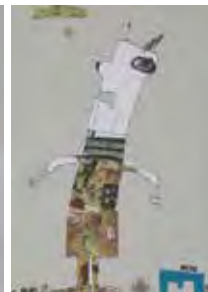

Visual Arts

Year 6

A traditional start in Art for Year 6 saw the boys work on their accurate drawing skills in creating a tonal drawing of a beetle. The boys' drawings were often commented upon in the Preparatory School exhibition as being of a high standard.

Following on with the animal theme, the Year 6 boys drew fish designs inspired by Aboriginal X-ray artworks. Turning these fish designs into a print was not an easy task as they had to print their lino three times in exactly the same place on their paper. By cutting away more of their design each time and using different tones of blue, they created a three-layer print. The creativity and detail in these lino-prints was very pleasing.

The next project was challenging as it involved working in groups to produce a large-scale relief face made solely from recycled materials. Each lesson the boys took on different roles within their group, such as creative thinker, materials manager, team leader and communication captain. These roles encouraged good team working practices. The relief pieces created were sprayed white so the textures and forms became most important.

Afterschool Art

Throughout 2015 the students were immersed in a world of clay. In Term 1 the boys worked to scratch, sculpt and create a 'green man' piece. They explored texture, line and shape to form interesting faces featuring leaves and stencilling. In Term 2 the boys made vessels to hang and display succulent plants. The project proved a huge success for budding horticulturalists. Boys took great care in creating their pots, planting the saplings and caring for their creations.

Artist in residence

This year the Year 6 boys have had the honour of working with Stormie Mills, one of Australia's leading contemporary artists. Stormie mentored the boys over four consecutive sessions, demonstrating his workmanship and providing advice and feedback. During the sessions, the artist introduced the boys to the short videos, Black, White, Grey, Silver and I heard it through the clothesline, which highlighted significant elements of his work. He explained, "Black represents dirt, white speaks of erasure, grey is drawn from the cityscape and silver is the language of dreams."

The boys used their newfound knowledge to complete paintings in a guided session. Claire Donald, Art Specialist teacher, said they relished the opportunity to work with Stormie, soaking up his every word. "Working alongside Stormie, the boys had direct access to an internationally-acclaimed artist and his authentic art process. It was clear they idolised him and appreciated every moment they had in his presence." Stormie and the Year 6 boys completed an installation that can be seen outside the Preparatory School office.

The boys later explored aeroplanes, drawing, painting and detailing their planes with pencil, acrylic paint and fine-liner pens.

Abigail Callow
Art Co-ordinator

On a Tuesday morning in week 8 of Term 4 the Pre-Primary to Year 2 boys were ready to run.

It was a fabulous day for the House Athletics Carnival, during which boys, staff and even parents took to the running track to test their speed.

Kim Malajczuk, Pre-Primary to Year 3 Physical Education teacher, said the morning was about participation and fun. All boys ran a sprint race, hurdles race and a relay in House groups. These were followed by tabloid games, including an egg and spoon race, sack race and beanbag race.

On the Thursday of Week 8, the Year 3 to 6 boys enjoyed a great day of competition, resulting in a spectacular win from Dale House. The final results were Dale (4301), Stirling (3486), Giles (1895) and Forrest (1774).

Giles was awarded the Spirit Shield for their display of great sportsmanship and terrific attitude throughout the day.

It was fantastic day of athletics during which some impressive records were set.

Kai Wylie (Year 6) set a record in the 100m sprint with a time of 13.11, beating the old mark of 13.50 (1988), Mayowa Afolabi (Year 4) broke the 200m record, running the distance in 29.88 seconds, and Mayowa Afolabi (Year 4) set a new record for his age group in the 100m with a time of 13.51.

Basketball

The Christ Church basketball teams in all divisions were very successful and had much depth on the bench and on the court. We learnt many fundamental, yet vital, skills that we will take with us for the rest of our CCGS basketball seasons and beyond.

Devmith Jayatilake

I had a great time being coached by Mr Pyefinch and my teammates helped me to develop as a player. I thought that Jack Timms and Campbell Calder showed us the fundamentals of basketball. Overall, I thought that we had a great season.

Alex Reilly

I thought the basketball season was good. We won many games and this being my first season, I developed a variety of skills.

Mr Pyefinch

I thought this basketball season was very satisfying. Everybody worked well together and the great leadership helped other developing players. Everyone was willing to learn.

Noirit Seal

It was really good and the coaches were very helpful. They taught all the fundamentals in basketball, and they made sure we did our best.

Korede Ayonrinde

It was fun and the coaches led us to success. My teammates were very nice and humorous. I think I will participate next year again.

Mr Leckie

It was a terrific season for the Bs - everyone was striving and pushing themselves to get up into the As.

Luke Brown

We had a particularly good season this year as the team worked well together. I think our strength was that we did not need our best player to have a successful game. There were times when Jack Timms played a great game and other times when Campbell Calder played really well.

Campbell Calder and Jack Timms

Overall, the basketball teams had a variety of players, both tall and short. Everyone played hard for the entire season and we can only hope that we will be this strong in years to come. We won every game, except for the Scotch College game in the As. We were grateful for the height in the team as we could go hard to the basket – we had a bulletproof mesh of a team. We are very thankful to all our coaches.

Cricket

The 2015 cricket season was memorable for all.

It was a privilege to play alongside these incredible Year 5s and 6s. It was also an extreme honour to be coached by the former Australian cricket coach himself, Mickey Arthur.

In term one we were coached by Mr Griffin who did a wonderful job. He left on long service leave and was replaced by Mr Pozzi.

Jack Cooper of Year 5JH remarked, "We all tried our hardest but we didn't always get the outcome we desired. Everyone did their best in batting and in bowling."

All of our matches were great but one match stood out - CCGS vs Wesley in February. All our batsmen played phenomenally well, scoring over 10 runs each. Our leading run scorers were Will Bailey, Chili Farmer, David Waring, Luca Paganin and Diyoan Gajanayake. Our team also bowled exceptionally well, thus leading to our victory. Charlie Rodwell (6PW) commented, "Training was great, matches were great, we had an awesome bowling and batting attack, everyone had an outstanding attitude and a good team spirit."

"This was my first year playing cricket and I really enjoyed the atmosphere in the team. All of the boys were really helpful and made me feel a part of the team. I feel like cricket is a really enjoyable sport and suits me well," commented Tim Zandi.

All enjoyed the all-day fixture against Scotch, as the boys tried their best. Like the Scotch boys, they powered through the crease, playing good shots and producing their best game. We were also lucky to play in the McGill Cup against all of the public schools in the Western Suburbs. All in all, the 2015 Cricket season was a ripper.

Cross Country

The 2015 House Cross Country Carnival provided a wonderful afternoon of running in perfect conditions.

All participants were awarded points for their House. The top runners earned bonus points for finishing within the top 10. Congratulations to Dale for their 3-peat under Mr Pyefinch, a terrific House effort that saw them dominate the top 10 in each race. Forrest runners were tremendous in displaying their outstanding sportsmanship and support of all throughout the day, leading to their victory in winning the Spirit Shield.

Well done to all boys involved. It was great to see you all giving 100 per cent effort.

2015 JPSSA Inter-School Cross Country Carnival

Aquinas College hosted the 6th Annual JPSSA Interschool Cross Country carnival. With the competition's format recognising the top eight competitors, the boys were aware that they needed to work as a team to help accrue the greatest total of points.

Our Year 4 boys performed well in their first taste of inter-school running. All three Year groups performed consistently and this reflected their efforts in preparing for the carnival.

In the end Christ Church Grammar School finished in fifth place. A very big thank you to Miss Henry for taking on the responsibility of cross country coach.

The AFL season was great for the A, B and C teams. Everybody learnt so much and developed new skills and improved. The As had a wonderful season, only losing to Scotch College, with everybody playing a big part in its success. The Year 5 boys, in their first season, played proficient football, with the stand out players showing great football knowledge. The Year 6 boys, already having a season at CCGS football under their belt, demonstrated leadership and courage and were terrific role models to the younger boys.

2015 was full of excitement with the father/son match and the Melbourne AFL sports tour. The annual father/son day, which both look forward to all year, was once again a great day out. The match ended in a spectacular draw with all the talk about how well they had played.

In July, 20 of the AFL boys travelled to Melbourne for the 2015 sports tour. On the Friday morning they visited the famous Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG) for an amazing tour. They watched four AFL games but the highlight of the trip was the game against Xavier College, a well-known football school, that has produced many AFL footballers.

The season was a success for every team that enjoyed the competitive culture and learning. The As produced an amazing standard of football, demonstrating great skills and courage to go in hard and protect their team mates.

The As best game for the season was against Aquinas College. In an arm-wrestle (when losing by 20 points at three-quarter time), the team produced a remarkable quarter of football to come back and win by eight points.

The Bs and Cs also had a ripper of a year, which was reflected in how much they improved throughout the season. One of the admirable aspects of the year that the coaches spoke about was the development of the playing group and the movement of boys through the different teams.

Congratulations to all the boys on an impressive season. A big thank you to Mr Leckie, Mr Pyefinch, Mr Pozzi and Mr Harford for all their hard work.

Hockey

In 2015, hockey was a fun, enriching and exciting experience. Without the amazing guidance of our coach, Mr Sterlini, in what state would our hockey skills be? Mr Sterlini's training method was extremely effective and his game tactics were very crafty. He explained what was behind his techniques, and at the end of the season, everyone was a much better hockey player.

Our first match of the season was against the boys from Wesley College. After a hard battle, Wesley took the win with a brutal 8-0. After a term of fine-tuning our skills, we managed to cut that to 4-1. Our other matches had better outcomes - we drew with Aquinas 1-1, and lost to Scotch just 2-1, with their winning goal rolling in the final seconds of the game! We had a much better day at the office against Trinity and Hale, with a win against Trinity 7-1, and a win against Hale 2-1.

Hockey might not have had an undefeated season, but we still learnt many new skills and for a grand finale we had the father-son match. This was played on the Superturf at UWA, and we fought it out for the win, with some dads playing dirty! The outcome was, sadly, a win 3-5 to the dads, but even so, 2015 CCGS hockey was a ride to remember.

The 2015 rugby season was memorable for all who fortunate to be part of the team.

We had mixed results but overall it was very enjoyable with eight losses and three wins. Mr Griffin coached us in Term 2, but he left on long service leave at the end of term. At the start of Term 3, Ms Jeffs took over with Connor Oakley, who was previously Mr Griffin's assistant coach.

Our first game was against the tough and well-coached team of Wesley. It ended in a disappointing defeat but it was an even game with end-to-end rugby. Our second game was against Guildford in which we were taught a rugby lesson. We only scored two tries coming from our fly half/inside centre, Kai Wylie. Our third game ended extremely well with our first win of the season. The next game was against Scotch College and we continued our winning streak of two. The fifth game ended in bitter disappointment with a loss to Trinity. Special mention must go to Matthew Seward and Kai Wylie - Matthew assisted Kai on a field long run that ended in a try.

Aquinas was our next opponent and it resulted in our third win. This game was definitely our tightest and best contested match of the season. Special mention has to go to Monte McGrath and Rory White, as they tackled, rucked and ran powerfully and guided us to victory. After Aquinas we came up against Wesley. Unfortunately, we did not win this game, but we fought hard with Kai Wylie scoring five tries. We then came up against Guildford and again they played really well. Christ Church forfeited the game at half time, as two of our most experienced Year 6s were ill and we could not hold up against the relentless Guildford attack - not the most pleasing result for Mr Griffin's last game.

Term 3 started with a discouraging loss to Aquinas. Acknowledgment must go to Oliver Austin, our scrum-half, who passed well and tackled people twice his height and weight. We played our next game on home soil against our biggest rivals, Scotch. This game was the tightest game we played all season, but unfortunately it ended in defeat, with the disappointment showing on the lads' faces. Our last game of the season was against Trinity. It, too, ended in a frustrating defeat.

The whole team would like to thank Ms Jeffs, Mr Griffin and Connor Oakley for coaching us and teaching us great rugby skills.

Sailing

The 2015 Year 6 sailing program began in week two of first term.

Year 6JP was the first class to spend four days at the sailing club. The weather was just fantastic - a good, steady breeze from the east all week.

After a week's break due to the swimming carnivals, the rest of the Year 6 cohort followed in turn. The boys enjoyed their time on the river learning new skills and indeed learning about themselves. It is always interesting to see how the boys deal with challenges and problems they do not necessarily face on a day-to-day basis.

The rest of the year was very exciting with the sailing sport group gaining more and more confidence as the season progressed. They explored new areas of the river and have even travelled as far as South Perth. During second term we organised a barbecue at Chidley Point which was a great experience.

I hope the boys going into Year 7 continue to choose sailing as a sport because they have shown a great deal of skill during the year and would be a definite asset to the overall sailing program at Christ Church.

Once again, I thank Mr Alan Polglaze, Mr Arvi Pocock and Mr Scott Hinton for their wise counsel and endless patience throughout the year. Also, many thanks to Mrs Lisa Venn and Mr Toby Bartle for their advocacy of the PMC boys who came down to the river during the year and had fun learning to sail.

Soccer

The soccer season this year was a most successful one as all the divisions enjoyed it from beginning to end.

In Term 3 we interviewed boys from the Bs, Cs and Ds and received some awesome responses.

Ash Gibson in Year 5 from the Bs said that it was great to get to know everybody, like some of the Year 6s. He thought it was great fun because he got to play striker.

Jun Yang Yap in Year 5 from the Bs said that it was very enjoyable. "We learnt how to shoot and do skills and the best bit was we beat Aquinas."

Callan Cooper in Year 6 from the Ds said he liked playing different games to get to know each other at training. He liked the way he could congratulate people, whether they won or lost.

Sam Gillard in Year 6 from the Cs said it was a great season where everyone worked as a team and everyone contributed to the team's wins.

Ben Shields in Year 6 from the Ds said that he had a great time at the father/son match as he really enjoyed it. His father came along and played with him and he liked kicking the ball away from his dad.

Mr Renton (father of James Renton in Year 6) passed on his thanks and a note of congratulation to Mr Hilliard and the other teachers who looked after the father/son soccer matches. He said, "Playing with the other dads against the A soccer team was a challenge in many ways as the boys were all highly skilled and very energetic. The day was absolutely brilliant and extremely good fun. I'm sure the dads in the other games really enjoyed themselves too. The 4:4 score line was a fitting way to end the day and nobody will front a match review panel. The concept of the father/son games is a highlight for many dads and a wonderful inclusion in the Christ Church year. Thank you, once again to all involved in organising and participating in this event."

The final soccer event took place in Term 3, when the CCGS soccer group had a very special visit from St Andrew's. We broke into six teams and played three enjoyable games. We made a lot of mates with the St Andrew's boys and hopefully the boys will meet again in the future.

A big thank you to all the coaches who trained the players and made them grow and to all the parents who contributed to the season and watched their sons thrive playing soccer.

House swimming carnival

Forrest House won the Preparatory School's House Swimming Competition, edging out Giles after two days of competition. The carnivals were separated into a Year 3 and 4 Carnival on Tuesday, and Year 5 and 6 on Wednesday.

Forrest finished with a strong lead, followed by Giles, Dale and Stirling. Stirling House was awarded the Spirit Shield for once again demonstrating great sportsmanship and spirit at both carnivals.

It was a terrific two days of competition. The weather was spectacular and the competition was fierce - with great sportsmanship shown by all boys.

Special mention goes to Kai Wylie for breaking the Prep School 50m freestyle record with a time of 30.20 seconds. Great effort!

The Champion Boys for 2015 were:

Year 3 – Emerson McNeilly

Year 4 – Hudson Fogarty

Year 5 – Thomas Michael

Year 6 – Kai Wylie

JPSSA Interschool Swimming Carnival

Looking to regain our title, the Christ Church Preparatory School swimming team put in a very dominant display. With our Year 6 swimmers having an amazing meet and leading the way, we collected our fifth title in six years. Our Year 4 swimmers did very well in their first taste of interschool competition. Our Year 5 squad members had some great results to help us to victory.

Kai Wylie was amazing for our Year 6 team, resulting in a new JPSSA interschool 50m freestyle record with a time of 29:19 seconds, eclipsing the old mark of 30:96 set in 2012. The Year 6, 4 x 50m freestyle relay also set a new record of 2:11.33, lowering the old CCGS record from 2:14.07, set in 2006.

The final results:

1. CCGS 615
2. Aquinas 573
3. Scotch College 560
4. Guildford Grammar 547
5. Wesley College 514
6. Trinity 494

Tennis

Tennis once again proved to be a very popular and successful sport at Christ Church Grammar School.

The quality of the players was very high and once again we dominated the interschool competition. With many outstanding Year 5 players, there was a healthy blend of Year 5 and Year 6 boys making up the A Team. This is a good indicator for the continuing dominance of the competition in future years.

Our results were very good. More importantly, the quality of sportsmanship demonstrated by our players was always exceptional. A number of opposition coaches commented on the good manners and the way our teams conducted themselves.

Most schools were able to provide five teams so it was excellent for all boys to be involved in interschool matches. The depth of talent was evident with our C, D, and E teams also dominating their competitions.

During the season the boys were encouraged to issue challenges to other players with the goal of climbing up the rankings. The boys are to be praised for the manner in which they undertook this process. They organised, umpired and scored the matches without any difficulties.

As is customary, the School Tennis Competition took place in Term 4. This is always a fiercely-contested event and is open to all Year 5 and Year 6 boys.

The winner of the singles event was Sam English from Year 5 and the winners of the doubles competition were Rishi Yogesan of Year 5 and Daniel Baltis of Year 6. Congratulations to the winners and to the runners-up. All the games throughout the tournament were played in good spirit. We all thank Mr Williamson for organising the tournament and for coaching us during the tennis season.

Water Polo

The 2015 Water Polo season has been both amazing and fun for all members.

The A team was exceptionally strong and unbeaten all year and the B team showed great improvement with only one loss. We had many participants playing under 14s out of school and they brought their special talent to Christ Church Water Polo.

Term 1 was incredible with the As winning all their games and the Bs only losing one game. Through the term boys showed development in skill and focused well during training. This paid off and the As won nearly all games by more than five goals. Extraordinary counter attacks and fierce defence proved too strong for the other schools.

Term 4 started with our worst game of the season against Guildford. No training on the Wednesday leading up to the game and our A coach Alex Brogan being away at university, meant that Christ Church just scraped through with a 12-11 win over Guildford. Great leadership was shown by Angus, Kai, Nick and Rory. At three quarter time we were down by four goals but the experienced Year 6s lifted the team and we managed a five goal comeback. The As were undefeated in Term 4 and we are all excited about next year's season.

Well done to all the water polo boys on a great season, but we could not have done it without our four brilliant coaches - Will and Alex Brogan, Andrew Ford and Mrs MacKinnon. They were amazing and taught us so much. We were always eager to come to training.

We were privileged to learn about Aboriginal culture at Kings Park where we had lots of fun finding nature stuff to make a Journey Stick. Ms London showed us how to look for interesting things in the bush like tiny toadstools and leaf skeletons. Over the year we had visits from three different authors who taught us how to make our stories exciting and full of suspense.

Alexander Boeddinghaus and Joshua Terriaca

It was Oracy time again in Term 2. It was stressful, but once we had finished it, was really exciting. While preparing for Oracy, we had to study extremely hard to get a good result. Ms London is a funny teacher and tells us freaky facts every day. We ask her lots of questions because she said it would melt her brain.

Marcus Mo and James Wheeler

We were fortunate to learn how to code with Mr Budd and Ms London. It was new to us and was tremendously hard because we had to tell our characters to move, make timers and invent cool shapes. In the end it was a big success. Another highlight was sport with Mr Leckie because he taught us some new technical moves for games like Ultimate Frisbee.

Charlie Phillips and Finn Buxton

Health lessons were a highlight because we learnt about new topics like personal space and early warning signs. We made posters and did role-plays that were quite challenging but it was fun to see what everyone else had done. In Art we learnt how to make our pieces more detailed and our skills really improved. We were lucky to have Mrs Wood, Miss Hoad and Mrs Nelson in our class to help us with our learning.

Billy Templeton-Knight and Jake Yeo

Our Drama lessons this year with Ms Duck have been fantastic. The Drama room is awesome and I like it when our class visits the theatre to look at the setup for the next play. Another highlight was the House Athletics. The Giles teachers prepared us really well with drills and I was able to break my 200m sprint time.

Luke Arnason and Matthew Tan

In Term 1 some boys went to the Interschool Swimming Carnival. CCGS won and it was exciting to see Kai Wylie from Year 6 who was as fast as lightning. The highlight of the year though was learning so many cool and interesting things with my teacher and awesome classmates. This was my first year at CCGS and I feel like it is a massive privilege.

Zachary Viiala and Liam Goebel

We participated in the JPSSA Athletics Carnival and it was an absolutely thrilling experience to be in the team with Year 5 and 6 boys. Unfortunately, the rain was torrential all day. I came second in triple jump, and my classmates Matt, Adam and Mayowa did well in their sprints. Ms London has been an excellent teacher for our class. She has made every learning period feel like we were playing our favourite sport.

Lachlan Afonso and Mayowa Afolabi

Year 4 Sport was thoroughly enjoyed because we got to do a lot of it. The thing we enjoyed the most was basketball. All of the Year 4 boys played against Scotch and Hale at the State Basketball stadium which made us feel like professionals. My team won all of the games as well.

Adam Dring and George Warner

We visited Penguin Island on an absolutely incredible day, and we were excited to see the adorable penguins. The absolute standout of the day was watching the sea lions lazing on the beach in the sun; they looked like big rocks. We did a mini musical of Oliver Twist for our assembly item. It was challenging at first because we had to memorise all of the lines. Performing on the stage was nerve wracking but exciting.

James Cookson and Max Gunning

In Year 4 we went on interesting excursions. My favourite was going to see the Duyfken replica. It was so much smaller than I imagined and it was hard to believe that people were able to fit on the ship, let alone sail it. Suddenly, all of the things that Mrs Bosich taught us about the First Fleet seemed very real.

Year 6HP

Joel Newton

This year I really enjoyed going to Canberra and visiting Parliament House, Questacon, the AIS and especially the Australian War Memorial. I also enjoyed listening to everybody's speaker's challenge speeches, school, homework, shark culling, exotic animals and even the future and electric cars.

Matt Shephard

My highlight for the year was going to Cockington Green in Canberra. I enjoyed all the mini houses, buildings and famous attractions around the world. It was all very clever and interesting.

Gus Sheldrick

My highlight of the year was the Melbourne AFL tour. I had a great time playing Xavier College and getting all muddy and wet. We also watched four AFL games. I also really enjoyed our sports carnivals, the McPherson Cup and the Tennis Tournament.

Ben Remke

This year in 6HP we have had a lot of laughs. Canberra was extra extravagant and Questacon was absolutely awesome. All of us have had some great moments in 6HP. Thank you, Mr Pozzi. I have had a brilliant time.

Matthew Seward

I really enjoyed my role as Captain of School this year. It was very nerve-racking but in the end it was a great experience. I think it has helped me become a better person. I also thought that the speaker's challenge was another great experience. I found getting up in front of my classmates to present was a real challenge, but I think I have now mastered that fear.

James Marshall

One of the most favourite Year 6 experiences was the Chinese culture excursion - the Kung Fu class where we learnt a few fighting moves, eating great dim sum and drinking a cup of delicious bubble tea. I also really enjoyed meeting new people and making new friends this year as we did so many activities where you could interact with your mates.

Jeveen Davies

2015 has been a great year for me. I thoroughly enjoyed being a House Captain and I also enjoyed going to the great escape. Year 6 has been my favourite year at Christ Church. Thanks, Mr Pozzi, for a spectacular year.

Arlo Swanson

This year in 6HP I really enjoyed going to Canberra because we did so many fun activities. I loved Questacon. Our Outdoor Ed camp at Koorringal was also great fun - I really enjoyed building a cool humpy.

Ashton Mah

Sailing was a really good experience. I had never done sailing before and found that it was great fun! I really enjoyed the last day of sailing, racing to the other side of the river then soft drinks and snacks. The Chinese excursion was a great day also. We went to many authentic Chinese places. Firstly Kung Fu, then some Dim Sum for lunch and finally Bubble Tea, it was all very tasty.

Jackson Wright

I really enjoyed all the sports carnivals that I have been involved in, swimming, athletics and all the fundraisers that have been held. It gives me a nice feeling to help people who are not as fortunate as us.

Lachlan Muir

This year I created long lasting friendships while on our Canberra and ski camps. The ski trip in particular was amazing. I faced some of my fears and made great friends during the seven days we were there.

Max Godfrey

I really enjoyed sailing the pacers at Freshwater Bay Yacht Club. It was an unforgettable experience and one of the privileges that us Christ Church boys enjoy. Every day we all came back wet and content. I also loved being the sad and mad sorceress in our class assembly play, Sir Laughalot.

Leo Brown

I really liked when visited the boat shed and wrote sensory poems about what we saw and felt. I like the idea of actually going down near the Swan River and writing about it. I also enjoyed the opportunity this year to make new friendships and work with different people in the class.

Isaac Tan

I loved going to Canberra, exploring the Parliament Houses (old and new) and going to a city of tiny buildings, but I especially loved going to Questacon, where many robots, and awesome mechanisms are located. The zero gravity slide made me feel like I was floating in the air, it was scary. The FPS trip to Brisbane was also a great experience. I loved competing against the other schools and exploring the city.

Michael Hidajat

Koorringal was a great experience for me. Cooking pasta on a portable cooking set, camping in tents for the first time and hiking around the hills and admiring the beauty of nature. I also enjoyed our Chinese cultural excursion. It was a great experience.

Matthieu Cobby Gagnon

Sailing at the Fresh Water Bay Yacht Club for the week was a real highlight for me. Everyone had a fantastic time. We did capsizing drills and sailed the waters around the bay. I think I have had my best year yet here at Christ Church. Mr. Pozzi, you have helped us all a great deal.

Andy Zhuang

Studying the Swan River in Humanities was my favourite topic this year. It has a plethora of interesting elements: eutrophication, algae, and different fish - feral and native. I also loved playing PSA sports. So many amazing sports to play and learn about. I loved the training, the games and the opportunity to build on my skills and face my challenges.

Sakthi Vijayandran

I really enjoyed learning about the Swan River. There are a lot of really interesting things we learnt about our city river. The Chinese Cultural excursion was awesome, martial arts, Dim Sum and then a walk through China Town and finally a bubble tea. Overall, I thought it was a great experience.

My highlight of the year was going on the AFL trip. I liked watching all of the live AFL games and the game we played against Xavier College. It was a really muddy and wet winter day in Melbourne. It was great fun. I also enjoyed the speaker's challenge and all the inter-house and inter-school sport competitions.

Leonardo Papadopoulos

My favourite thing in Year 6 was camp Koorungal. It was so much fun. Scavenger hunts, face painting and humpy building. We slept in tents and made our own pasta - delicious! Sadly, I can't go again because I am moving to Melbourne but I am sure all the future Koorungal camps will be wonderful.

Heath Smyth

I really enjoyed our assembly play, Sir Laughalot. Playing the lead character was so much fun and it was great that the whole school laughed their heads off. We all really worked hard and it ended up as one of my favourite days of the year. The ski trip was also a superb experience. A week of three inches of snow. Wow - great for skiing!

Kisho Miyagawa

The Great Escape was a super day. It was really fun spending the whole day with our friends. Learning to do kung fu on the Chinese excursion was great fun as well. I liked the fried squid we ate for lunch and I learnt many things about Chinese culture and how it is different to my Japanese culture.

Will McCoubrie

My favourite experience this year was our school camps. Both Canberra and Koorungal were fantastic. They all contained so many fun experiences like camping and the cooking of your own food at Koorungal, then a visit to Questacon when we were away for a week in Canberra.

Harman Marwah

Maths has been my favourite subject this year and I think 2015 has been my best year here at Christ Church so far. I really enjoyed having Mr Pozzi as a teacher. He has given us a lot of fun things to do. My favourite thing that I did with him in his class was making circuits in Science.

Callum Parramore

I enjoyed exploring Brisbane and going to the museum when we were on the Future Problem-Solving nationals trip. The competition was very enjoyable and my team came fourth. It was really a great fun trip and it was a bittersweet moment when we had to get on the plane home.

Year 6JP

Tommy Andrews

My highlight in Year 6 was going to Canberra and visiting Questacon. I also really liked Koorringal, especially building the humpies and looking at all of the sticks. The sex education lessons were a real treat.

Oliver Begley

I loved Koorringal and Canberra this year.

Campbell Calder

In 6JP my favourite thing was the McPherson Cup. I predict that Dale will win and Stirling will come runner up. I really liked the History project.

Luke Colgan

This year was a cracker. I especially enjoyed having Mr P as our class teacher and having a water fight with him and Tommy Andrews at Koorringal. The footy tour was fantastic with all the nice teachers and my mates. The sex education unit with Mr P was memorable.

Stuart Everett

I really liked learning about the Vietnam War and the unit on sex education. I also liked sailing, Science experiments and Mr P's jokes. As well as this, I really enjoyed The Great Escape.

Diyoan Gajanayake

Sex education was my first and foremost favourite subject in Year 6 as we had quite a giggle. I also enjoyed making humpies at Koorringal and my final ever assembly item. In my opinion my performance was questionable.

Hugh Gibson

This year I enjoyed the assembly item and the excursion to Canberra. My favourite part of the assembly item was alphabet aerobics and my favourite part of the excursion to Canberra was going to Questacon.

Sam Gillard

In Year 6 I liked crab soccer, FPS nationals, House Shout, Canberra, Mathematics, debating, PSA Sport, assembly item, Great Escape, being a captain, Mr P, chess tournament, sailing and the Chinese excursion.

Rupert Handley

I thoroughly enjoyed 'the talk' (sex education) which was the best conversation and the best lesson I had ever had with a teacher. Some other highlights from Year 6JP were the speaker's challenge and IPSHA Chess.

Joshua Jones

My highlight in Year 6 was going to Questacon in Canberra – it is really awesome. I liked the robot in there and the hockey game they played.

Zachary Loong

Listening and observing the value of coins as well as the care they take when making every coin at the Royal Australian Mint. I also enjoyed sailing when we had to swim over to board a capsized sailboat, because the person swimming behind me kept screaming when he touched a jellyfish.

Beau Luscombe

My highlight for Year 6 was the speaker's challenge and my favourite teacher, Mr Pyefinch.

Jack MacKinnon

The highlights for me in Year 6 were definitely the AIS, free fall at Questacon and crab soccer in Koorringal. I also really enjoyed The Great Escape and the speaker's challenge. 6JP has been an awesome year for me to start off at Christ Church.

Christopher Manasseh

I enjoyed going to the Australian Royal Mint in Canberra and having Mr Pyefinch as my teacher.

Ben Nicholson

I really enjoyed crab soccer at Koorringal. I also liked all the funny jokes Mr Pyefinch made.

Tex O'Meara

I enjoyed crab soccer in Koorringal, AIS in Canberra, our assembly, the unit on sex education and having Mr Pyefinch as a teacher, as he is so funny.

Macai Quartermaine

My highlight of the year was doing Sailing and being able to learn more than you would learn in Thursday sport sailing. I also enjoyed making humpies at Koorringal and crab soccer.

Alexander Reilly

In 6JP my favourite thing was the McPherson Cup. My other favourite subject was the unit on sex education as it was quite fun to learn as well as we had quite a laugh.

James Renton

My favourite things that we did this year were Canberra, crab soccer at Koorringal and getting elected as Forrest House Captain in Term 4. I also liked my teacher, Mr Pyefinch.

Jack Reynolds

I thoroughly enjoyed swimming and water polo. Debating, Oracy and speaker's challenge were also highlights. Free fall at Questacon was awesome.

Dion Salekian

I really enjoyed playing crab soccer at Koorringal in 6JP. I also really liked the Canberra experience.

Tam Seton-Browne

I enjoyed going to Canberra and the visit to Questacon, having Mr Pyefinch as a teacher, our assembly, Science experiments, the great escape and the unit on sex education because – well, we had a laugh.

Madhava Soma

I enjoyed Canberra and enjoyed having Mr Pyefinch as my teacher. I also enjoyed sailing and getting to visit Questacon and our assembly item, plus our Science experiments.

Bill Warner

I really enjoyed the free fall at Questacon and crab soccer while at Koorringal.

Harry Williams

I enjoyed going to the Royal Australian Mint in Canberra and having Mr Pyefinch as my Year 6 teacher. I also enjoyed crab soccer, humpy-building and camping at Koorringal.

Kai Wylie

This year was enjoyed by all. I liked all sports carnivals (particularly the swimming), crab soccer, Canberra, speaker's challenge and the not too hard homework.

Year 6PE/GM

On 2 February 2015, a bunch of inexhaustible Year 6s rampaged into a classroom.

So, this is what 2015 and Year 6 feels like? After the hullabaloo, we finally calmed down and began with our pre tests. The first week went like this: PAT tests, pre tests, Mathematics tests, Science tests, Humanities tests, English tests, test for other tests and many more tests. What a great way to begin school. In Week 4 we were lucky enough to go to Freshwater Bay Yacht Club and sail for four days. Mrs Ellis prepared us for an amazing assembly item in which we organised a parody of "I'm a celebrity! Get me out of here!" The Swimming Carnival and reading Holes by Louis Sachar were also highlights of this term.

The Easter holidays seemed to go so quickly and before I knew it, I was in my winter uniform with my striped shirt, grey shorts and tie. We all expected day one, Term 1 all over again as we entered the classroom. Public speaking began in Term 2 with our speaker's challenge presentations.

Congratulations to the three boys who made the IPSHA finals. Camp was definitely another highlight of Term 2. We enjoyed trekking through the bush, camping and cooking our own meal. The term ended with NAIDOC Week. A Term 2 highlight was supporting our Houses in the Cross Country Carnival.

Oracy was one of Term 3's greatest events. As a class we did extremely well considering it was the first time many had sat a public speaking and communication skills examination. Book Week was definitely a highlight of the year. We also studied debating in our public speaking section. During the term we also had the Athletics Carnival and our top performers went off to represent Christ Church at the JPSSA finals. The term came to an end with the 'Week of the Arts' which included learning journeys, House Shout and a farewell to Mrs Ellis. The class will forever be grateful for her relentless efforts towards bringing out the best in each and every one of us.

Term 4 at last. As the new term began we welcomed Mr McPherson as our new teacher. With his boundless knowledge, great sense of humour and wisdom, he is exceptional. We began the term by constructing our own pencil boxes. Our end product had such a professional finish that no one could believe it was a DIY. Comprehension this term had a twist put on it. Instead of writing a book review, we wrote about the 1936 movie Captain's Courageous, based on one of Rudyard Kipling's books. As a class we read Anthony Horowitz' Diamond Brothers book, The Falcon's Malteser.

I must thank Mr McPherson and Mrs Ellis for the tremendous effort they have put into this year of academic and sporting success.

At the end of an upstairs balcony, there is a classroom.

This is not just any old classroom. It is 6PW. Every day the class of 6PW troops into the room, ready for a day of learning, laughing and preparation for life in the Senior School. The year 2015 was a productive and exciting experience. Everyone enjoyed meeting new classmates and 6PW has developed an incredible bond over this year. Year 6 provided many exciting opportunities (for example, Canberra, Koorngal and Sailing) to become more independent and prepared for later life.

In Term 1 we were lucky enough to be able go on a memorable trip to Canberra, as we were learning about the Parliament and the government that term. We also thoroughly enjoyed sailing on the Swan River with Mr Fagan over a fun and exciting week.

In Term 2 we started on an exciting bus ride to Koorngal, where over a period of four days we camped out and learnt about the environment and how to care and live in harmony with nature. Later in the term we started to learn about the Vietnam War, communism and the impacts of war on the citizens of Vietnam.

In Term 3 we all enjoyed learning about the Swan River and the impacts of polluting this beautiful river. We learnt about feral fish like the common goldfish and we created some water filtration bottles that we filled with cotton, sand, gravel and many more items to filter the dirty water. Term 3 was the term that we faced the challenging speaker's challenge. In conclusion to Term 3 we had an educational term that we all enjoyed.

In Term 4 we learnt about eutrophication and the devastating effect it has on the environment. We also started on our History projects, which focused on the Australian connection that had been established with our families. At the end of the term we went to The Great Escape, where we all had a great day having fun in the sun. For orientation day all Year 6s learnt about life in the Senior School and experienced it ourselves for a day.

6PW 2015 really finished with a bang.
